MILL BUSINESS BETTER VACATIONS ARE FEWER

Local Industries Show Increased Activity -- Good Outlook for the Fall

There is a decided tendency upward in the local mill situation, judging from expressions by local agents and other officials. Not only will some of the mills have to work some of their departments overtime but they have declared against the usual shut-down for a summer vacation. To some of the employes who have already had too much idle time during the past year, this is glad news. There is a prospect that the operatives still idle who lost their employment at the local carpet mill on Market street will find employment in the other mills. Most of them have been placed at the U. S. Cartridge shop, where they earn fair pay. The further extension of this company will also aid in the general improvement. The local stores reflect the improvement in the manufacturing industries and hence the outlook for excellent business in the fall is very encouraging.

Tremont and Suffolk

Agent Rawlinson of the Tremont & Suffolk mill in conversation with a Sun reporter this morning stated there will be no forced vacation at the mill this summer. Of course, those who desire to be off for a week or two may do so by getting permission from the overseer, but the mill will not shut down. He stated that the mill has large orders on hand, especially for blankets and some of the weaving departments are kept busy day and night in order to keep up with the orders.

Hamilton Co.

"We do not want to stop unless we have to," stated an official of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. this morning, "for we have considerable work on hand," and this statement means that there will be no forced vacation at this mill. The writer was informed that a few small foreign orders had been received, but those were for yarn and they have been disposed of. The only departments working over time at the Hamilton mill are the carding, and that is to balance up with other departments.

Stephen F. Whittier, assistant manager of the mill, who has been away to the Philippine Islands since April 20, is expected in Lowell by the first week of August. Mr. Whittier left Manila on June 20 and before returning to Lowell he will take in the exposition in California.

HOTTEST DAY THIS YEAR

THE WEATHER OPPRESSINGLY HOT—THE TEMPERATURE 90 IN SHADE

With the mercury touching the 90 mark and a very muggy atmosphere prevailing Lowell today sweltered in what will undoubtedly be recorded the hottest day thus far this year. After remaining close to 80 degrees all day yesterday and only lowering about 10 during the night, the temperature made a steady jump this forenoon and at 1 o'clock it was reported to be 90 degrees in the shade at the Locks & Canals office. Page's thermometer in Merrimack square registered 88 at noon while reports from other sections of the city varied from 84 to 94.

At dusk last evening the mercury was just 80 degrees above. At midnight it had made a slight descent and at 4 o'clock it lowered to 70 degrees. Four hours later it had jumped 10 degrees and from then until noon gradually climbed until the high mark of 90 was reached at 1 o'clock. The humidity was also high and made the day the most disagreeable that we have experienced yet this summer.

At the ambulance station and local hospitals it was stated that no prostration cases were reported though it is understood many mill operatives were obliged to leave their work during the forenoon hours.

Many Lowell people were seen leaving Merrimack square for summer resorts and parks shortly after noon. The swimming places at the Lakes and even in the rivers were also well patronized by young people attempting to get relief from the intense heat.

Normal Service Restored in Rhode Island Trolley Lines

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 17.—Normal service was restored today on the trolley lines of the Rhode Island Co. throughout the state, upon which service has been almost entirely suspended for the past two days because of the strike of 2400 union employes. Under the agreement reached early today, Mayor Joseph H. Gainer will act as chairman of a board of three arbitrators to whom will be referred the wage and working condition matters in dispute.

It was expected that the names of the other two arbitrators would be announced today. One was to be selected by the company and the other by the union.

The board of arbitration that is to settle the differences between the Rhode Island Co. and the union will not be named until Monday at the earliest, according to announcements made this afternoon by both the company and union officials.

Mayor Gainer has been agreed upon by both sides as chairman of the board. The other two members, one to be selected by the company and the other by the union, must be appointed on or before Tuesday.

The board of directors of the Rhode Island Co. passed a resolution today expressing its "heartfelt appreciation of the ability and tact" with which President Potter had handled the various situations as they arose and also its confidence "in the fairness and honesty with which he has dealt with the representatives of the union."

The two federal commissioners who were sent here by the federal department of labor, arrived today, but there was nothing for them to do and they left this afternoon.

FUNERALS

CHECKLAND—The funeral of Mrs. Checkland, who died in Middleton, Mass., Tuesday, took place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the funeral parlors of Undertaker W. H. Saunders in Hurd street. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Suter, curate at St. Anne's church. The bearers were Arthur and Charles Checkland, Joseph McKenna and Robert Tetlow. Burial was in the family lot in the Edson cemetery under the direction of Undertaker W. H. Saunders.

FINDING IS ANNOUNCED

Lord Mersey Reports, After Inquiry, That Liner Was Sunk by German Torpedoes—Ship Was Unarmed

LONDON, July 17, 11.18 a. m.—Lord Mersey of Toxteth today announced his findings following an inquiry into the facts of the sinking on May 7 last of the steamer Lusitania and the consequent loss of more than 1000 lives. The baron's conclusions were distinctly disappointing to the small gathering, composed almost entirely of survivors and relatives of victims of the disaster who were present to listen to Baron Mersey's reading of his findings. The report found that the Cunard liner sank as the result of the act of a German submarine, which not only had intended to destroy the ship but had planned to blot out the lives of its passengers.

Capt. Turner Exonerated

The report exonerated Capt. Turner and the Cunard line from all blame and commended the discipline prevailing on the ship at the time she was sinking.

Several attorneys representing American clients listened closely to the reading of the judgment, which may have a hearing on actions brought against the steamship company.

Among the spectators were Walter Webb-Ware, representing the Vanderbilt family; Maj. F. Warren Pearl and Mrs. Pearl of New York and F. B. Jenkins of Chicago, survivors; and William Crichton of New York, whose wife was lost.

The salient features of the report are that the lifeboat and lifebelt facilities were adequate; that the demeanor of the crew was above blame and the conduct of the passengers, barring a slight panic when the steerage passengers came on deck, was praiseworthy.

Ship Was Unarmed

The court also found that the ship was unarmed and carried a general cargo and that the ammunition on board consisted of only 5000 cases of cartridges, from which there was no explosion.

"No doubt there were mishaps in handling the ropes of the boats," Lord Mersey said, "but in my opinion there was no incompetence or neglect."

Baron Mersey found that Capt. Turner was fully advised by the British admiralty as to the best course to follow and added that in some respects he did not follow those out. The court pointed out, however, that the admiralty instructions were not intended to prevent Capt. Turner from exercising his individual judgment and his failure to follow the admiralty's advice to the letter was no reason for blame.

The reduction of the Lusitania's speed from 24½ to 21 knots still left the vessel faster than any other boat on the Atlantic, said Baron Mersey, and he found there was no reason to blame the Cunard company for this economy during war times.

Relative to the admiralty instructions the court said this phase of the inquiry was in camera and that it would be contrary to public interest to discuss it.

Baron Mersey said in part: "The captain of the ship, Mr. Thomas Turner, gave his evidence truthfully and well. I am quite satisfied that the two captains and the officers are competent men and that they did their duty. Captain Turner remained on the bridge till he was swept into the sea and Captain Anderson was working on deck until he went overboard and was drowned."

REASSERT RIGHTS OF AMERICANS ON SEAS

New Note to Germany Will be Brief — Will Not Subordinate Lusitania Case

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Developments in the issue between the United States and Germany awaited today the return of President Wilson from Cornish, N. H.

The president is to take up with Secretary Lansing and others of the cabinet several drafts of an answer to Germany's recent reply to the American note protesting against the German method of submarine warfare. The president will confer with Secretary Lansing on Monday. The cabinet will meet Tuesday.

The new note will re-assert the right of Americans on the high seas. It probably will be brief. Until either Great Britain or Germany requests specifically mediation on the subject of submarine warfare and contraband, officials held that the American government will make no move in this direction and that this government will not subordinate the Lusitania case or the assertion of its rights at hints from Germany.

CORNISH, N. H., July 17.—President Wilson was in communication today with Secretary Lansing regarding the German situation, including the conference held yesterday between the secretary and Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador. There will be no further developments in the situation, however, until the president returns to Washington early next week.

The president played today what will probably be the last golf game of his present visit. Members of his family will remain here after his departure for Washington and the president expects to return later if possible.

SUBMARINE ATTACK ON BRITISH LINER

Orduna With 227 Passengers Escaped Torpedoes — Germans to Attempt Capture of Riga

A submarine attack made without warning on the British liner Orduna, off the British coast, was reported by passengers when the steamer arrived at New York today from Liverpool. The Orduna carried 227 passengers, including 21 Americans. The torpedo missed her and none of a half dozen shells fired at her when the submarine chased the steamer took effect, those on the liner said.

Russian Lines Holding

Russian lines are holding well immediately to the north of Warsaw, where the greatest force of the Teutonic move against the Polish capital is, seemingly, being exerted, according to the latest statement from Petrograd.

Teuton Attacks Repulsed

Attacks by "important forces" west of the river Orzyc have been repulsed with heavy losses, the Russians claim and in sections where gains were made by the Germans their further advance was arrested.

Russian Forces Withdrawn

A withdrawal of the Russian forces between the Pissa and Orzyc rivers to new lines along the Narew in the face of Gen. von Hindenburg's attacks is admitted by Petrograd. Continuation of the German advance in Courland also is conceded. Increasing importance is attached by military observers abroad to this movement in the Baltic provinces.

Attack All Along 600 Mile Front

Field Marshall von Mackensen's army that swept through Galicia is giving signs of renewed activity in pursuance of the assumed plan of the Teutonic forces to attack simultaneously all long the sweeping 600 mile front from the Baltic to Bessarabia. Unofficial reports through Geneva declare that at the lower end of this line Austrian troops who crossed the Dniester have been driven back to

CASE OF P. H. CROWLEY

HEARING BY INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT BOARD AT CITY HALL TODAY

A hearing under the workmen's compensation act in the case of Patrick H. Crowley was held in the aldermanic chamber at city hall today, though the petitioner is at present confined at the Hathorne hospital in Danvers. The petitioner was in the employ of the water department at the time of the accident which it is alleged may have been responsible for his present condition. In company with other laborers Mr. Crowley was engaged at the boulevard filtration plant. The accident occurred Nov. 9, 1914. He was working in a ditch when it caved in. His right leg was injured and he sustained injuries to his head and back. His present trouble is said to be general paralysis of the brain and the question most necessary to determine at the hearing today was as to the possibility of such an injury resulting in his present condition. The doctors who testified rather inclined to the opinion that it would not; that insanity caused by such an accident would be temporary rather than permanent.

The arbitrators included Dudley M. Holman for the industrial board, Stanley E. Qua for the city of Lowell and J. J. Devine for the petitioner. Edward J. Tierney was counsel for the petitioner and City Solicitor Hennessey had the other end of the argument.

Witnesses in the case included Mrs. Sarah A. Crowley, wife of the petitioner; George W. Gordon, James H. Minnehan, Thomas P. Moloney and T. I. Judge, who were employed on the job with Crowley; Dr. Francis R. Mahoney, Michael H. Harrington, Dr. M. A. Tighe, Dr. J. V. Meigs and Dr. George M. Kline of the Hathorne hospital at Danvers. The latter read an abstract of the diagnosis of Crowley's case when he was admitted to the hospital and the same was incorporated in the records of the hearing. The matter was taken under advisement.

Machinists at Remington Arms Co. to Quit—General Manager Would Not Meet Committee

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 17.—J. J. Keppler, international vice president of the Machinists' union who headed a committee who today went to the plant of the Remington Arms Co. to present the demands formulated by a strike meeting of the Bridgeport machinists last night announced today that a general strike of machinists would be called on Monday. He said Maj. Walter Penfield, general manager of the Remington Arms & Ammunition Co. had refused to deal with the committee.

The entire staff of patternmakers at the Lake Torpedo Boat Co., went out on strike today. They demanded an increase in wages of three cents an hour. They now receive 44 cents.

Officials of the union said pickets had been stationed at the Lake plant and that they expected other workers there would strike in sympathy unless their demands were complied with.

The executive committee of the machinists' union, empowered at a mass meeting last night to call a strike if the Remington Arms Co. refused to meet one or two demands, went to the offices of the Remington Co. this forenoon and placed their demands before the officials of the company.

FOUND DEAD IN ROOM

JOSEPH OGDEN SUCCUMBED TO ILLNESS—WORKED IN PLUSH MILL

Joseph Ogden, a man about 60 years of age and residing at 73 Fletcher street, was found dead in his room this noon. The man had been employed at the Massachusetts Mohair Plush mill, and had been ill for some time, although it was not thought his condition was serious. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker W. H. Saunders in Hurd street, where it will be viewed by Medical Examiner J. V. Meigs.

DIVING EXHIBITION

Albert Landry, a young man residing at 27 Ward street, gave a fine swimming and diving exhibition to over a hundred spectators, who were lined on the Moody street bridge early last evening. The young man accomplished his swimming feats in the Pawtucket canal and proved to be of the dare devil type.

HEN THEFTS REPORTED

It was stated today by a resident of Mountain Rock that a number of hen thefts have been reported in the district during the past couple of weeks and the residents are up in arms over the fact that the district is not receiving any police protection from the town of Tyngsboro.

DAM BREAK EXPENSIVE

Damage at the Pawtucket Falls Proved Costly to Locks and Canals Company

As the result of a break in the Pawtucket dam, caused by the recent freshet, millions of gallons of water are going to waste and it will cost the Locks & Canals thousands of dollars to repair the break. The original break occurred last Sunday but the magnitude of it was not appreciated except by the Locks & Canals company.

The break is about in the middle of the river and the capstones have been carried off for a distance of 500 feet. Second tier stones, too, have been swept away and the great volume of water going over the dam today would be conserved but for the break which is reported to be due, in a measure, to the use of steel instead of iron rods in securing the flashboards to the capstones.

The flash boards are about four feet high. It was reported today that the iron rods used for years in securing the flashboards have been discarded for steel rods and it is argued that if the iron rods had been allowed to remain the break would not have occurred as the iron rods would bend while the steel rods are unbendable and when the pressure came they carried their anchor, the topstones, with them.

The Locks & Canals is regarding the matter as quite a serious affair and is losing no time in getting after it. The company realizes that it has a big job on its hands and the scene about the falls today was one of great activity. Thousands of bags of sand are piled on either side of the river and it was stated today that it might be necessary to close Varnum avenue for a time while the repairs are being made. It was stated that the company would petition the city to close the avenue, but no petition to that effect has been filed at city hall. The mayor, however, stated today that he heard a petition would be applied for.

The present dam was built in 1846 and the present break is the first in its history. The building of the cofferdam will be the biggest job in connection with the mending of the break, and that is what the thousands of bags of sand will be used for. Platforms are being built on the Varnum avenue side of the river for hoisting purposes. The sand will be loaded onto scows from the platforms of wharves and a derrick will be erected at the scene of the break. It will be necessary to build two staunch plank walls to hold the sand. The bags of sand will be deposited between the plank walls and to secure the walls will be no small job.

No one today would venture an estimate as to the amount of water that is being lost, for mills will never grind with the water that has passed, or words to that effect, but to know that all is going over the falls is to get some idea of the great waste.

The Pawtucket bridge question is thrown in the shade again by the break in the dam. The first work in connection with the bridge, if anything is to be done this year, would be the blasting of the rocks in the river bed as required by the Locks & Canals company in order to give greater water flowage, and that would be impossible at this time.

FASHION FADS

Truly there is no feature of summer fashions that is more remarkable or more certain to arrest attention than the use of fur as trimming. As yet we have had no real warm weather and the effect has not seemed incongruous, but what they will be when the thermometer is climbing to its highest point is an open question, but in spite of that truth, there is every indication of its acceptance. Sweater coats and sports coats of glove silk make the accepted outing costume a novelty of the season. They are shown in all colors with bands of white fur finishing their lower edges and trimming the collars and cuffs. White fur also appears as trimming for evening costumes and we see net, silk voile, chiffon and the like with narrow bands of white fur edging the skirt. Had we not long since learned that fashion has nothing to do with comfort and that we can accommodate ourselves to anything dictated by La Mode, we might feel that fur in mid-summer would give an effect of heat not altogether desirable. The feminine mind, however, is so constituted that it can accept anything, not alone with readiness but with satisfaction, if only it hails from an authority of sufficient import. While we have not had real July weather, we surely have not had fur weather during the past week, yet women are walking the avenue with white fur scarfs arranged closely about their throats in a way that was considered too confining in the mid-summer season. The cry of the open neck for health and for comfort is forgotten or else applies to cold weather only.

Velvet hats for mid-summer wear are already exploited. Evidently the seasons have changed. If we continue as we are going, we will wear gowns of organdie and wraps of gauze and hats of lace during the season of snow and ice, for if we can accommodate ourselves to the close fitting neck dressings of fur and to hats that mean the inevitable warmth of velvet during the warmest months of the year, we surely should be able to accept diaphanous clothing when the thermometer is at zero. Just why these things exist and why some dealers are so ready to push unseasonable fashions, it is a little difficult to discover, unless the craze for novelty and for change has reached such a pass that suitability, convenience and comfort and the real desiderata of life are completely forgotten, and left in the background.

That the summer was to be a season of silk has been evident for a long time, but the silk sports costumes are something of a novelty nevertheless and a very interesting one too. Glove or Jersey silk is being exploited in the glove as well as in the made-up garment and the most attractive and charming costumes are made thereof. They are absolutely plain, without any trimming whatever, depending entirely upon the beauty of the material and upon the tailored finish for their smartness. They are made with skirts laid in narrow box-plaits that are stitched to form yoke and with the sweater coats that are held by means of sashes, the effect is very beautiful. They are offered in a variety of colors bright American Beauty, soldiers' blue, a rather vivid green and war-ful lavenders being conspicuous and it is easy to think of the picturesque effect they will make at the summer resorts, either for the walk on the beach or for the stroll at the mountains or wherever the sporting costume is appropriate. The silk is exceedingly light in weight, soft of texture, delightful to wear and perfectly adapted to summer use. It is not improbable that the costumes will be extended to travel for they seem kindly adapted to such service. With these suits are worn blouses of organdie, voile or matching color or of white silk or with color.

Skirts have grown so short that it seems impossible that they could be farther curtailed and surely there is evidence of something of a reaction that is likely to bring about moderation at least for mid-summer costumes. Early June is always the season of commencements and the graduation gown is an all important one. One of our leading fashionable schools forbade anything shorter than two inches from the floor for that all important occasion and such an example is not to be ignored. While two inches may be almost as extreme in the one direction as ten or twelve in the other, it nevertheless marks something of a revolt and a return to sanity that is to be welcomed.

Colors of rather vivid hue, either in the costume or in the trimming only, continue to make an interesting feature of fashions. At the moment, the white gown or the white blouse that is trimmed with color is especially attractive and all sorts of fine stitchery are being employed to produce the result. Whether or not the shortage of lace has anything to do with the condition, it is difficult to assert, but certain it is that needlework is constantly in beauty and that it is being employed in most attractive and interesting ways. A very charming gown of white organdie shows all the edges hemstitched with blue. The smocking referred to in an earlier letter is applied to numberless uses and not alone are the simple, familiar stitches employed, there are new and more elaborate ones appearing week by week.

TO SETTLE OWNERSHIP

GOV. SPAULDING INTERVENES IN LITIGATION TO DETERMINE WHO OWNS LAND

CONCORD, N. H., July 17.—Gov. Rolland H. Spaulding and the executive council have intervened in litigation to determine the ownership of land in the famous Crawford Notch, taken by the state under the right of eminent domain and have asked the supreme court to recommit the case to special commissioners for an award of damages.

The plaintiff in the case is Charles H. Morey of Hart's location, to whom the sum of $69,000 was paid under the administration of Gov. Samuel D. Felker. The Forest Products Co., a Maine corporation, also has a part in the case, claiming that some of the land for which Morey was paid is its property.

The supreme court will give a hearing to all parties claiming ownership and to the state on the first Tuesday in September.

NOTE TO ENGLAND

Sec. Lansing Makes Public the Paraphrase Presented July 14

WASHINGTON, July 17—Secretary Lansing made public today a paraphrase of the note presented by Ambassador Page on July 14, to the British government to conserve the rights of American citizens in cases being tried by British prize courts. It has no relation, he said, to the general note on contraband still in course of preparation. The paraphrase issued by the state department follows:

"In view of differences which are understood to exist between the two governments as to the principles of law applicable in prize courts proceedings in cases involving American interests and in order to avoid any misunderstanding as to the attitude of the United States in regard to any such proceedings, the government of the United States informs the British government that in so far as the interests of American citizens are concerned, it will insist upon their right under the principles and rules of international law as hitherto established, governing neutral trade in time of war without limitation or impairment by orders in council, or other municipal legislation by the British government and will not recognize the validity of prize court proceedings taken under restraints imposed by British municipal law in derogation of the rights of American citizens under international law."

LIBERTY BELL ARRIVES

WHISTLES, BELLS, SALUTE OF GUNS AND BANDS EXTENDED GREETINGS TO RELIC

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—The Liberty bell's triumphant journey across the continent from Philadelphia, reached a climax today in its welcome at the Panama-Pacific exposition, where it was hung to remain until the close of the exposition in December. The bell arrived here last night.

Whistles and bells throughout the city, the salute of guns from battleships in the bay, many bands playing patriotic airs, and thousands of citizens of San Francisco and California extended greetings to the relic.

The ceremonies of the day began with a civic and military parade through the city to the exposition grounds. Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives, was on the program for the principal address.

DR. ALFONSO COSTA BETTER

DR. F. E. CLARK BETTER

FOUNDER OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR, ALTHOUGH QUITE WEAK, SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

BOSTON, July 17.—Optimistic reports were received today regarding the condition of Dr. Francis E. Clark, founder of the Society of Christian Endeavor, who is recovering from a long illness at Sagamore beach. It was stated that although still quite weak, Dr. Clark passed a comfortable day yesterday and his physician is feeling much encouraged.

THAW AT ATLANTIC CITY

FIRST NIGHT OF REAL FREEDOM SPENT IN RESTFUL SLEEP AT A BEACH FRONT HOTEL

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 17.—Harry K. Thaw's first night of real freedom in nine years was spent in restful sleep at a beach front hotel here. After yesterday's weary ride down the state from New York, after he was released on bail, Thaw was much refreshed and prepared to spend the day quietly.

So far as could be learned, Thaw has formed no definite plans for the immediate future except to get as much rest as he can. It is believed he will go to his home in Pittsburgh in a few days.

Boardwalk promenaders were on the alert to get a glimpse of the slayer of Stanford White and many lingered about his hotel.

CARGO SENT TO BOTTOM

GERMAN SUBMARINE ADOPTS NEW POLICY IN THE NORTH SEA ON NEUTRAL VESSEL

LONDON, July 17.—The cargo of provisions of the Norwegian steamer Vega was consigned to the sea when the steamer was overhauled on her voyage from Bergen to Newcastle by a German submarine, according to officers of the Vega, which arrived here yesterday afternoon.

The officers say that the submarine came alongside the Vega Thursday night and that the commander of the submersible superintended the jettisoning of her cargo of 200 tons of salmon, 800 casks of butter and 4000 cases of sardines.

TABER OFF FOR 'FRISCO

ATHLETE WHO BROKE WORLD'S RECORD LEAVES FOR EXPOSITION

BOSTON, July 17.—Norman S. Taber of the Boston Athletic association, who established a new world's record of 4 minutes 12 3-5 seconds for the mile run in the Harvard stadium yesterday, arranged today to leave at once for San Francisco in order to become fully acclimated for the Panama exposition games next month. He will be accompanied by his trainer, Edward O'Connor of Worcester.

Friends of Taber stated today that the champion would make an effort while on the coast to shatter the half mile record of 1 minute 52½ seconds, held by J. E. Meredith of the University of Pennsylvania.

FOREIGN MINISTER OUT

CHRISTAKIS ZOGRAPHOS, FOREIGN MINISTER OF GREECE, HAS RESIGNED

LONDON, July 17, 8.50 a. m.—Christakis Zographos, foreign minister of Greece, has resigned according to an Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co.

Although King Constantine's physicians declare his condition is satisfactory and that he is convalescing normally after his severe illness they have ordered him to abstain from all participation in political discussions.

M. Zographos became foreign minister in the cabinet formed by M. Gounaris in March after the retirement of M. Venizelos as premier when the king declined to accept the latter's views regarding the proper attitude for Greece to assume in the war.

ASST. SEC. ROOSEVELT BETTER

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy department, who was operated upon recently for appendicitis, will leave tomorrow for his summer home at Eastport, Me., where he will spend some weeks recuperating.

Mr. Roosevelt will go to New York by rail and complete the trip on the navy yacht Dolphin.

BARS EXPORTATION OF GOLD

PARIS, July 17, 11.35 a. m.—The Swiss federal council has decided to prohibit the exportation of gold in any form, says a Havas despatch from Berne.

Another Havas despatch from Berne states that the editor of a newspaper at Neufchatel, France, now occupied by the Germans, has been ordered before a court-martial for publishing an article in which he violently attacked Germany.

NAMED MEMBER OF CABINET

ROME, July 16, via Paris, 11.45 p. m.—Official announcement was made today that King Victor Emanuel had signed a decree appointing Signor Barzilai a member of the house of deputies, as a member of the cabinet without portfolio.

CRASHED INTO ICEBERG

BRITISH STEAMER WITH BOW CRUSHED IN, CRAWLED INTO MONTREAL TODAY

MONTREAL, July 17.—With bow crushed in, the British steamer Agenoria crawled into this port today. Sunday morning she crashed into an iceberg while running through the Straits of Belle Isle.

Ninety bergs were sighted in the narrow passage, but the one that the vessel struck, although 100 feet high, was not seen through the fog until it loomed up 30 feet ahead. Then it was too late, and the Agenoria crashed into the towering mass.

Gasologue No. 2

"What kind of gasoline do you use?"

"Don't know. Just gasoline. But I'm always careful to insist on high gravity."

"High gravity, eh? What about ignition point?"

"Ignition point?"

"Sure. Boiling point—pretty much the same thing. That's the only real test for gasoline."

"But I thought low ignition point always went with high gravity. Doesn't it?"

"Yes, it does not. Think a moment. Ever had any trouble starting?"

"Well—of course—sometimes—"

"Thought so. Yet you always buy high gravity gasoline, don't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, what's the answer?"

"But what am I to do? Ask for low ignition point, low boiling point—?"

"Ask for SOCONY Motor Gasoline. You're safe then. The ignition point is right, the boiling point is right, and what's more, it's right every time. SOCONY Motor Gasoline is always the same, wherever you buy it."

SOCONY Motor Gasoline. Isn't that—"

"Yes—'Standard Gasoline.' The same 'Standard Gasoline' the wise ones have always insisted upon."

THEY DO SAY

That the girl who resigned is coming back to city hall.

That the lightwad will loose his tongue and that's all.

That Clint Tuttle says the new accounting system is all right.

That the fireman's wife will catch him if he doesn't watch out.

That it is hard for a man to mend his ways so the patches will not show.

That many a man who gets justice asks for another trial.

That a cheerful chump gets farther than a grouchy genius.

That Gettemy's report was merciful, to say the least.

That a man is always empty when he is full.

That the elevator talking machine is not a new invention.

That Tom Hoban has started training for the coming Elks' outing.

That the day one can find all members of the municipal council in Lowell is rarer than a day in June.

That it looks like a tight race for extension honors between Porter and Dummer streets.

That the city council ought to provide a meeting place for the G. A. R. veterans.

That about the only difference in babies is the difference in their mothers' personal opinions.

That good fortune seldom travels around in an automobile looking for you.

That a popular religion is one that does away with hell for you and provides it for the other fellow.

That the king sold his automobile and got rid of a big share of his troubles.

That all the Indians in Lowell yesterday were not connected with the Wild West show.

That half the women seem to be trying to get married and the other half seem to be trying to get single.

That the more awkward the girl the more liable she is to think that she's a peach.

That the summer is fast going and the city council for 1915 hasn't got well started.

That if some men could swim as long and as fast as they can talk they'd be world-beaters in the aquatic line.

That the Mt. Pleasant golfers enjoy that new street that has been fixed up for them if nobody else does.

That the claims department makes a good medium through which political debt may be paid.

That H. E. MacKenney is busy receiving congratulations for his work in connection with St. Columba's garden party.

That the park department has a grand opportunity to do some tree surgery on that decayed elm on High street.

That the man who hangs around Merrimack square insulting women and girls by brushing against them ought to be sent away.

That Charlie Morse says about the nearest the modern girl comes to helping mother with the housework is to sweep the room with a glance.

That Tom Hoban says it beats the Dutch how many persons are curious about a business in which they have no concern.

That when a townman is particularly friendly to a farmer you can make up your mind that his car is "dead" a quarter of a mile down the road.

That the next time Connie Cronin wants to have anything to do with a fan he will tackle the baseball fan on the elevator.

That even the browntail moths are struck with the attractiveness of the white way lights. They came in swarms during the last few nights.

That St. Swithin's day passed bright and fair, a fact that is supposed to presage good weather for the next 40 days.

That it will not be necessary to apply to the Cartridge shop for a job when the campaign opens, for everybody will be given a job by the city.

That former Liquor Inspector Frank Goodwin looked quite natural assisting Traffic Officer Sheridan during the parade rush yesterday morning.

That a well known resident of the Highlands has a number of roosters of a rare species known as the Aborigines. They crow when it's daylight on the opposite end of the earth.

That the ladies residing on the Highland car line have taken to high jumping in order to meet the requirements of those extra cars on that line with the elevated running boards.

That Charlie Morse knows just as much about smooth block paving as does Paul Hannagan of Lawrence, the statement of Mr. Murphy of Boston to the contrary notwithstanding.

That there were 50 complaints to the police over the Fourth instead of 15, as was announced by The Spellbinder. That's 50 more than the police told the public about.

That a certain local police official uses his leisure time getting people to remonstrate against the granting of minor licenses to applicants toward whom he is not friendly disposed.

That the young lady who left her bag on the Middlesex street car at noon last Tuesday wishes to thank the young man who found and returned it to the conductor.

That Jackson Palmer in making his canoe trip from the headwaters of the Merrimack to Lowell had better watch out that he doesn't run into any of Lowell's swimmers, or he'll become involved in an argument that will challenge his best efforts as a talker.

That the time to spend all of that available money in the city department is right now, and not when the frost comes into the ground and the snow is about to fly. Those favored certainly can remember the favor for a period of a few months. It isn't necessary to have them working on election day to make them vote right.

The French Maid Says:

Marie on Flowers

"I am going to liven up the house with some plants and flowers," bubbled Marjorie. "I don't think outdoors should have all the cheerfulness of the summer time."

"You are right," responded Marie, who was arranging some roses in a tall vase in madame's drawing room. "Flowers make the house look like a part of outdoors and it should do so. You should not arrange flowers carelessly, not in stilted bunches as they used to do. Bunch the flowers just as though a child had just carelessly picked them. It is a good sign when we go back to child like things, a sure sign that the world is growing young and that we are developing within us the fountain of youth.

"So one now finds in the florists' shops clear, blue French hyderangers set in a pot hidden by a fold of lavender and green fibre mat. Then again it may be a lavender rhododendum in a pale blue setting, yellow baskets holding the new cerise shade of azaleas, or a delicate pink one in a pale blue setting.

"The new color in azaleas is called "blushing bride" and is about the shade of the daybreak carnation. One florist I know has quantities of the new rosebud, called "sweetheart." They are tiny pink buds no larger than the tips of the finger and are associated with affairs of the heart. Another popular rose is the climber, called "Hiawatha." It is like a wild rose in form but grows in clusters.

"This bush can be arranged in a large basket, which has the handle curved in a high arch effect. The red variety has a pale centre, becoming white at the heart, which gives it a daintiness equal to its more delicate pink sister."

INVENTIVE GENIUS PLANNING TO MAKE THIS COUNTRY IMPREGNABLE

"I believe that when we have assembled the inventive genius of this nation we shall be in a state of defense such as no other nation has ever known," said Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels just before he went to the home of Thomas A. Edison, the noted inventor, at Llewellyn Park, N. J. "The next war will be fought by machinery and by men of brains. They say we have millions of men and a mint of money. We need machinery, we need the skill, we need to bring about the mobilization of brains. I believe in preparedness, also in scientific preparedness, and my idea in organizing a navy board is to bring about a mobilization of the inventive genius of the country. I want to get together men who have devoted their lives to science and to use their genius and their skill to benefit the country. I want to help these men to develop their ideas for inventions that will be a service to the country in time of war." The accompanying photograph of Mr. Edison and Secretary Daniels was taken at Mr. Edison's home.

What Horiense Told Me

If the hair is dusty and unmanageable after a journey of any sort, try using alcohol to make it fluffy, says Horiense. The alcohol will dry in a few moments and the hair will be then ready to arrange. Many women who have taken a railroad journey of several hours' duration have found their hair, owing to the heat and dust of the journey, quite heavy and dirty. A shampoo takes too long to be indulged in while dressing and sometimes, too, it leaves the hair too fluffy for immediate management.

Part the hair and rub a little alcohol on a piece of gauze on the scalp until it is free from dust. Then rub the hair about the brows and ears and the nape of the neck, with alcohol. Of course it should first have been brushed as free as possible from dust. Then let the hair hang loosely until the alcohol has dried out. The hair will then be light an fluffy.

Horiense says never to pick blackheads as you are liable to cause unsightly pimples and sores. Wash your face in hot water and use a pure soap freely on it. Apply cloths wrung from hot water, until the pores are well open. Then rub in a good cold cream to soften the skin. Now, with a flat, blunt instrument, like a watch key, press gently on each blackhead and the dirt will roll out.

You know blackheads are just dirt that has accumulated at the outlet of the oil glands in your skin, and becomes hardened. When you have finished the cold cream treatment wash your face to which you have added a little boracic acid.

Horiense tells me there two two kinds of wrinkles, those that all skins will show as it becomes dry and those called premature wrinkles, caused by suffering, either physical or mental. Many women whose skin seems unusually smooth and unwrinkled, keep it so by bathing the face in some water in which some cereal has been steeped. The cereals seem to have unusually beautifying qualities, and you have doubtless felt the beneficial effects of the bran wash, both on the face and in the hair.

A very simple toilet wash to keep your skin youthful is made by dissolving three ounces of pearl barley in a pint of water until the gluten is extracted. Then it is strained and to the liquid 25 drops of tincture of benzoin is added. After being thoroughly rubbed in the barley wash is thoroughly rinsed from the face with pure soap and warm water. The addition of a few drops of benzoin to the water in which the face is rinsed, night and morning, will keep the skin fresh and white, besides closing the distended pores.

JOHN H. BEAULIEU

At a meeting of the directors of the Middlesex Safe Deposit & Trust Co. held on Thursday, John H. Beaulieu was added to the membership of the board. New members of the board elected the present year, besides Mr. Beaulieu, are Frank P. McGilly, Horace P. Beals and John T. Sparks.

How, and Why,— the GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda now saves Car-Owners, yearly, over $25,000,000 on Tires

THERE are 1,923,951 Automobiles now State-licensed, and running, in the United States.

Of these, 1,803,951 are Pleasure Cars,—i. e., exclusive of Trucks, etc.

More than 90% of them, or about 1,623,555, use Pneumatic Tires.

Each car will wear out and replace, on average, about one Set of Four Tires per year.

Therefore, the interests of each Car-Owner, as well as each Car-Manufacturer, each Car-Dealer, and Salesman, are vitally and personally affected by the price of Tires to Consumers.

Because,—Tires and Gasoline are the two big items of consumption in the operation of Motor Cars.

The Owner who used his Car 1,000 Miles less, per year, than he would have done, because of "the high-price of Tires and Gasoline," received that much less return from his entire investment in the Car proper.

The potential, or prospective, Car-Owner who fails to buy a Car because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline,"—he who sells his Car and does not buy again because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline"—or he who, for the same reason, stores his Car and does not run it during a considerable part of the year, is a direct loss to—

—1st—Automobile Manufacturers as a class,

—2d—Automobile Dealers, as a class,

—3d—Garage Owners, as a class,

—4th—Lubrication & Gasoline Manufacturers, as a class.

But,—he is a greater loss to TIRE Manufacturers, and Dealers, as a class, than to any others.

Because,—

—Gasoline and Lubricants, for instance, can be sold to the Owners of Motor Boats, Stationary, and other Motors.

But,—Automobile Tires can only be sold, in the ultimate, to the man who OWNS a Car, and who wears out Tires through using it.

o o o

EVERY mile that each Automobile runs, means an automatic Sale of Tires to replace that mileage with new Tires.

But, all the Salesmanship, and all the Advertising, under the Sun, could not increase, by a single Tire, the total sales of Tires beyond the number of Cars owned by Consumers, and the number of Miles each Consumer runs his Car yearly.

The Market for Tires is therefore limited, inflexibly, to the number of Cars running, and the Mileage which each Owner is induced to run yearly.

Therefore, we opine that to promote greater Sales, and greater use, of Automobiles, few better incentives can be offered than markedly-lowered cost, TO CONSUMERS, for Tires and Gasoline.

Just as we recognize that the only legitimate expansion open to the Tire Industry, as a whole, would be due to the Sale of more Automobiles each year to Consumers, with a greater average Mileage USE, per year, of each Car by each Owner.

That is why we favor the lowest possible price for Tires,—to Consumers, consistent with maintenance of high quality and a fair profit to Dealer and Mfr.

So this, then, is a leading reason why WE initiated, and propagated, that Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement which we publicly announced in the press on Jan. 31, 1915, and which caused practically every Pneumatic Tire Manufacturer in this Country to follow our lead and bring his prices down to a fairer level.

THIS is also the reason why some Tire Manufacturers, who could not, or would not, "meet" our BASIC prices for Pneumatic Tires (even though our "Fair-List" Propaganda obliged them to make heavy reductions off their former Lists) might erroneously suppose that "Goodrich" Tires have been cheapened in Quality, as well as in price.

Hence this explanation (to the Public, to Car-Manufacturers, Dealers, Car-Salesmen, Garages, and Tire Dealers generally) that we deem it "good business" to sell the best Goodrich Tires (of fabric construction) we have ever made, at the fairest price possible for such quality.!

Hence, too, the following TEST offer to Consumers.

—We will cheerfully pay for any Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" Tire, sold since our "Fair-List" price-reduction (announced on January 31, 1915,) which when cut open shows any reduction in quality, in number of layers of Canvas, in thickness, or quality of Rubber, when compared with any other Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" made by us, and sold at our higher prices current before the Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement.

And,—this is further to authorize any Tire-User to extend this Offer (at our expense) to any Tire Dealer, or Manufacturer

We ask Car-Owners, and Tire Consumers, in their own interest, to see that no "implication" of lowered quality in Goodrich Tires goes unchallenged,—just as we have protected their interests, for our own sake, through our "Fair-List" Propaganda.

o o o

BECAUSE of that GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda, every Car-Owner who now buys any make of Tire sized 37x5, now saves, on each set of 4 Tires, an average of about $46.27.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 34x4 Tires of any make, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $26.15 per set of 4 Tires.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 30x3½ Tires, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $14.70 per Set of 4 Tires.

Other sizes in proportion.

The 1,623,555 State-licensed Car-Owners who use Pneumatic Tires now save about 20% of what they last year paid for ANY make and size, whether they be Goodrich or competing brands,—equal to more than $25,000,000 per year.

And, don't forget that this giant saving to Car-Owners was never mentioned to the Public by other Tire Manufacturing Concerns until the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda made it imperative that they extend the Saving to Consumers on their Tires, or lose business to the Goodrich Co.

But, notwithstanding all this,—the fact which should loom largest to TIRE-USERS is the contrast of 10% to 40%, in prices, that still exists between the low price of the best Non-Skid Tires (of fabric construction) that money can buy, or the largest Rubber Factory in the World produce,—(to wit, GOODRICH Non-Skid Tires) and all other "responsible" Tires in the field.

Compare these prices and see!

Then, if you are not already a Goodrich User, do yourself (and us), the justice to buy at least one GOODRICH "Non-Skid" Tire.

Test that out for Quality, Mileage and Resilience against any other Tire, at any price, which you are now using.

The result of such test will cause you to wonder why you ever paid more for Maximum Quality, Mileage, and Resilience than the Basic price of Goodrich Non-Skid Tires?

WAR STOCKS ACTIVE

YIELDED NONE OF THEIR PROMINENCE—STEEL ADVANCES—CLOSING IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, July 16.—War stocks yielded none of their prominence on the resumption of trading today. Bethlehem Steel rose 2 points to 182 and American Can, Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker and Willys-Overland touched records never before attained. U. S. Steel was the most active feature, however, opening with a sale of 5000 shares at 63½ to 63⅝. Against yesterday's close of 63⅜. Immediately thereafter offerings of 1000, 2000 and 1000 shares of Steel were readily absorbed at slight recessions. All other parts of the list were higher, Southern Pacific and New Haven alone exhibiting heaviness.

Bethlehem Steel continued its advance to 185 and other issues in the same group added to initial gains. These shares with U. S. Steel made up a large part of the first hour's active business. Steel was the actual leader, its firmness imparting steadiness elsewhere. Southern Pacific declined to within a small fraction of yesterday's minimum quotation later making partial recovery. Low priced railways like Missouri, Kansas & Texas and Rock Island sold at new low prices. Bonds were steady.

Stocks developed an irregular tendency in the afternoon, renewed weakness in So. Pacific affecting allied shares. Meantime, however, war specialties, particularly Crucible common and preferred were very active at new high records.

Manipulations of the specialties was resumed in the final hour, war shares then making highest prices. The closing was irregular.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 16.—Cotton futures opened steady. October 9.15; December 9.43; January 9.52; March 9.76.

Cotton futures closed firm. July 8.95; October 9.39; December 9.64; January 9.72; March 9.98. Spot quiet; middling 9.25.

BOSTON MARKET

BOSTON, July 16. The demand for mining shares was fairly heavy during the opening hours on the local exchange today. Because of its war by-product, Massachusetts Gas was also active. At noon the market was broad and strong.

EXCHANGES

NEW YORK, July 16.—Exchanges $344,834,358; balances $23,477,056.

WILL COME FROM THE WEIRS TO STANLEY'S BELOW LOWELL IN CANOE

Jackson Palmer will be a candidate for mayor next fall, but in the meantime he will get some good training for a strenuous campaign, through the medium of an interesting stunt that he has agreed to perform successfully, namely to come from the headwaters of the Merrimack river, embarking at the Weirs, to Stanley's on the Merrimack, below Lowell, by canoe and without assistance and make the distance within five days, regardless of weather conditions.

And the unusual stunt grew out of a discussion by a party of gentlemen who had been reading The Old Timer's article about boating on the river in The Sun's Quarter of a Century column.

The question came up as to whether or not a person unaided can get from Lake Winnepesaukee to Lowell, and how long the trip would take him. Mr. Palmer ventured the assertion that he would make the trip personally and cover the distance in five days. One of the party offered to wager that Mr. Palmer would make good while another wagered that the feat could not be done and hence the arrangements have been made and Mr. Palmer will make his attempt about August 1.

Under the conditions agreed upon Mr. Palmer must take all equipment, food, clothing, blankets, etc., at the start and water only, can be taken on at any part of the trip. All carried must be made under supervision of watchers and without assistance and without wheels. The carries will be made at Lakeport, Laconia, Lockmere, Tilton, Franklin, Sever's Falls, near Concord, Hooksett, Manchester and Lowell. Single blade paddles must be used and no shelter is to be sought except what can be carried in canoe or constructed from materials en route, by canoeist.

The approximate distances are as follows:

Weirs to Lakeport, 5 miles.
Lakeport to Laconia, 3 miles.
Laconia to Lockmere, 16 miles.
Lockmere to Tilton, 10 miles.
Tilton to Franklin, 3 miles (carry).
Franklin to Penacook, 10 miles.
Penacook to Concord, 5 miles.
Concord to Hooksett, 10 miles.
Hooksett to Manchester, 9 miles.
Manchester, 1 mile (carry).
Manchester to Lowell, 35 miles.
Lowell, (carry).
Lowell to Stanley's, 5 miles.
Total, 116.

Mr. Palmer states that the trip will involve about 130 to 140 miles of actual travel. Harry W. J. Howe has been selected as judge while the sporting editors of The Sun and Courier-Citizen have been asked to arrange for judges at the carry points and other details.

TAX RATE OF $18

TOWN OF TEWKSBURY SHOWS PROGRESS IN VALUE OF REAL ESTATE AND LOWER TAXES

The assessors of the town of Tewksbury announced the taxe rate for the year 1915 yesterday and the residents of the town will be pleased to learn that the rate will be $18.00 or a dollar less than last year, this being due to the large increase in valuation, which amounts to $160,000

One of the assessors in conversation with a reporter of The Sun this afternoon said the drop in the tax rate is due principally to the increase in property valuation brought by the erection of a large plant by the United States Cartridge Co., in the South Lowell section of the town and of another by the Avery Chemical Co., at Wamesit.

BRIDGE SWEPT AWAY

COLUMBUS, O., July 16.—A bridge at Mound street, used by pedestrians only, connecting with the west side of Columbus, was swept out by the rapidly rising Scioto river shortly after 10 o'clock today. No one was injured.

Telegrams from Marion, Delaware, Greenville and other points reported unprecedented rains which had filled all rivers to overflowing.

TO PROTECT THE COAST

GOVERNMENT PURCHASE OF INVENTION OF JOHN HAYS HAMMOND, JR., FAVORED

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Government purchase of the wireless control for torpedoes, invented by John Hays Hammond, Jr., probably will be recommended to congress by Secretary Garrison. The appropriation committees during the closing days of the last congress were urged to provide for securing the new device for protecting the coasts but no action was taken.

ALBERT GEDDES WINS VERDICT

OGDEN, Utah, July 16.—The jury in the case of Albert Geddes, suing for an interest in the $5,000,000 estate of David Eccles, Utah millionaire sugar manufacturer, on the ground that he is a son of Eccles, decided today that Eccles was the boy's father.

PARISIAN SAGE

At this season of the year many people find their hair coming out at an alarming rate and often fear baldness. This may very easily be the ultimate result if proper scalp treatment is not taken at once. All excessive loss of hair can be almost immediately stopped by the use twice daily of a little Parisian Sage which invigorates and nourishes the scalp, giving the hair roots into a renewal of healthy vigorous action. New hair quickly appears on the thin spots, old hair stops falling and the difference is apparent in a few days by the very look of the hair itself, for it will simply take on new life, lustre and beauty. Parisian Sage can be obtained from any good druggist. It is not expensive.

MUST LEAVE IRELAND

THREE SINN FEIN LEADERS MARKED FOR PLOTING AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

LONDON, July 16, 12.40 p. m.—The government has ordered three members of the Sinn Fein—Ernest Blythe of Ennistimon, William Mallows of Athenry, and H. J. Pim of Belfast—to leave Ireland. The immediate cause of their expulsion is believed to be their campaign from public platforms against war, against England and recruiting.

All of the trio were active in the Sinn Fein section of the volunteers that broke away and opposed the followers of John E. Redmond, the leader of the Irish Nationalists in the house of commons. Pim had written books under the name of "A. Newman."

REFUSAL OF RUMANIA

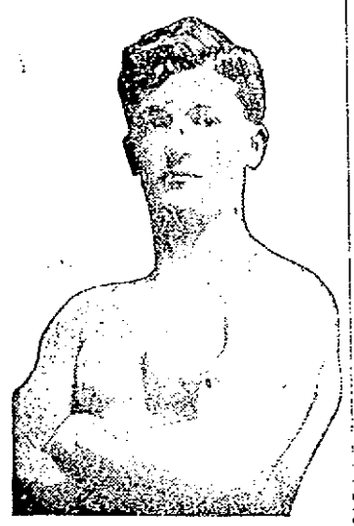

LONDON, July 16, 5.55 p. m.—The correspondent at Copenhagen of the Exchange Telegraph Co., quote the Vorwaerts as announcing:

"Rumania has emphatically refused to comply with Germany's demands to allow weapons and ammunition to traverse Rumania for Turkey."

People Used to Call Me "Skinny"

But Now My Name Has Changed—Gained 15 Pounds and

Look Like a New Man

A PLUMP, STRONG, ROBUST BODY

"Before I took Sargol people used to call me 'skinny' but now my name is changed. My whole body is strong. Have gained 15 pounds and am gaining yet. I look like a new man," declared a man who had just finished the Sargol treatment.

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Gregson. "I had to quit work. I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 12 pounds in 10 days."

"Sargol has put 10 pounds on me in 14 days," states W. O. Roberts. "It has made me sleep well, enjoy what I ate and enabled me to work with interest and pleasure."

Would you, too, like to quickly put from 10 to 30 pounds of good, solid "stay-there" flesh, fat and muscular tissue between your skin and bones?

Don't say it can't be done. Try it.

More than half a million thin men and women have gladly made the test, and that Sargol does succeed, does make thin folks fat even where all else has failed, is best proven by the tremendous business we have done. No drastic diet, flesh creams, massage, oils or emulsions, but a simple, harmless home treatment. All leading druggists in Lowell and vicinity sell Sargol in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

COMATOS IS INDICTED

HE MUST STAND TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MURDERING JOHN DEMOS

The Middlesex county grand jury met at Cambridge at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and returned an indictment against John Comatos, a farm hand of this city, for the murder of John Demos in their tenement at 2 Elm place on the night of June 30. Evidence was presented to the grand jury in this city Monday, Wednesday and this forenoon, the jurors immediately going to Cambridge and reconvening a few hours after the adjournment here. Deputy District Attorney Crowley conducted the case.

John Comatos is one of four men who roomed with Demos at 2 Elm place. Immediately after the murder was investigated by the police, the defendant was taken to the police station and after being put through an examination was held as a suspect of murder. He was later arraigned in the local court and pleaded not guilty through his attorneys, James F. Owens and Benjamin J. Moloney.

An indictment was also returned against Petro Torchie for the murder of Anthony Weinsky in South Framingham.

The grand jury will assemble at the local court house next Wednesday at 10 o'clock for the consideration of local matters.

MOSES BLOOD INDICTED

CAMBRIDGE, July 16.—Moses Blood of West Townsend was indicted by the Middlesex grand jury today for the murder of William Barnaby at the farm of Alice Blood on July 5.

Blood was arrested the day following the shooting of Barnaby. He will plead to the indictment tomorrow.

SUICIDE BY JUMPING

CORONER'S VERDICT ON THE DEATH OF MUENTER, ALIAS HOLT

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 16.—After hearing the testimony of several witnesses, Coroner Walter E. Jones announced today that he would render a verdict of suicide by jumping from a prison tier in the case of Erich Muenter, alias Frank Holt, who shot J. P. Morgan, exploded a bomb in the capitol at Washington, and intimated in a letter to his wife that he had placed a bomb on one or more ocean steamships. A belief that Muenter might have shot himself, based upon a statement of Jeremiah O'Ryan, his keeper, was responsible for the extended inquiry by the coroner.

MATRIMONIAL

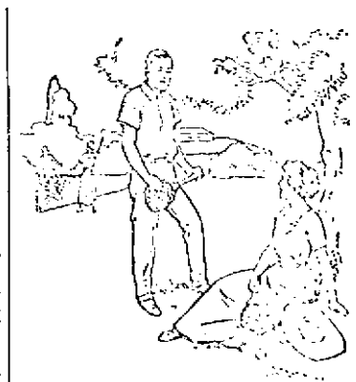

James O'Roarke and Miss Delia B. Jones were married Wednesday at the Immaculate Conception rectory by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O. M. I. The bridesmaid was Miss Anna Sheridan and the best man, Michael O'Roarke. The bride wore duchess satin trimmed with Irish point lace with a picture hat and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid was attired in imported embroidered French voile over duchess satin. She wore a picture hat to match and carried pinks. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Gilbert Sheridan, 66 Appleton street, where a reception was held. The happy couple left in the evening on a honeymoon trip to Boston, New York and Bar Harbor, where the bride is favorably known. On their return they will make their home in Stevens street. No cards. They received many pretty wedding gifts and have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends for their future happiness.

FLOODS IN CHINA

NEW YORK, July 16.—The telegraph office at Canton, China, it was announced today, has reopened after having been closed by floods. The Chinese land lines, however, were still in bad condition from storms.

IMPORTANT TO HEALTH DURING HOT WEATHER

Summer Conditions Contribute in Various Ways to Constipation

At no time should people be more careful of the condition of their bowels than during the hot weather. Constipation should be guarded against especially, as very serious, and often fatal, diseases are traceable to neglect.

Some people find that certain fruits have a laxative effect, but this cannot always be depended upon; a mild laxative-tonic that will act gently, yet positively, without griping or shock to the system is far preferable. A combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is highly recommended as being easy and natural in its action, pleasant to the taste and certain in its effect. A dose of this excellent remedy at bedtime will restore normal activity in the morning, carrying off the headache and Bloat. Salts, purgatives and cathartics should be avoided as they upset the entire system, and at best afford but temporary relief.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is not expensive and can be obtained in any drug store for fifty cents a bottle. For a free trial bottle, write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

GREAT COAL STRIKE IN WALES NEW MENACE TO GREAT BRITAIN IN WAR

SCENE AT SHAFT OF MINE IN WALES

In spite of predictions that labor difficulties in the coal fields would be averted virtually every mine in Wales became idle when the delegates to the miners' convention voted to strike. In one district alone 20,000 men struck, defying the government's proclamation that the provisions of the munitions act would be invoked to prevent a cessation of operations. Soon upward of 120,000 men were out. A meeting of the executive committee of the South Wales Miners' union was called to confer with representatives of the board of trade, but the rank and file of the miners were obdurate and the government's proclamation seemed only to have stiffened their resolution to stand firm in their demands. Men who strike in the face of the government prohibition are subject to a fine of $15 a day, in default of which they may be imprisoned. In the accompanying illustration is shown Welsh miners at the shaft of a mine in Wales.

CHASED BY SUBMARINE

Passengers Aboard British Liner Tell of Escape — Six Shells Were Fired

NEW YORK, July 17.—Passengers aboard the British passenger liner Orduna, which reached here today, said that a submarine attempted to torpedo the vessel at 6 o'clock in the morning of July 9, and, failing in its effort, fired six shells at the steamer, one of which took effect.

Few passengers were on the deck when the attack occurred. Baron Rosenkrantz of Denmark, one of the passengers, reached the deck as the Orduna was fleeing from her assailant and witnessed the attack.

The submarine chased the steamer for a considerable time, and finally abandoned pursuit.

The information that the Orduna had been attacked was obtained when the vessel reached quarantine.

For a long time the vessels of the Cunard line have sailed the Atlantic with their wireless apparatus untouched. When, therefore, a radio message from Capt. Taylor was received yesterday at the company's offices saying the Orduna would dock today, officials perceived that something unusual had occurred but were unable to understand what the captain sought to convey to them.

The Tuscania also was mentioned in Capt Taylor's message as being 1012 miles off shore.

When the Orduna left Liverpool July 8 she passed out of communication with all the rest of the world. It was doubtful, officials here said, whether the British admiralty had even been informed of the attempt to torpedo the vessel. The Orduna had aboard 227 passengers. Therewere 21 Americans aboard, it was learned, when she docked here. Passengers say the submarine attack was made without previous warning.

SHEA—The funeral of the late Thomas A. Shea took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from his home, 219 Dewey street and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Margaret's church where at 9 o'clock a funeral mass was sung by Rev. Henry Reardon. The choir under the direction of Mr. Frank McCarthy, rendered the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Catherine Hennessey, Mr. John J. Dalton and Mr. William L. Goodkin, Miss Teresa Hennessey presiding at the organ. There were many beautiful floral tributes, including a large pillow inscribed "Our Tom," from the family; basket of cut flowers inscribed "Good Bye Uncle Tom," Paul, Helen and Richard Whitcomb, and pieces from Mrs. Doyle and family, Robert and Raymond Kenney, "The Boys," Philip O'Brien, W. J. Collins and W. S. Maloney, D. W. Shanahan and family, Joseph W. Griffiths of Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Simon J. Kelley, Miss Mamie Powers, Mr. Charles Coughlin, Mrs. McAllister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Flaherty, Mr. and Mrs. Searth, Mr. and Mrs. Wynn. The bearers were Henry Doyle, Joseph Dean, Daniel Coughlin, Wesley Rutledge, William Coppen and Henry Mitten. At the grave Rev. Father Reardon read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

FITZSIMMONS—The funeral of Bernard Fitzsimmons took place this afternoon from the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Fitzsimmons, 8, rear of 176 Fayette street at 2.30 o'clock. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

DEATHS

HYLAN—Mrs. Shuah C. Hylan died yesterday afternoon at her home, 56 Oak street, aged 85 years, 10 months. She leaves one son, Eugene S. Hylan of Lowell and seven grandchildren.

O'CONNOR—The many friends of Mrs Nora Theresa (Fitzgerald) O'Connor, beloved wife of Police Officer Timothy J. O'Connor, will be grieved to hear of her death, which occurred at her home last evening, at 65 Fay street, after an illness which she bore with great patience. She was 30 years of age. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Timothy J. O'Connor; one daughter, Josephine; one sister, Hannah Fitzgerald of this city, and two brothers, George of California and Daniel Fitzgerald of Ireland.

EATON—Walter F. Eaton, aged 60 years, died this morning at St. John's hospital. The deceased leaves three brothers, C. F. Eaton of Winter Hill, Mass., Edmund A. Eaton of Newfield, N. H., and Frank F. Eaton of Dover, N. H., also a nephew, George H. Eaton of this city. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of John A. Weinbeck, Market street.

DONNELLY—Sarah Donnelly, aged seven months, child of Frederick and Catherine, died today at their home, No. 4, rear of 11 Queen street.

FUNERAL NOTICES

McLARNON—The funeral of Michael McLarnon will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the home of his uncle, Patrick McCann, 529 Broadway. Burial will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of James F. O'Donnell & Sos.

HYLAN—Died in this city, July 16, at her home, 56 Oak street, Mrs. Shuah C. Hylan, aged 85 years, 10 months. Funeral services will be held from her late home, 56 Oak street, on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Friends invited. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertakers Simmons & Brown.

O'CONNOR—The funeral of Mrs. Nora Theresa (Fitzgerald) O'Connor will take place Monday morning from her home, 65 Fay street, at 8 o'clock. At the Sacred Heart church a funeral high mass of requiem will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. Interment will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery, Undertaker J. J. O'Connell in charge.

MORRELL—The funeral of the late Mrs. Cordelia Morrell will take place on Monday morning at 8 o'clock from her late home, 19 Fernald street. High mass of requiem will be sung at the Notre Dame de Lourdes church at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons in charge.

EATON—The funeral of Walter F. Eaton will take place Monday afternoon from the Edson cemetery chapel. Friends are invited. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker John A. Weinbeck.

LATE WAR NEWS

the other bank, where their retreat is being turned into a rout.

Italians Advance

Fighting on the Austro-Italian front has resulted in few recent changes of position, according to the latest report from Rome. Numerous attacks by the Austrians on the Italian advanced positions are recorded, all of which are declared to have been repulsed.

Miners' Strike

Attempts at solution of the South Wales coal strike problem failed for the time being, the miners' executive committee adjourning to Monday after an abortive attempt to reach an agreement on means to secure a settlement.

NEW GERMAN OFFENSIVE WITH SEAPORT OF RIGA AS OBJECTIVE

LONDON, July 17, 12.25 p. m.—A new German offensive of huge proportions with the great Russian seaport of Riga as its objective, is revealed in the latest official statements issued at Petrograd and Berlin. Military experts here construe the offensive to be a vast envelopment movement in which the Germans are making a herculean effort to destroy the Russian army.

Both the German and Russian communications agree that the German forces are at the Windau river, near Goldingen, which is only 80 miles from Riga.

Sanguinary Fighting

An official statement received today from Petrograd adds details of sanguinary fighting all along the new line in efforts to hold back the German advance on Riga and Warsaw while the Austro-Hungarians are moving northward from the Dniester river.

Advices reaching London today say that the Germans left a trail of desolation along the Baltic sea from Memel to Libau, where the villas, hotels and casinos are alleged to have been destroyed.

Crown Prince Frederick William's drive in the Argonne forest now is accepted as a small success in gaining a few hundred yards of terrain, but as a failure in attaining its real object —a decisive penetration of the French line.

Miners Increase Demands

The ominous attitude adopted by the Welsh coal miners causes serious apprehension. The miners now have increased their demands by asking the government to withdraw the royal proclamation making the coal mines subject to the munitions act. President Runciman of the board of trade rejected this proposal at a conference ton regarding chance of mediation last night and a meeting held in London today failed to secure any ground for an adjustment. The extremist leaders declare, however, that it is a question no longer of a five per cent increase in wages but the abrogation of the royal proclamation, which subjects the miners to a fine of $25 daily for striking.

No effort yet has been made to enforce the fines against the 150,000 strikers, which the leaders construe as recognition of the virtual impossibility of carrying out the plan.

FEATURES OF LAST NIGHT'S WAR NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

French retake trench at Souchez and stop German assaults west of Soissons and in Lorraine.

Italians heavily bombard Austrians in coast district and in Carinthia; Italian assault in the Dolomites repelled.

Allies gain fresh successes in fight to reach Dardanelles Narrows.

Berlin announces repulse of French west of Argonne.

German submarine compels Norwegian vessel from Bergen to throw over food cargo for England, then lets ship pass.

British and French capture large town in central Kamerun.

HOW TO MAKE A GIRL'S FROCK—NO PRETTIER DRESS EVER WAS DEVISED

No prettier dress for little girls ever was devised than the one with the bertha finishing the round neck. This summer it is exceedingly fashionable and the model shown here is one of the prettiest as well as the simplest that the season has to offer. Mothers who find it necessary to replenish the wardrobe in mid-summer will be exceedingly glad of the design for the lovely muslins, voiles, batistes and fabrics of the sort that just now are to be purchased at real bargain prices. Those who are looking ahead and using the mid-summer leisure to provide for the coming season, will like it for challis and for the similar materials of between season wear. Since it can be made with either long or short sleeves and with or without the body lining, it is suited to all seasons. The skirt is a simple straight one, but the hem and the graduated tucks make a most attractive finish, so that with really very little labor, the dress produces a most satisfactory result. In the diagram is shown the best method of laying the pattern out on material thirty-six inches in width and since that width is the one to be found in a great variety of materials, it makes the best for our purpose. As will be seen at a glance, if wider material is used, there will be more or less waste, the piecing for the skirt will be narrower, but otherwise there will be no material change. The material is folded lengthwise both for the dress and for the lining, but as a matter of course, the lining is quite separate and made from a different material from the dress.

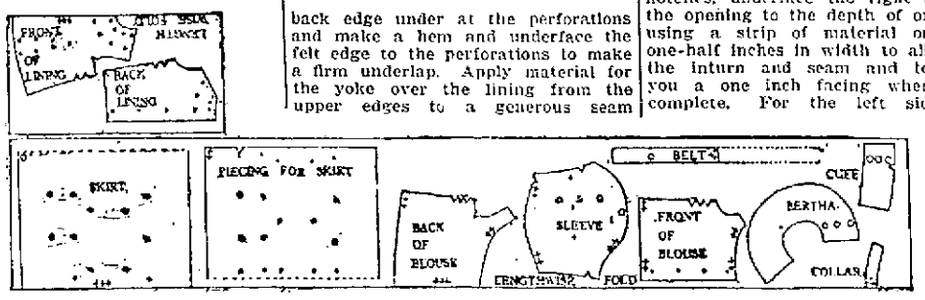

After marking all around the outside edges of the pattern with a tracing wheel or with tailors' chalk as may be better for the special material, cut out carefully, allowing seams as wide as your material renders desirable, narrower if it is closely woven, wider if it will fray readily. Then lay the pattern on the material, mark all the perforations and the notches with care and then mark through to the under side with the tailors' tacks that have been described in earlier lessons. In the picture, the short sleeves are used and the pattern has been cut through on the cross line of perforations before placing on the material. In the diagram the long sleeve is shown and if the shorter one is to be used a little material will be saved if this difference is made before the pattern is laid out. If the neck is to be round without the collar, cut the lining out on the first line of perforations from the upper edge. First, we will consider the dress that is to be made of challis or other material that requires lining. Secondly, we will take up the question of the very little difference that will exist when that lining is omitted.

As a first step, take up the darts in the lining front, bringing the corresponding lines of perforations together accurately and stitch. Then split the seams at their folded edges and press open. Whip the edges for a neat finish. Close the shoulder and under-arm seams. Turn the right back edge under at the perforations and make a hem and underface the felt edge to the perforations to make a firm underlap. Apply material for the yoke over the lining from the upper edges to a generous seam width below the second line of perforations on the pattern or below the first line if the lining is cut out on the upper line for the round neck. Stitch the lower edge into place. If you desire a transparent effect, cut the lining away on the perforations. Lay the lining aside and begin work on the blouse. Turn the right back edge of that under on the perforations for a hem and finish the left for an underlap as already directed. Then join the shoulder and under-arm edges. Gather at both upper and lower edges between the double crosses, arrange it over the lining with the center fronts and back edges together, the under-arm and shoulder seams exactly meeting the upper edge at perforations. Pin together at these various points to be sure they are accurate; draw up your gathers as required to fit the lining and baste into place carefully at the upper, the lower and the armhole edges and tack the back edges one to the other. Next, stitch the upper edge into place firmly.

To make the sleeves, close the seams with the notches exactly meeting. For the short sleeves, gather at the lower edges and join to narrow bands to fit the arms. For the long sleeves, gather at the lower edges between the two crosses, join the ends of the cuffs and join to the sleeves with the notches meeting and the large perforations at the seams. Whether the sleeves are long or short, gather them at their upper edges between the two crosses and place in the arm-holes, with the seams at the notches in the front of the lining and the single large perforations at the shoulder seams. Stitch and bind the seams with a narrow bias strip of the lining material or with the bias tape that can be purchased ready for use. Finish the neck edge in any way that you like, with little frills of lace or with the picot edging that can be whipped on by hand, or, if you use the high neck, join the collar to the neck edge with the center fronts and backs exactly meeting. As a next step, finish the ends and the lower edges of the bertha and trim with the ruches illustrated or in any way that you like and then arrange over the blouse. Turn up over the yoke, allowing the seam allowance to extend down over the blouse. Pin the center front, center backs exactly together and the single large perforations at the shoulder seams. Baste and stitch at the edge of the blouse, taking in just the seam allowance and whip the edges for a neat finish. Then turn down over the blouse when the seams will be entirely concealed and the sewing will be lost to view. Join the lower edge of the blouse to the belt with the center fronts and backs together and the single perforations at the under-arm seams.

To make the skirt, join the pieces as your material has rendered necessary and bind each edge of each seam separately with a little strip of material if the material is thin enough for that or with binding tape and press the seams open. Then close the back seam below the notches, underface the right side of the opening to the depth of one inch using a strip of material one and one-half inches in width to allow for the inturn and seam and to leave you a one inch facing when it is complete. For the left side, cut a strip of material two and one-half inches in width, seam one edge to the opening, turn at the center and fell the second edge into place over the seam. Turn the lower edge up on the right side, lap the hem over it and stitch twice across the lower edge to make a firm placket. Turn the seam allowance on the lower edge of the skirt under, then turn under for a second time on the first line of perforations for the hem. Sew on the perforations either by hand or by machine. Form tucks by bringing the corresponding lines of perforations together and sew on the perforations. Then gather the skirt at the upper edge between the two crosses, using two rows of gathers, one quarter of an inch apart, draw up and join to belt with the center fronts and center backs together and the single large perforations meeting. Stitch and then cut a second belt of the lining material, turn the seam allowance on all edges under and arrange under the belt, covering the seam on the skirt and the seam on the blouse. Hem or stitch into place to make a strong and neat finish. Adjust any girdle or sash over it that you may like.

To make without the blouse lining, cut the pattern of the lining through to the seam width below the second line of perforations from the upper edge and use as a pattern for the yoke. Lay it over yoking material and cut as already directed. Make the blouse exactly as I have told you to do for the lined waist, but draw up the upper edge and arrange it over the yoke with the upper edge at the line of perforations and stitch firmly into place. The rest of the work is exactly the same as for the lined waist with only the difference that when the lining is omitted, it is advisable to make double seams on the waist, whereas, when it is lined, it necessary only to make single seams and press them open. For the sleeves and the back of the skirt, always use the double seams.

COUNTERFEIT GANG CAUGHT

CHICAGO, July 17.—Counterfeit money of face value of nearly $75,000, alleged counterfeit Minnesota state bonds running up to $25,000, and dies, plates, engraving tools and chemicals used by a gang of counterfeiters believed to have operated on a large scale fell into the hands of the police yesterday. Five men were arrested. The money was made in Duluth.

IN POLICE COURT

Tewksbury Case of Gambling — Non-Support Case

Walter Smith and James A. Mullin, the two South Boston boys arrested on the veranda of a camp in Tewksbury last Sunday for playing a game on the Lord's day, in that they participated in a game of whist, were called on continuance before Judge Enright in the local court today. Frank Farmer of the Tewksbury constabulary had nothing to report against either of the defendants so the court ordered their cases placed on file on findings of guilty. He warned them about the complaints that had been made relative to the camp at which they stop, however.

Brothers Quarreled

Two brothers were the principals in a threatening case that occupied a good part of today's session. Sotiros Lambasis was the defendant and his brother, Peter, the complainant. It was alleged by the government that as a result of an argument arising over the payment of certain bills Sotiros assaulted his brother and threatened to kill him. The court did not believe that the threat was made with intent to do any harm so ordered the complaint dismissed. Fisher H. Pearson appeared for the complainant and Daniel J. Donahue for the defendant.

John F. Harmon was complained of by his wife for failing to properly provide for their minor children. Mrs. Harmon said that she and her children had been neglected by the defendant who only earns small pay when he works and often does not attempt to work steadily.

Harmon testified that he always contributed his whole earnings to the household. He said he has a tenement on Adams street at the present time ready for his wife to come back and live with him. Judge Enright ordered the case continued for two weeks for the purpose of uniting the couple again. Hon. James E. O'Donnell appeared for the defendant.

A young woman was placed on probation for alleged larceny of shoes, stockings, handkerchiefs, etc., from Chalifoux's and Pollard's stores. She was arrested in Chalifoux's yesterday noon after being detected taking some articles from a counter and placing them in a bag. On account of her spotless record in the past, the court placed her in care of Probation Officer Slattery but stated that he would do his part to stop this "shoplifting" which has been going on.

Two drunken offenders were placed on probation.

DANBURY HATTERS PAYING UP

DANBURY, Conn., July 17.—The Savings Bank of Danbury yesterday paid to D. E. Loewe & Co., $19,423 as part of the judgment of $252,000 ordered by the United States supreme court in the Danbury Hatters litigation. The sum represents deposits of individual hatters, attached when the suit was first instituted in 1908. Other banks, where the hatters' money is tied up, will soon make payments to the company, it is said.

FIVE DEAD IN FLOODS

DWELLINGS AND WHOLE AREAS OF CROPS SUBMERGED NEAR COLUMBUS O.—LOSS OF $2,000,000

COLUMBUS, O., July 17.—Five dead, scores injured and more than $2,000,000 worth of property damaged were the toll of floods which stared Thursday night and continued yesterday resulted from torential rains throughout Central Ohio. Hundreds of acres of land are under water and vast areas imperilled by weak levees and embankments. Hundreds of houses and whole areas of crops are submerged.

IMPROVED CONDITIONS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 17.—The passing last night without any considerable rainfall, resulted in improved conditions early today throughout the Ohio flood district. Virtually all rivers began receding here early today, bringing relief from anxious watchers, especially in the flood stricken district on the west side, where thousands remained up all night. Levees along the Scioto river here, which began leaking yesterday afternoon, were repaired during the night and today were holding fast.

A SELFISH SPIRIT

It is not especially inspiring at the present time to read the interviews given by American inventors of things military in which they declare their intention of turning them over to foreign governments. Many of the most effective instruments of war in foreign armies and navies are the product of American brains, wealth and initiative, but if there ever was a time when American inventors should consider their own country first, the time is now.

The original inventors of the aeroplane, the iron clad, the submarine and many other important war inventions were discouraged in their attempts to get congress interested; they were greeted with indifference at home, and they found a ready market abroad. The great governments of Europe in their vigilant rivalries, scoured the world for inventions that would give them respective pre-eminence, and so we find that today some of the most effective factors in the battle lines of all the belligerents are the fruit of American invention—and this while leaders here are shouting from the housetops that America is inefficient and unprepared for war.

One cannot blame the American inventors of the past for turning to foreign governments for the recognition, encouragement and financial aid refused at home. The public attitude towards the Wrights can easily be recalled; here there was considerable skepticism and some degree of curiosity while in France the inventors were given the highest honors and the distinguished recognition of the leading European scientists. Furthermore, our congressional savants were arguing on the propriety of adding a few aeroplanes to the American army at a time when France, England and Germany were adding them to their armies with feverish haste.

There is a new spirit abroad in America, and it is now seen that our army and navy must become fully efficient. The war has shown that the submarine and aerial craft are the instruments of the future, and Secretary Daniels has made a great move in the formation of an advisory board composed of the greatest inventors and business leaders in the country. The need for scientific progress will surely be recognized by the next congress, because American public opinion is becoming too pressing to be ignored, and in the closing days of the last session, there was a disposition to sanction expenditures for improvements without the old time bickerings and airing of nonsensical provincial doubts.

At this time therefore, it is to be deplored that so many American inventors openly threaten to offer their patents to foreign governments. Only a day or so ago two Cincinnati chemists who are said to have invented a plan to combat poisonous gases, declared in the press that they would offer it to France, England and Italy. When asked why they would not try to interest their own country they said that they had received but scant courtesy in Washington when they sought to interest this government in previous inventions.

Another threat that has received wide publicity is that of John Hayes Hammond, Jr., who threatens to sell abroad the inventions recommended to congress by the war department, provided the American government does not act promptly. This spirit is to be deplored. In such an important matter, congress cannot act hastily, and it is not popularly believed that Mr. Hammond, Jr., is in need of the money. His system of wireless control may indeed prove pivotal in modern warfare, but it is something entirely new and not to be accepted without question. Mr. Hammond and our other inventors should consider that few German, French or English inventors come here to sell their secrets to the American government. It looks as though with the foreign desire for gain is a high sense of patriotism which strives to benefit their own country first. Congress is to a certain sense to be blamed for its dilatory and unbusinesslike methods, but for every American inventor to run into the foreign agencies with plans and blue prints is a poor outlook for America. The great Edison gave a splendid example to all American scientific men when he recently declared that he would busy himself with war inventions to serve his own country only.

WITH CHILDREN'S HELP

While so many agitations against child labor are in the air, it is not strange that the pendulum has swung to the other direction. Now, many well-meaning agitators believe that all work is injurious to children, and the good old fashioned doctrine that the right work never hurt a boy or girl is in danger of extinction. Yet workmen and women of today recall their own childhood, it will be believed by many that the proper kind of employment is a help instead of a hindrance to the development of children.

Doctor Claxton of the United States bureau of education has estimated that if one third of the thirteen million school children of the country were to engage in the cultivation of back yards, vacant lots and other available space, they would add $200,000,000 annually to the national wealth and would be enabled to remain in school from three to four years longer on the average, before taking up the battle of life. He expressly states that he refers to city children rather than to their rural brothers and sisters. While emphasizing the economic side of the question, he does not overlook the educational and physical advantages of such work.

In this city a great deal has been done with our school gardens, and the results are gratifying. The work has not gone beyond the experimental stage to any extent, but if the same interest were applied to the home garden as is displayed in the school garden, effects would be noteworthy. The government is striving to inculcate this habit of gardening into the children of America running clubs, etc., and in the west and middle west the campaign is bearing fruit. There is certainly a great opening for the agitation of children's gardens in the cities of this section, and if we had more of such healthful employment, the roll of juvenile delinquents would scarcely be so large. Better that our children should be striving to grow flowers and vegetables in our vacant lots than be as now imbibing lessons of crime from the gangs who infest such lots during the summer months.

GENEROUSLY WEALTHY

Edward N. Hurley, vice-chairman of the federal trade commission said in Chicago a few days ago in an announcement of plans of the commission to increase trade:

"The United States will be generously wealthy if the European war continues six months longer." He is one of a large committee which is starting out on a tour of the central west and Pacific coast for the purpose of promoting the business interests of the country, and in the furtherance of this end, the committee will seek interviews with bankers, merchants, manufacturers and business leaders everywhere.

That American business will not permit its interests to be jeopardized without a strenuous protest is proved by the activity of the meat packers and the still greater activity of the cotton men of the south. While condemning the submarine campaign of Germany insofar as it interferes with legitimate American business interests, our civic bodies and great private firms are equally emphatic in their protests against the detention policies of England, and at their request the American government is about to make representations abroad, reflecting the American view. This country desires no unlawful advantage arising from the war, but it will not tolerate any intrusion on rights which we have in common with all neutrals. These rights include the right to work for the extension of our foreign trade and to permit our factories to fill all the orders they receive, provided they treat all belligerents alike.

ANOTHER MUDDLE?

No one can deny that the plans for a new bridge at Pawtucketville were a sorry muddle from start to finish, merely because the municipal council disregarded the proper way of doing business and evaded the spirit of the city charter. We are now in danger of making a still greater muddle of our new high school plans. Without making definite plans, arranging for preliminary sketches and estimates, deciding on material or area, or doing anything positive towards the actual planning or building, our municipal builders decided on a cost of $700,000 and from now on it is to be presumed that all plans will aim at coming up to that figure. Surely the proposal to spend such an enormous sum entails large responsibility, but the greatest eagerness is apparent all around to shift the responsibility to somebody else. Some members of the municipal council would like to leave the planning to the school board, some members of the school board blame the municipal council for delay, and some members of both bodies would leave it to the superintendent of schools and principal of the high school to decide. Meanwhile, it is proposed to have a sightseeing trip to cities that have up-to-date high schools for the purpose of comparing notes and getting ideas. The tactics of the city officials relative to the proposed high school do not tend to discourage the growing idea that our officials are not sufficient enough to handle such a problem, or considerate enough of the city's interests to provide for a high school that will give us the best at the lowest figure consistent with our municipal needs.

NEBRASKAN MEMO.

The apology which the German government has sent to Washington regarding the sinking of the steamer Nebraskan is not final in that it indicates the desire of Germany to show its friendliness to us. Quite different in tone from most of the diplomatic notes, it takes full responsibility, expresses regret in plain terms and promises reparation. Germany wants us to believe that the outrage was not intended for the American flag, but nevertheless there is no disposition to show that the commander of the submarine was not fully within his rights from the German point of view. In expressing regret for the "accident" Germany does not infer that such an accident may not occur at any time.

Had the Nebraskan been flying the American flag at the time of the torpedo attack, it would probably have escaped, but it was an American ship even without the flag. Its fate bears out the contention of the American government that in Germany's submarine raids it is extremely difficult to observe the established rules of international law. Our officials will therefore accept the German apology and reparation but they will send a note of protest against this further intrusion of American rights. Taking into consideration all the trouble that Germany has got into and the small percentage of British shipping destroyed, it is doubtful if her submarine warfare is proving as successful as was intended.

NEW GERMAN DRIVE

Warsaw is still the great objective of the German drive in the east. For some time attention has been riveted on the armies of Gen. Von Mackensen who drove the Russians from Galicia and pursued them until a strong Russian defensive forced a halt. Since then there has been considerable doubt as to the next move of the Germans but that doubt has been at last dispelled. Suddenly Von Hindenburg who has not been active since he cleared East Prussia of the enemy has started to march on Warsaw from the north, and at the same time Von Mackensen has resumed the offensive on the south. The Russians have been taken by surprise, but they may reorganize quickly enough to make the third great attack on Warsaw a distinct failure. Some military experts declare that the object of the Germans is to crush the Russian army between the armies of the two great German generals and a few days ago Von Hindenburg was quoted in the press as declaring that he would soon astonish the world. Yet the armies which failed to take Paris and Calais even in the first great rush may fail to take Warsaw, and in the east every German failure is terribly costly. Russia can stand a great many temporary defeats, but Germany cannot forever recuperate to the extent that she has done in the present instance. For the next few weeks, the Russian campaign will be followed with interest and anxiety in all parts of the world, for the fall of Warsaw would a be telling blow to the allies.

THE SPELLBINDER

Two well known "philanthropists and publicists," one named Baker and the other Howe, stood watching the Ranch 101 parade at Merrimack and Central streets yesterday, just behind the writer. As the Indians passed Mr. Baker observed: "I think there's a little of the Indian in The Spellbinder of The Sun."

"I guess there's a little of this that's coming, in all three of us," remarked Mr. Howe, and along came a wagon on top of which stood an animal that closely resembled a bull.

"We are advertised by our loving friends."

Doesn't Know Joe Hibbard

Editor Marden commenting upon the campaign of Congressman Deitrick of Cambridge, the "cork-legged" candidate for governor, who though, unhappily deprived of the use of both limbs is going to literally "stump" the state, on foot, remarks:

"Meantime we note that Mr. Deitrick is not going to take chances. He has ordered 'a dozen extra cork-legs to await him at Springfield, Lawrence, Lowell, Boston, Provincetown and other cities.' Also numerous crutches. Query whether all this preparation may not be somewhat costly for one who asks the public to believe that the candidate cannot assume the burden of a Flivver car? Extra cork legs, even in dozen lots, must cost a fairish sum. The extra legs are brought in New York, we are told. Is there no serviceable cork limb made in Massachusetts, any longer?"

Is there no serviceable cork-leg made in Massachusetts any longer, forsooth! Sure there is—as long as the wearer may require, and though his good leg may be of the diminutive dimensions of one of Shorty Dee's or of the elongated proportions of either of Grafton Cushing's, it can be matched for length and symmetry, and Joe Hibbard is the president of the company that manufactures them. Can it be that Joe was asleep at the switch when Congressman Deitrick was looking around for third rails, or had that contest for registrar of voters taken his mind from ordinary affairs? Deitrick made a mistake in not getting his legs from Joe's concern, for no imported ballet company ever displayed a more clean-cut or more serviceable collection of limbs than those turned out by Joe's company, and anyone contemplating an investment in such should consult him before going elsewhere. Once upon a time the writer had all plans and specifications made out for one for himself, but finally discovered the old one would last a while longer.

Those Waterways Again

Recently a boy named Wazinak residing in Centralville lost his life in the Merrimack off Front street while playing ball in the vicinity and his father Stanislaus Wazinak has brought suit through Jackson Palmer, with the city as the defendant. This is the second case of this kind pending while the city already has been stung for a goodly amount in the similar case of Marion Andrews. Mr. Palmer has sent out the following letter to every church and labor union in the city:

"Dear Sir:—

"Four years ago, Harry W. J. Howe called to the attention of the city government the dangerous condition of the open waterways of Lowell. Annually he has repeated his public call.

"Since then sixty children have been drowned in the city limits.

"Early this summer Mr. Howe brought the matter again to the city council. Nothing has been done after a hearing until the newspapers published the story of another death, when a view was taken by representatives of the government. No active step has been taken to safeguard the children from the menace of the canals and rivers. More drowings will occur until the traps are fenced.

"It is the duty of our city to protect the children. And the city can do much without any expense to the taxpayers; the abutting owners can be compelled to enclose every foot of open waterways dangerous to child life. The cost will fall upon those who have a financial interest in these death traps.

"Will you not make a personal effort to see every commissioner and use your influence to force the city council to invoke the law provided for this situation? Will you not do your part to prevent a repetition of the history of the past twenty-five years, a period marked by the graves of over three hundred innocent children?"

Over two months ago the Trades and Labor Council appealed to the municipal council to spend a few dollars toward safeguarding the lives of children, but nothing has been done. The municipal council has money galore for other purposes but none for the protection of child life.

Since the above was written one more life was lost, last night.

As a result of the recent agitation the Locks & Canals company is now building a fence along Front street for several hundred feet. The fence consists of a top rail about four feet from the ground and one parallel narrow board through the centre. Judging from the nature of the fence, the Locks & Canals may have its own protection from the law uppermost in its official mind rather than protection of the children. The fence now being built will protect a horse or cow or even perhaps an elephant from going over the edge at this point, but it is a matter of great doubt as to the protection it will afford to small children. But the city hasn't even put up a "near" fence at any point.

Belvidere Residents Are Wondering

In Thursday's Sun a statement appeared from Commissioner Morse relative to the large amount of street work that he did last year and that he is doing this year. Mr. Morse said: "I did more work last year than was ever done before in one year and I intend to do more work this year than was done last year."

"But," says a resident of Belvidere, commenting upon the statement, "he said last year that he would put Gorham street to the iron but he stopped at the Maple, and he said he'd finish Westford street and he failed to do so. What is he going to do with Rogers and Nesmith streets? They've been eight weeks or more fixing a wall over there and the way they are going doesn't look well for the completion of the two jobs before the cold weather. Instead of fixing up streets in the outskirts, why doesn't he give his attention to completing the big jobs? There's been a fine street put in somewhere in the vicinity of the Mt. Pleasant golf links that wasn't needed as a public improvement, while other and more frequently traveled streets are still in an unsafe condition. It's all right to spend a lot of money on street work and give a lot of men work, but why not spend it where it will do the most good?"

It is no ordinary job to widen a street like Rogers street, and perhaps the commissioner is going along as rapidly as possible, and the kicker may be unnecessarily worried. Time will tell.

It is true that the commissioner has been doing a great amount of street work and for the best of reasons; he has been given the money with which to do it.

But the city pavers have had only 22 days work this year, for which the weather was partly responsible.

Just for Appearance's Sake

Even if the charter is only a scrap of paper in the opinion of some city officials, and needs not be taken seriously, for appearance's sake, it would be much better for them if they do any business with the city either to comply with it or to use somebody's name rather than their own, for it would look bad to see the name of a paid official of the city in the monthly financial report as one of the city's creditors, especially when section 36 of the city charter reads: "It shall be unlawful for a member of the municipal council or school committee, or any officer or employe of the city, directly or indirectly, to make a contract with the city or to receive any commission, discount, bonus, gift, contribution or reward from, or any share in the profits of any person or corporation making or performing such a contract, unless such member, officer or employe immediately upon learning of the existence of such contract, or that such contract is proposed, shall notify in writing the municipal council or school committee of such contract and shall abstain from doing any official act on behalf of the city in reference thereto. In case such interest exists on the part of an officer whose duty it is to make such a contract on behalf of the city, the contract may be made by another officer of the city duly authorized thereto by the mayor, or if the mayor has such interest by the commissioner of finance."

On Trust Funds

The action of the municipal government last year in attempting to take the city's trust funds to use for current expenses is recalled by the following statement of the experts from Chief Gettemy's office, who audited the accounts at city hall:

"The practice of accepting trust funds and immediately using the principal for some municipal purpose, expecting posterity forever to contribute by taxation the money to meet an interest charge on account of the same, is so far removed from business principles that the average citizen cannot comprehend it; in fact, the exposure of these practices by special reports by the bureau of statistics and by a recess committee of the legislature was so convincing that the great and general court immediately placed upon the statute books a law which required that all such funds should be restored in 1914 and that no future fund should be invested in other than securities in which savings banks can invest.

I was informed that the city could not, acting under good legal advice, restore these funds by the incurrence of debt under the provisions of this act. If that be true, there is no reasonable excuse for the cities not seeking special legislation which will permit the restoration of these funds in a reasonable period of time."

It will be recalled that the municipal council proposed to withdraw the trust funds which were drawing interest from the banks and make use of them paying interest on them out of the tax levy. Thus the city not only would be losing the interest that had come from outside sources but would have to pay out of the treasury more than the amount already lost to supply the loss itself. It surely was fine business. But since then we have had them building a bridge and now they're at it again on a high school.

Putting Through Porter Street

The former administration appropriated money for the extension of Porter street and went out of office before the work had been accomplished. The incoming government, of which three members, the mayor and Commissioners Carmichael and Morse, are still in office, sat down hard on the proposition, as in its opinion the city could not afford the improvement, and Porter street was not extended. A few days ago the municipal council voted to extend Porter street, without comment or objection. The extension of that street was as necessary over a year ago as it is today; money is no more plentiful today than it was at that time. The only difference is that over one year ago the new government was trying to make a favorable impression by undoing certain acts of its predecessors, while now the time to go before the public for re-election is about due and all improvements that mean votes are to be looked upon with favor, especially by those who are to come up for re-election.

How About Springfield?

Having enlightened us upon about every other public institution in the city of Springfield, the mayor should tell the public how Springfield has handled the question of having a contagious disease hospital. Perhaps Springfield hasn't any at all, which may account for the mayor's apparent disinclination to do anything toward having one in Lowell. Or mayhap Springfield has gotten around the law, for the state board of health doesn't appear to be after that city in regard to that matter as it is after Lowell. This may account for an apparent attempt to get around the law in Lowell by purchasing a lot of land to be known as a "site" for the hospital, allowing some future government to fight it out with the state authorities. That was pretty good dope sent out from city hall, a few days ago, to the effect that a site had been looked at in Chelmsford, which, of course, had a legal objection attached to it. In a short time we may expect to learn of other sites that have been inspected, each having some feature that makes it unavailable, and finally they'll go back to Pawtucketville where the sewer that nobody wanted was put in a year ago, and it will be found that as a result of the construction of that sewer a fine site is available in that locality.

Cost of Freshet

A man who professes to know, states that this freshet which has made the river run riot will cost the Locks & Canals company from $3000 to $5000 to repair the damage done at the dam over Pawtucket falls, while the company will lose about $75,000 in water, as the uninterrupted flow since the dam gave way means a constant drain on the source of the river at Winnepesaukee. Is it any wonder, then, that the Locks & Canals company is fussy about the kind of bridge that the city would build at Pawtucket falls? And if the force of the water could dislodge tons of stone dowelled together and standing firm for years, what might it have done to Commissioner Morse and his valiant ledge removers and their machinery had the street department been at work in the bed of the river, as the commissioner proposed should be done, a few days before the trouble came.

Milady's Boudoir

Caring For the Hair

It is a mistake to suppose that the hair is annually shed as birds molt their plumage and some animals change their coats. Human hair is perennial, and if its owner escapes illness and takes proper care of her "crown of glory" it will retain its vigor until late in life.

Winter is hard on the hair, as it is on the complexion, and while the hair grows at the rate of five or six inches a year, this growth is mostly in the summer.

While the condition of the hair is largely a matter of physical health yet certain characteristics result from fastidious care. Unkempt, rough, lusterless, split hair is always the death knell to its attractiveness. The hair should be carefully brushed every night. Brilliantines and modern preparations for causing the hair to curl should be avoided as much as possible.

By keeping up a good health standard, the general splendor of the hair will be improved. Good blood is the best asset toward lustrous tresses.

BUILDING AND REALTY

U. S. Bunting Company Plans New Structure—Permits Issued —Real Estate Transactions

There has been a slight increase in the number of building permits issued this week as compared to that of last week. A week ago the number dropped noticeably, but judging from the list of permits for new buildings at city hall the situation has become brisker. One of the most important of the new developments in the building field is the erection of a new building for the United States Bunting company which will be used for mill purposes. This building will be one story in height, the walls of which will be of solid brick. The size of the building will be 30 by 20 feet and 76 feet deep, with gravel roof, and will have a cement foundation. The estimated cost of this structure is $1500.

Arthur Genest, 111 Gershom avenue, is erecting four buildings, each of which is a two-family apartment house, 5 rooms, pantry and bath. The buildings are of wood, two and one-half stories high and measure 24 by 50 ft. The estimated cost of each of these dwellings is $2500. The locations of these new buildings are: 73-75 Viola street, 77-79 Viola street, 83-85 Viola street, and 92-94 Forrest street.

Narcisse Clement is making an addition for a piazza on his house located at 179 Ludlam street. The purpose of this alteration is to make over one story piazza by adding a second story.

Aaron J. Second, 52 Bellevue street, is building a one-family dwelling on lot 2a Bellevue street extension. The building will comprise 6 rooms, pantry and bath and sleeping porch and will measure 26 by 26 feet. The cost of this edifice will be in the neighborhood of $2500.

Michael Doyle is converting his building at 63-65 Andrews street into a three-story dwelling with a flat roof. He will add two more entrances to the two already there. The expense of these alterations will come to $1600.

Theophile H. Brassard, 68 Mt. Hope street is widening his garage five feet at the cost of $2500.

A one story wood dwelling will be built at 29 Putnam avenue for Chas. P. Witham. This building will be 20 by 30 feet and will have a stone foundation and will be of 7 rooms, pantry and bath. The cost of this house is $2400.

Frank McMaster is building a storage shed, 9 by 11 feet at 89-91 Viola street at a cost of $25.

Joseph Sternberg will rebuild the fire escape on the outside of his house at 194 Howard street and will also enlarge the piazza. This work will cost $75.

A garage, 15 by 15 feet, concrete foundation will be built for Gabriel Kallan in the rear of his home, 714 Gorham street. The cost is $100.

Harry B. Condrey, 11 Midland street, is building a garage of concrete blocks, with a concrete foundation in the rear of his home. The fireproof garage will cost $200.

REAL ESTATE DEALERS

Sales by Byam Bros.

Byam Bros., real estate brokers, with offices at 97 Central street, report the following sales for the week ending July 16, 1915:

Contracts have been closed calling for the transfer of a very choice suburban property within four miles of Lowell. The property is situated on a main road, comprises 12 acres of excellent heavy land set out to fruit and fine set of buildings. The house has nine large, sunny rooms, bath, hot and cold water, furnace heat. In front of the house is a beautiful lawn set out to shrubs and flower beds. There is a large barn, shed and garage, all in A1 condition. The purchaser is a local party who buys for a home. Full details will be given at a later date.

Contracts have also been closed on a first class milk route in one of the best sections of the city. Both of the contracting parties are local people.

Contract by Geo. A. Hill

Geo. A. Hill, the electrical contractor, is wiring six new houses on Mansur and Wyman streets for E. A. Simpson. He is wiring five new houses on Dumerle street for H. B. Greene, a house on Andover street for John A. Nelson, and one for Hugh Mellen, a new house on East Merrimack street for Harriet R. Cole; one on Parkview avenue for Ed. A. Teague, a house on Highland avenue for Wm. W. Myers, a two-apartment house on Rea street for F. A. Major and many others. Mr. Hill quotes wholesale prices to the retail trade and endeavors to use all his customers on the square, believing that satisfied customers mean success.

NEW TENANT IN SUN BUILDING

Miss Carol F. Heath, Interior Decorator, Now Occupies Room 612—Graduate of Rogers Hall School

Miss Carol F. Heath now has her offices in The Sun building, room 612. To say merely that Miss Heath is an interior decorator might be a little misleading, for the scope of her work is quite varied and consists chiefly in making the home beautiful. She gives her attention to the color scheme of each room of the house which she is decorating, choosing suitable colors that a harmonious whole is secured. Work of this nature requires painstaking care of details and none but one especially gifted for such a calling can produce artistic results. After the color scheme has been decided proper and fitting, furniture, draperies, wood finish, etc., occupies the attention of the artist. This is a problem which always confronts those about to furnish a home. Miss Heath in her advisory capacity relieves them of this burden, using her own judgment borne of extensive study. Those who are either contemplating furnishing their homes or making alterations will find Miss Heath of great assistance. They may seek her advice only or if they prefer she will undertake the entire work, the customer signifying the amount he wishes to expend. Miss Heath will plan accordingly and show what beautiful results can be produced at the given figure. One will find it advantageous to have her undertake the whole work because of her knowledge and also because of the fact that she can buy at some of the best wholesale houses and get the very latest in furnishings. Another feature of Miss Heath's work is decorating for special events such as parties, weddings, etc. In these decorations everything is novel and attractive.

Miss Heath is well known in Lowell, having lived here during the last 12 years, with the exception of the time spent in study under the famous decorator, Alexander Barroggio, at the Pratt Institute of New York, from which she graduated with high honors. She is also a graduate of Rogers Hall school. Since her occupancy of room 612 in The Sun building, many Lowell people have availed themselves of her services, including many who of necessity went to Boston for interior decoration work.

MODEL BRICK HOUSE

One of the features of special interest to the builder at the Panama-Pacific international exposition at San Francisco is the model residence put up by the Panama-Pacific Clay Products association. We understand that the object of the building is to create a greater interest in the use of brick and other burned clay materials that enter into residence construction. It is a typical American dwelling, intended especially for the family of moderate income, the cost of erection in 50 or more different American cities having been estimated to be in the neighborhood of $5000. The house will be open to inspection during the entire period of the exposition, and will doubtless be visited by thousands of prospective home builders, who will carry away the lessons taught by its clever planning and sane construction to reflect them in countless numbers of the smaller cities and towns.

THE DOOR HANGER

To produce a door hanger which will at all times and under all circumstances operate easily, almost all kinds of bearings have been used, from the older type anti-friction bearing to roller brass bushed and ball-bearings. Considering the fact that a house door hanger is probably never oiled or greased after the door is hung, it will be seen that one of the essentials on this line is to produce a bearing which will stand up under continuous service without appreciable wear which might increase the friction or destroy the alignment of the bearing members. Arguments could, of course, be offered in favor of all the different types of bearings, but their relative value depends as much upon the details of design and careful workmanship as upon the type of bearing itself. For instance, all manner of ball bearings are produced, but the greatest efficiency and longest service comes from hangers in which all the parts of the bearings are accurately formed and hardened and in which all the balls are of uniform diameter.

The best house door hangers are built largely of steel and are so constructed that the wheels cannot jump the track. By providing a slightly flexible centre hung pendant connection, the load is at all times equally distributed over all the wheels. Another feature which adds to the durability of the hangers, is the enclosed or box-shaped trolley track which protects the bearings from dust and grit and also prevents falling plaster from damaging or obstructing the runways or interfering with the operation of the hanger. Provision is also made for removing the track from the partition without damaging the walls.

Adjustment in both hanger and track is very essential to perfect operation. These adjustments are all accessible from the opening. Vertical adjustment in the hanger provides for proper clearance between the bottom of the door and the floor, while adjustment in the track permits the door to slide parallel with the floor, to overcome any possible errors in erecting the track or changes in alignment due to settling of the building or other causes.

DESIGN FOR FAMILY LIVING ROOM

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH

INTERIOR VIEW—LIVING ROOM

The architectural merit of the living room is apparent at a glance. Note the windows on one side, the cozy fireplace and the sun room beyond connected with French doors. This room only carries out the general attractiveness portrayed by the exterior, which is a fine example of rough cast and brick combination. The rough cast is dark gray, and the white trim with the brick at the base give a very pleasing and substantial appearance. The size of this house is 32 feet wide by 30 feet deep over the main part. First story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet. Finish red oak throughout first story, with oak floors; pine to paint throughout second story. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $5400.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

CANOBIE LAKE PARK

Today will afford the final opportunity to enjoy the extraordinary performance of Marshall Hall's Merrymakers at Canobie Lake park theatre. The theatre will present a banner picture program from 5 to 10 o'clock continuous, introducing many features that are not to be found in the ordinary picture theatre of the cities.

From 3 to 5 o'clock the theatre will be open with free admission and the Lawrence Brass Band will render another of those brilliant concerts to which so many music lovers look forward each coming Sunday. The following program will be offered:

March—"Rock of Agos"
Concert Valse—"Dreaming"
Overture—"Zampa"
Popular Numbers—(a) "My Little Dream Girl"
(b) "Are You the O'Reilly?"
Andante—"Cujus Animan" from Stabat Mater
Allo. Mod.—"Gloria" from Mozart's 12th Mass.
Descriptive—"The Cavalry Charge.
Fantasia—"Nautical"
Popular Medley—"Rialto" Bits of Feist Hits
Selection—"Martha"
Popular Numbers
a "Everybody Rag With Me"
b "When I Was a Dreamer"
c "I'm On My Way to Dublin Bay"
Double Number
a Intermezzo "Cavalleria Rusticana"
b "American Dance"
Finale—"Star Spangled Banner"

Commencing Monday and for the entire week the theatre will present daily matinee and evening performances of pictures and vaudeville, among the many big acts to be included in the bill being The Twelve Daytons, without doubt the biggest and best acrobatic and gymnastic act in vaudeville at the present time.

LAKEVIEW PARK

It is doubtful if a more daring, astounding and spectacular exhibition has ever been seen at Lakeview park than that of the one to be given there next week by the Great Van Norman. Van Norman presents for the approval and thrilling of his audience what is known as a bicycle high dive. Starting forty-five feet above the ground he rides on his bicycle down a narrow incline less than two feet wide and eighty-five feet in length going at a terrific speed. As he nears the foot of the incline there is a slight elevation which throws bicycle rider and all in mid air and as he leaves the incline he dives from the wheel head-foremost into a shallow tank of water. This is without doubt one of the most thrilling and dare-devil feats ever attempted and has been a tremendous drawing attraction at all the big parks and fairs throughout the country.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The fine program at the Merrimack Square theatre is continued today. A new program has been arranged for the big Sunday concert tomorrow afternoon and evening, consisting of some of the very best productions of the best producers. The Merrimack Square theatre is a popular place in this hot weather because of its coolness and excellent ventilation. Upon entering this theatre one immediately notices how cool and comfortable it is. Today is your last opportunity to take in the powerful, five act Paramount picture, "Kindling" with the capable Charlotte Walker in the leading role. This picture is a clear exposition of the way "the other half of the world" lives—showing the poverty and hardships which exist in the tenement districts of large cities, and of the desperation to which the people living in these districts are driven. The five-act picture, "Officer 666" is of a lighter nature, being a detective comedy acted by a very strong cast. A Burns and Sloll comedy completes the program of the Merrimack Square theatre for today.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"My Best Girl," a five act Metro picture, made from the play of the same name by Rennold Wolf and Channing Pollock, will be given its final two presentations at the B. F. Keith theatre this afternoon and evening. Max Figman, the eminent comedian, and Miss Lois Meredith appear in the principal roles of this production. The story, while it is a comedy, is thrilling in certain points. Miss Meredith plays the role of the daughter of an inventor of high explosives. Incidentally, she is engaged to marry a wealthy young collegian, who is noted for his escapades. One of these causes an estrangement. Figman offers a chauffeur $500 to take his place. The chauffeur agrees, and all goes well with him. But Figman soon learns that the chauffeur is a deserter from the army. Figman is arrested, taken back to the army post and set at hard labor. But for the fact that the colonel commanding at the post recognizes him, his course would be a hard one, indeed. He is discharged and then is reconciled to the girl he loved. The Chaplin picture is called "Dough and Dynamite." It is full of fun. Tomorrow afternoon and evening special pictures will be shown, while on the first three days of next week the Vitagraph blue ribbon feature, "The Juggernaut," will be the feature.

PLAYED TO A TIE SCORE

RAIN ENDED LOWELL AND MANCHESTER GAME YESTERDAY IN SEVENTH WITH SCORE 3 TO 2

(Special to The Sun)

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 17.—Again the weather man had the laugh on the baseball fans, and his actions yesterday were the meanest displayed since the opening of the season. It poured for an hour preceding the game, then brightened up nicely and the fans hiked out to the ball yard. Lowell and Manchester hooked up for battle, and with it tied up at three all, the downpour was turned loose a second time, causing Umpire Bransfield to call the game.

This is the second time that Lowell has played to a tie here, and, as on the former occasion, Zeke Lohman was the unlucky pitcher. On the morning of Independence day Lohman hooked up with Hank Horsey, and in the seventh the rain came down, putting off the battle. Smith was Lohman's opponent yesterday, but the rain charm worked again and in the seventh.

Yesterday's was the tenth game of the season between these clubs, and Lowell has yet to annex a victory. Two tie games have now been staged. It looked very much as if the Spindles were going to chase the jinx, when in that first inning they fell on Smith hard and pushed three runs over the plate. The southpaw helped the cause along considerably by coming through with two passes. But for a rattling double play, Spires to Kilhullen, there's no telling what would have happened. It's likely the Lowell stickers would have still been enjoying that first inning when the downpour came. After his bad start, Smith steadied down and pitched fine ball.

Swayne opened the contest with a single to right and the visitors were off to a three-run start. Fahey was safe when Snell dropped the throw. Estes walked, and the sacks were filled. Barrows sent a long fly to left, which O'Connor misjudged, the hit going for two sacks, Swayne and Fahey scoring. Estes took third on the hit. Greenhalge walked, and again the corners were occupied. Bowcock hit by Torphy, Estes scoring, and the bags still filled up. Dee sent a grounder to Spires, who stepped on the third bag, forcing Greenhalge and pegged to Kilhullen, killing off Barrows at the plate. Ahearn sent a grounder to McGeehan, who tossed to Torphy, forcing Dee.

It was one, two, three for Lowell in the second. In the third Barrows got his second double, with one down, but remained at second while Greenhalge and Bowcock went out on infield taps.

Dee opened the third with a single to centre. Ahearn fouled out to Kilhullen. Lohman hit to Spires, who retired the hitter at first and Snell's return, taken by Torphy, nipped Dee going into third. Thereafter the visitors were never dangerous.

Kane gave the Textiles the proper start, by sending a ringing single to left. Spires flied out to Swayne. McGeehan hit to Fahey and Kane was forced at second. Snell was third out on a fly to Barrows.

The second, third and fourth were uneventful for the locals.

In the fifth the Textiles got hitting as they have seldom hit to date. Torphy opened up with a single to right centre. Kilhullen followed with a line drive to right. Smith produced the needed bunt to advance both runners, he going out Fahey to Estes. Kane was a victim on strikes for the second time. Danny McGeehan then drove the ball to the left fence for two bases, scoring Torphy and Kilhullen. Spires shot a single to centre and McGeehan went over with the tieing tally. Snell forced out Fahey.

The Textiles had a grand opportunity to win in the seventh, having men on second and third and but one down, but the needed bingle was not forthcoming.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Big Ed Walsh "came back" yesterday when he pitched Chicago a victory over Philadelphia 6 to 2. Holding the Athletics to six hits, passing only three men, and striking out five, the big pitcher looked like the Walsh of old, though some critics thought he lacked much of the speed he used to show. He was the hero of an ovation from the time he took his place on the slab to the end of the game when cheering admirers carried him off the field.

President Tener of the National league last night said that he found nothing to substantiate the published reports that Captain Evers of the Boston Braves had charged that the National league race had been "fixed." Mr. Tener, with Secretary Heydler of the National league, stopped over in Boston yesterday on his way to Salisbury beach for the week-end. He witnessed yesterday's game in which the Braves defeated Pittsburgh and moved out of last place and then conferred with Manager Stallings of the Boston club and Captain Evers. At the conclusion of the conference President Tener made the following statement:

"My attention was attracted to an alleged statement by Captain Evers during the game between Boston and St. Louis here on Monday that the game had been 'fixed' and on account of the great publicity which this statement was given, I decided to make inquiries on a visit here today. Neither Umpire Rigler nor Hart report to me that Evers said they had been instructed to give St. Louis the benefit of close decisions in order to make the race close. There were no charges made against Evers to me.

"Captain Evers says many things on the ball field in the heat of the contest that he does not mean and that he should not say, but he has never done anything to bring discredit upon the game and all his life he has been a great credit to the sport.

"Baseball is so firmly established that no one except some person wholly ignorant or with a corrupt mind would credit any such statement as was alleged to have been made by Evers.

"Captain Evers denied having meant any such thing as was attributed to him in the published article."

Eddie Murphy, an outfielder was purchased by the White Sox from Philadelphia yesterday and will join the team without delay.

The announcement from Lawrence this forenoon to the effect that Thompson and Fuller had quit the Lawrence team caused much talk by the fans who read the news on The Sun bulletin. Harry Thompson is the hard-hitting pitcher who defeated Lowell the other day and who has been doing more work for his team than the average pitcher is called upon to do, being played in the field when not on the mound, on account of his ability to bat. He was a good hard worker. We don't know how much he was getting for his services but he deserved well of his employers. Soldier Fuller was another stumbly of the team. Robbed of the services of Thompson and Fuller Lawrence is in a bad way at a bad time. If it has aspirations for another pennant. Just what Thompson and Fuller are going to do is at present not known. They can't play in any team that works under the national agreement, but then there is the Federal league, that new-found Mecca of all discontented organized ball players. It is not unlikely that both will catch on with the Feds, if an amicable settlement with Lawrence is not effected.

When Walter Monohan, Jess Willard's partner, came out from the darkness Friday night, to be introduced, a fan sitting near me cried out: "Hully, gee, look at Paddy Green. What's he doing in there?" Paddy is a pretty husky youth, but Jess' partner is a young giant.

At the Y. M. C. A. tonight as was mentioned before Manager Kelchner will talk to the boys on the noble game of baseball.

We're back again in last place as the result of Fitchburg and Lewiston each shutting out one of the leaders, but it will not be for long. We're bound to come up from now on.

For a player who received so much adverse criticism Howard Fahey has proved to be dead game. While the critics were justified in their comments at the time Howard instead of losing heart or getting sore-headed simply settled down and produced the goods and now those who criticized him most severely are loud in their praises of his good work, which we all hope he'll keep up.

RESOLUTE AND VANITIE

NEW YORK, July 17.—The yachts Resolute and Vanitie, rivals for the honor of defending America's cup, returned to Long Island Sound today to take part in the opening race of the Larchmont Yacht club's regatta. The racing will continue for several days.

BIG LEAGUE CAREER OF PITCHER RUSSELL FORD NOW AT AN END

RUSSELL FORD

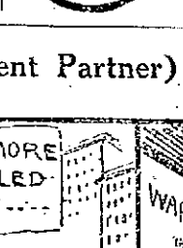

When Russell Ford received his unconditional release from the Buffalo Feds his career as a star pitcher probably came to an end. Ford's contract called for more than $6000 in salary, but it contained the "nefarious" ten days' clause notice which the Feds during the hearing before Judge Landis declared was illegal and oppressive. Ford's best season was in 1910 with the Yankees. His remarkable effectiveness helped to land the team, then managed by Stallings, in second place. Before 1911 opened Ford held up the New York Americans for $5000, which he received annually until he jumped to the Buffalo Feds last year. It is believed that Ford was discharged by the Buffeds to reduce expenses. Some time ago there was evidence that the club wanted to economize when an offer was made to sell Hal Chase to the Newark Feds for $10,000.

THE LEADING BATTERS

DOYLE OF GIANTS JUMPS TO SECOND PLACE—COBB STILL LEADS AMERICAN LEAGUE

CHICAGO, July 17.—Capt. Larry Doyle of the Giants has attained second place among the batters of the National league. His average of .325 credited to him in averages published here today puts him right on the heels of the league leader, Daubert of Brooklyn, whose percentage is .336. Next to these two the leading batters who have played in at least half of the games are: Groh, Cincinnati, .321; Lauderus, Philadelphia, .320; Robertson, New York, and Craveth, Philadelphia, tied with .301; Whitted, Philadelphia, .300; Wade Killifer, Cincinnati, .295; Saier, Chicago and Wilson, St. Louis, tied with .293.

New York leads in club batting with .258 and Chicago is next with .256.

WORLD'S RECORD

Taber Runs the Fastest Mile Ever in 4 Mins., 12 3-5 Seconds

BOSTON, July 17.—When the athletic history of this period is written, the names of Norman S. Taber and Billy Meanix of the B. A. A. track team will be prominent for the great feats they accomplished on the Harvard stadium yesterday afternoon.

Taber not only lowered the world's amateur record of 4m. 14 2-5s. for the mile, made by John Paul Jones on the same track in 1913, but he also lowered the world's professional record of 4m 12⅘s, made by W. G. George, the great English runner, at Lillieburge, Eng., in 1886. Taber covered the distance in 4m. 12 3-5s.

Meanix created a new record for the 440-yard (three-foot) hurdles, 10 flights, by doing the timber-topping in 54 2-5s. The old record was 56 4-5s., made by G. L. Anderson, the great English hurdler, in England in 1910.

Saier leads in stolen bases with 21; in total bases with 152 and in runs scored with 50. Cravath has most home runs—13.

Leading National league pitchers who have acquired .600 averages in 15 or more games are: Pierce, Chicago, won nine and lost one; Alexander, Philadelphia, 17 and 5; Mamaux, Pittsburgh, 13 and 4; Dale, Cincinnati, 10 and 5; Mayer, Philadelphia, 13 and 7; Meadows, St. Louis, 8 and 5; Pfeffer, Brooklyn, 8 and 5; Dell, Brooklyn, 9 and 6.

Alexander has 138 strike-outs to his credit.

In the American league shrdlu

In the American league Cobb has increased his batting average to .401 and still leads in stolen bases with 50 runs scored with 90. Crawford, Detroit, has most total bases, 169, and Caldwell, Boone and Peckinpaugh of New York; Oldring, Philadelphia, and Kavanaugh of Detroit, are tied for home run honors at four year. Following Cobb are Crawford, Detroit, .316; E. Collins, Chicago, .341; Jackson, Cleveland, .333; Fournier, Chicago, .325; Veach, Detroit, .321; Maisel, New York, .316; Strunk, Philadelphia, .314; Speaker, Boston and Lajoie, Philadelphia, tied with .311.

Jim Scott has wrested the pitching leadership from Faber, his team-mate. The "600 pitchers" of the American league are Scott, Chicago, Chicago, won 13 and lost 3; Faber, Chicago, 16 and 5; Foster, Boston, 10 and 4; Bauss, Detroit, 13 and 7; Fisher, New York, 11 and 6; Shore, Boston, 7 and 4; Benz, Chicago, 7 and 4; Gallia, Washington, 8 and 5; Ruth, Boston, 8 and 5; Coveleskie, Detroit, 11 and 7; Johnson, Washington, 12 and 8; Caldwell, New York, 12 and 8; Boland, Detroit, 5 and 1.

Chicago and Detroit are tied in club batting with .269 for first honors.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Gilbert Gallant of Chelsea will be Matty Baldwin's opponent next Tuesday evening at the Atlas A. A. of Boston. Gallant and Matty have met on two occasions before, with Baldwin copping both verdicts. But Gil is not the same boy that opposed Matty in days gone by, and today Gallant is rated as one of the best boxers in the east, while the great battle that Baldwin put up against Willie Ritchie a month ago will go far in proving that Matty is still there. This bout will be for the N. E. championship and a belt will go to the winner. Baldwin won the title from Gallant last year.

Milburn (Young) Saylor surprised the boxing public the other night when he gave Charley White an artistic trimming, only to have the referee call it a draw. If any boxer ever deserved a decision, Saylor was the lad, for he outpointed the Chicago boy in the majority of rounds and the crowd showed its disapproval by catcalls, hisses and other noises. The Saylor admirers carried their hero to his dressing room on their shoulders.

Billy Brooks, the local boxer, is desirous of casting his chapeau into the ring at any time. Billy would like to box Tony Vatlin of Boston, who is soon to forsake the amateur and enter the professional ring. Any other boxer weighing 122 pounds can have action from this local battler.

Kid Thomas, the Lawrence boxer, is now in New York, according to the statement of Gardner Brooks. Brooks says Thomas won his first fight the other night, boxing Kid Henry, a Gotham boy.

Brooklyn N. L. Makes Offer for the Lewiston Outfielder

(Special to The Sun)

FITCHBURG, July 17.—At the conclusion of yesterday's double-headed here between Lewiston and Fitchburg a Brooklyn National league scout approached Manager Arthur Irwin of the Lewiston club with an offer for Martin H. Becker, centre fielder of the Maine team. The offer was not accepted but the scout went back to Brooklyn with Irwin's price and Becker will probably be sold within a few days. It is said that the price offered was $2000.

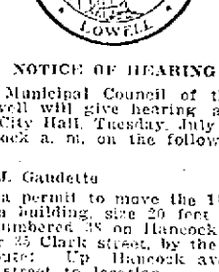

Becker is considered by many to be the fastest man to first base in the New England league. As an outfielder Becker has no superior in the circuit. Last season with New London in the Eastern association (now deceased), the Lewiston centre fielder stole 62 bases. His hitting and base running were reasons why New London won the championship of that circuit.

Becker is only a youngster and hails from Tiffin, Ohio. He first "broke in" in the Michigan State league three years ago. He throws right handed and is a left handed hitter.

PITCHERS QUIT

Thompson and Fuller of Lawrence Team Refuse to Play

LAWRENCE, July 17—Harry Thompson and Wheeler Fuller, pitchers on the local New England league club, refused to accompany the team to Manchester today where a double-header is scheduled, and both announced that they have quit the club. The players made a demand for an increase in salary yesterday, but Owner Sullivan informed them that the club was away behind in its finances because of weather conditions and he could not afford to grant an increase. Fuller and Thompson are two of the leading pitchers in the league and their work has been instrumental in keeping Lawrence in the lead this year.

NOTICE OF HEARING

The Municipal Council of the City of Lowell will give hearing at their room, City Hall, Tuesday, July 27th at 11 o'clock a. m. on the following petition:

SAMUELS and SYLENZ (The Silent Partner)

FIND BODY UNDER AUTO

WALTER PAINE, SON OF ROBERT TREAT PAINE, 2D, KILLED DURING NIGHT

BEVERLY, July 17.—Walter Paine, a son of Robert Treat Paine 2d, of Boston and Magnolia, was killed in an automobile accident at East Wenham during the night. His body was found under his overturned car early today by two local marketmen on their way to Gloucester.

The cause of the accident could not be determined, as Paine was alone in the car and so far as known there were no witnesses. A superficial examination indicated that when the machine overturned the steering wheel of the automobile pinned the young man by the neck, choking him to death.

Paine was 25 years of age and a graduate of Harvard in the class of 1914.

CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS

PATROLMAN COONEY INVESTIGATED A BREAK AND SEIZED LOAD OF TINWARE

Patrolman Albert Cooney, who is to be married on Monday afternoon, observed his last evening on duty Thursday before the happy event, by investigating a most unusual burglary at the corner of Church and Lawrence streets, with most satisfactory results.

As Mr. Cooney was passing in his duty call at 11 o'clock he was approached by a woman who informed him that the store of the Church St. Employment Agency at the corner of Lawrence and Church streets had been "entered," and the patrolman promptly not-footed for the scene of the "break."

Upon arriving there he found the place in darkness but the front door partially opened. Producing his search light he proceeded cautiously into the store, and as he entered he was greeted by a most unearthly chorus of unseemly noises and then the lights went on and he found that the noises had been made by several ladies and gentlemen who were idle on his route, in front of a varied collection of tinware, each article of which was labelled with his name. He was informed that they would be sent to his future residence, was wished the best of luck and was then told to "beat it" for the next box, which he did. Later on when the night's work was over Patrolman Cooney, who is one of the most popular members of the police department, was tendered a "farewell" reception by his fellow officers which was of a happy if strenuous nature, the affair taking place in the guard room.

COMPANY M, NINTH REGT.

IT WILL LEAVE FOR CAMP AT SANDWICH TOMORROW MORNING —LT. CHRISTIAN IN COMMAND

The "boys" of Company M, Ninth regiment, M. V. M., were busy today getting their equipment in shape for the annual encampment which will be held at Sandwich, Mass., during next week. Everything is now in readiness and it is believed this year's field manuevers will be the best yet. The roster is the largest for years, all the men being in the best of condition. The company has no captain owing to the resignation of Capt. Philip McNulty, who retired with the rank of major, but Lieut. D. M. Christian will be in command.

According to present arrangements, the Lawrence company of the Ninth regiment will hike to Lowell tomorrow morning, arriving here in time to board the 8.40 o'clock train with the members of Company M. The six boxes from the Lawrence Battalion, Ninth regiment will also be entrained here. The train will strike South Framingham at 10 o'clock and there the other companies of the regiment will join them. It is believed Sandwich will be reached at 1.30 p. m.

The men will remain at camp all week, doing field manoeuvers during the day, while entertainment programs will be carried out in the evenings. The military side of camp life will consist of the regular drills, trench digging and tactical walks with the possibility of a sham battle between the three company battalions the latter part of the week.

The compact baggage allowance has been cut down to include only the following articles: One field range, three boxes measuring not over 36x18x18; one latrain seat; one bundle of tools; three bedding rolls for officers and one small table. An innovation at the camp this year will be the cooking department which will do its own baking for the first time, the field stoves having a capacity of 120 loaves of bread in one baking.

The roster of Company M as it will leave for camp tomorrow is as follows: Lieut. D. M. Christian and Lieut. Paul Kittredge, Sergts. Arthur P. Morris, John M. Cooney, James J. Gleason, Daniel P. Brennan, Wm. C. Kirk and Emil F. Erickson, Corps. Joseph C. Sibley, John J. Burbey, Napoleon Grandchamp, John J. Wallace, Paul Sullane and Russell E. Smith; Cooks George A. Frenette and Arthur Brown; Musicians Fred F. Callahan and Thos. J. Burke; Artificer Fred Nichols, and Privates John A. Benson, Fred D. Brickford, James E. Burns, Wm. F. Brown, Norman L. Bowden, Wm. E. Coleman, James W. Conley, Ezra J. Cushing, James F. Delehanty, Joseph H. Dangerfield, Dolphus Ferocler, Wm. P. Emmonds, Wesley W. Hand, Harry N. Johnson, J. F. M. Kenney, Edward Kelley, Edward L. Kelley, Rosario LeBlue, Louis J. LeNoire, John J. Mangan, Thomas McDermott, P. J. McDermott, John McDermott, Michael J. McDermott, Charles McDermott, Michael F. Mitchell, Alder Marr, Wm. F. Meehan, J. H. Meshane, Wm. P. Mulholland, George W. Nelson, Ira E. Osgood, Louis Perry, Frederick Ryan, John Sheridan, Joseph S. Souza, John J. Slattery, John Thyne, Raymond A. Thissell, Albert E. Wahlevern and James W. Lyman.

COLONIAL WOOL AUCTIONS

LONDON, July 17.—The selling brokers committee yesterday decided that the present series of colonial wool auctions, owing to the difficulty in getting wool from the available warehouses, shall close July 24 until August 5. The buyers strongly opposed the closing of the series and will hold a meeting next week to decide what course of action they should pursue.

BATTERY C WON TROPHY

COMPANY THAT APPEARED IN PARADE HERE DISTINGUISHED ITSELF IN PENNSYLVANIA

The members of Battery C, 1st Battalion, Field Artillery, which is stationed at the Methuen state armory and which has some twenty Lowell men in its ranks, again distinguished itself at the annual encampment by winning for the second time what is known as the Knox trophy. The men who were in camp during the past twelve days, returned yesterday, coming through Lowell shortly before ten o'clock. They road to their headquarters by electric cars and thence to their homes.

Battery C left the armory in Methuen on July 6, part of the battery known as the Lowell section having encamped in Lowell at Fort Hill park on the Sunday and Monday previous. This section fired the salutes on July 5th and later took part in the big parade, being one of the foremost attractions of the first division.

SUMNER H. NEEDHAM

The battery arrived at Tobyhanna, Pa., the camping grounds the following day and set right down to business. The battery was composed of 126 men, who brought along just their personal equipment, the horses and guns being supplied by the government on the camping grounds. The battery soon mixed it with the other batteries from all over New England, which comprised about 500 men.

The remainder of the first week and the first two days of the other were devoted to battery drilling. On the Wednesday following a hike was undertaken and the men returned to their camp yesterday afternoon after covering a distance of about 50 miles through the mountains. On last Sunday the contest for the Knox trophy was held, each battery picking out its best section. The contest lasted all day. It consisted of quick hitching, quick firing, gun drill, shelter tent drill and actual firing on range. The section of Battery C came out victorious, winning the trophy for the second time, for they won it last year, this being the first time the trophy was captured by a Massachusetts battery.

When the Methuen battery struck camp the Massachusetts Hospital and Ambulance corps was just retiring, while next week the grounds will be taken up by the Tennessee and Louisiana hospital and ambulance corps. The grounds are ideal for camping purposes, for there are numerous natural trenches, the locality being very mountainous.

The officers of Battery C are as follows:

Capt., Frederick D. Howe; First Lieut., George McLane; First Lieut., Walkins M. Roberts; Second Lieut., Sumner H. Needham and Second Lieut., Roy Daniels. The Lowell men who were at camp were as follows:

Lieut., Sumner H. Needham; Sergt., Edward Watts, Corp.; William Soucy, Corp., Geoge Elmsley; Privates, Thomas J. Doyle, Donald McRitchie, Fred Downing, George Gardner, William H. Cronshaw, Joseph J. Devine, William Shea, Frank Rourke, Georgo W. Trott and Cyrus Woodman.

The Knox trophy won by the battery will remain in the possession of this company until another battery is clever enough to win it away from them. It was donated by the Sons of the American revolution with the understanding that it is to be competed for every year.

LOWELL GUILD REPORT

JUNE SHOWS LARGEST INCREASE IN WORK—EXTRA NURSE FOR BABY WELFARE

The monthly report of the Lowell Guild for June shows the largest increase in the work of any month during the year. The total number of visits made by the Metropolitan policy holders was 445, a gain of 223 over June of last year. The total number of regular visits was 505, making the total number of visits for the month 950.

The services of the district nurses are available for those needing temporary or daily care, also in assisting doctors in minor operations in the homes. It is the desire of the Guild to be of service to the people of all classes, but the more patients the Guild has who are able to pay the regulation price for a visit the broader and more efficient work the Guild will be able to do.

The number of calls made by the milk station nurse was 146, and the number of babies attending the conferences 56; the number of mothers taught to prepare the milk for their babies at home was 10.

Naturally, during the next two months the demands on the milk station are very heavy, and those interested in baby welfare work are earnestly requested to lend financial assistance. Checks may be sent payable to the Lowell Guild. No matter how small the amount, it will be most gratefully received.

An extra nurse has been engaged for this work during the summer months, and this will enable the nurse to make frequent visits and keep a close watch on the sick babies.

Public health is purchaseable. Within natural conditions a community can determine its own death rate.

BARS SALE OF LIQUOR

Military Governor of Paris Forbids Sale to Soldiers or Officers in the Entrenched Camp of Paris

PARIS, July 17.—Gen. Gallieni, the military governor of Paris, yesterday issued an order forbidding the purchase by or sale to soldiers or officers of whatever grade in the entrenched camp of Paris of any alcoholic liquors whatsoever.

Offenders will be cited to appear before the police courts and military tribunals. Liquor dealers violating this order will be punished by a temporary suspension of their licenses on the first offense and the revocation of their licenses on the second offense.

NOTRE DAME DE BON SECOURS

At a recent meeting of the members of the Notre Dame de Bonsecours association the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Jules Ducharme; vice president, Mrs. C. H. Boisvert; financial secretary, Mrs. Anna de Lamotte; treasurer, Miss Josephine Bussiere; recording secretary, Miss Lydia Belanger; trustees, Mrs. Eugene Desruisseaux, Miss Regina Turcotte, Mrs. Samuel Bernier, Miss Philomene Demers; medical examiner, Dr. J. H. Roy, and chaplain, Rev. Augustin Gratton, O. M. I.

CITY LABORER HURT

Oscar Spaulding, of 775 Central st., employed aes oa oa o employed as a laborer by the city, is at St. John's hospital with a fractured collarbone as a result of being struck by an automobile truck late yesterday afternoon. It is understood that Spaulding was crossing the street and was not aware of the approaching machine until too late to avoid the accident.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

GRACE AT THE EXPOSITION

Once upon a time, as you know, Grace went to the California exposition with her father and mother. Each day they went to the grounds and Grace saw a great many wonderful things. One morning she awoke and found the sun streaming into her window, and as she began to dress, she happily wondered what her father would take her to see that day.

She was soon all dressed and ran in to say "good morning" and to kiss her dear parents. She was delighted when her father told her that this morning they were going to see and hear the biggest organ in the world and that it was so big they had to have it out of doors. This seemed wonderful to think of a church organ outdoors and Grace could hardly wait until it was time to start.

At last they reached the grounds and were near the big organ. How big it did look, with it huge copper pipes that shone in the sun. It seemed to Grace as big as a house and much more beautiful. When it was played it could be heard for a very long way, and Grace told her mother she could understand why it was out of doors for it made so much noise, which made her mother laugh.

They stayed for awhile to hear the singing which they all enjoyed and then started to see some of the other buildings. As they were walking along, just in front of her, Grace saw her little Japanese friend and called out: "Good morning," and the little girl smiled back and said, "good morning," in Japanese, and her father folded his arms and bowed to them very low and solemn.

Grace's father asked the little girl if she would come and have ice cream with them, and as her father seemed to be willing, she did so. After the feast the little girls said good-bye and Grace and her father went to luncheon.

In the afternoon they went to another concert and when Grace went to bed that night, she told her mother she was sure she would dream of music, she had had such a musical day.

ANOTHER BOY DROWNED

Unguarded Canal Claims Another Victim in Michael McLarnon, Aged Nine

Another drowning accident in a local canal occurred last night, when Michael McLarnon, aged 9 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McLarnon of 527 Broadway, lost his life in the Pawtucket canal in the rear of Wilson's coal yard, one of the most dangerous spots of the canal, a place noted for its many drowning accidents, and one of the places recently visited by Mayor Murphy, the chief of police and members of the Trades and Labor council.

It seems that the boy with other companions was playing on the banks of the canal, when suddenly he lost his balance and pitched backward into the water from the stonewall. The other boys shouted for help and Jas. J. Adams, Arthur J. Emond and William Foster, three young men were soon on the scene of the accident. Adams dived into the water but it was some time before he could reach the lad, who had sunk for the last time. He finally succeeded in locating the boy and brought him to the canal banks.

The three young men worked over the boy trying to revive him, but their efforts proved fruitless. In the meantime a hurried call had been sent in for the pulmotor, which arrived shortly after with Dr. M. A. Tighe, but the physician's efforts also proved fruitless for the boy was dead. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Some of the bystanders were inclined to believe the pulmotor was defective, but Dr. Tighe stated the machine operated perfectly. The work of the three young men who attempted to revive the victim was highly commendable for they did all in their power to save the boy's life. Deceased is survived by his parents, two sisters and a brother.

CARGO OF DOUGLAS FIR

STEAMER WILL TRAVEL 10,000 MILES TO GET LUMBER FOR DOCKS

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 17.—In order that the proper kind of lumber for the construction of piers and docks may be available at Port Nelson, where the Canadian government is building a railroad and steamship terminal on the shores of Hudson bay it has been found necessary to send a steamer around the greater part of North America. The steamer Durley Chine which left Vancouver, B. C., June 30, will cover approximately 10,000 miles to land her cargo of Douglas fir at Port Nelson which is only about 1200 miles distant from Vancouver in an air line. Her route lies down the Pacific coast, through the Panama canal, up the Atlantic coast to Newfoundland and thence into Hudson bay.

In preparation for this season's work at Port Nelson, a fleet of steamers is fitting out here. Most of these are sealing vessels, equipped for service in stormy and ice-frequented waters. Some of them will be used directly by the Canadian government for the transport of men, construction material and food supplies. Others are engaged by fur companies for the collection of last winter's accumulation of peltries along the Labrador and Hudson bay coasts.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Commander F. B. Flanders presided at the regular meeting of James A. Garfield, Post 120, G. A. R., held in the regular meeting place on Merrimack street.

Reports of committees were read and much routine business was transacted. General order No. 4 from the state department, Boston, relative to the convention to be held in Washington, D. C., was read. This will be the 49th encampment of the G. A. R. during the week of Sentember 27 to October 2. An invitation from Commander J. H. Caverly, Post 185, G. A. R., to attend the 50th anniversary of his marriage, Aug 2, at the Paige street church at 7 o'clock, was accepted and the post voted to attend in uniform.

Under the good of the order there were remarks by Quartermaster Dickey, S. V. Hunt., Plumstead and Commander J. H. Caverly of Post 185, and others. The next meeting will be on July 24.

AN UP-TO-DATE COTTAGE, HENNERY AND ABOUT 4400 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 80 INLAND STREET

On the premiser, regardless of any weather conditions, I shall offer for absolute sale this attractive little home. The house consists of seven rooms, bath and pantry. On the first floor is a large hallway, parlor with handsome oak mantle, sitting room separated with folding doors, dining room, kitchen, pantry and bath. The next floor has three airy and well lighted chambers, with good closet room. There is a first-class steam plant, open plumbing, vulcan heater, set trays, gas with a lot of nice fixtures, cemented cellar, large veranda, all screened in, and the house is in good condition inside and out.

The lot has a large frontage on Inland street, with an area of about 4400 square feet, all fenced in, nicely graded lawn, concrete walk and concrete all around the house. On the extreme end of the lot there is a hen house and yard all wired, that will accommodate 50 hens, and in the centre of the lot is a 25-foot, iron flag pole.

NOW MR. HOUSESEEKER, here is one of the prettiest little homes in this part of the city, up-to-the-minute in every respect and if it was not for a business change of the present owner it would not be in the market at any price. It is near to two lines of cars, within two minutes' walk to the Washington school, near to church, and several industries, in a quiet neighborhood, excellent location, good surroundings, and where mostly all own their own homes. This property would have to be seen to be appreciated and intending purchasers can see the property Sunday from 2 to 5, Tuesday and Thursday, 2 to 5, and all day on day of sale. From 50 to 70 per cent. can remain on mortgage at 5 per cent.

Terms of sale: $350 must be secured to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

Make all inquiries of the auctioneer who has full charge.

CHARLES F. KEYES, Auctioneer.

THE WILD WEST SHOW

JESSE WILLARD EXHIBITION AS AN AFTER PIECE PROVED A DISAPPOINTMENT

It would not have required a great strength of the imagination for any one of the thousands that attended the performances of the 101 Ranch Wild West show at the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon and evening to fancy that they were actually on a ranch in the western part of the country. The scenes enacted by the cowboys, cowgirls, Indians were well produced and made one feel glad that he did not live in the times that the actual scenes took place.

Outside of the Wild West features, Jess Willard, the heavyweight champion of the world, the fellow who made the dusky, husky Johnson bite the dust, was the big attraction. From the time that he was first introduced in his cowboy costume until he sparred a bit with his trainer, Walter Monahan, he was the cynosure of all eyes and all marveled at the wonderful physique of the man who brought the title back to the white race.

The big show opened with a grand entry of the entire company of cowboys, girls, Indians, Mexicans, Russian Cossacks, etc. The main features of the review were Chief Iron Tail, the Sioux Indian whose profile adorns the new buffalo nickle, Hank Durnell, the champion lariat thrower, Vern Tantlinger, chief of the American cowboys and Jess Willard.

The program included about 20 displays, showing all sorts of wild west life. There were exhibitions of fancy rope throwing, trick riding, the old familiar stage coach holdup, cowboys to the rescue; Indian war dances, Australian boomerang throwing, sharp shooting and a variety of other features that helped keep the spectators interested. The work of Van Tantlinger was very clever and it is little wonder that he was king of the cowboys. He rode his horse in every position imaginable, and mounted and dismounted four different horses in giving a demonstration of carrying United States mail.

A feature that made a big hit with the kiddies and also with the grown ups was the work of three clowns. One was made up as a Dutch cop, another as a rube police officer, while the third took the part of a Hebrew comedian. Their comedy was exceedingly funny and all three were possessed of powerful voices that made their words audible to the crowds.

The bout that followed the main show and in which Jess Willard appeared was a disappointment. In lively action it didn't meet the expectation of the large crowd that paid twenty-five cents extra to see it.

There was a large attendance last last evening.

There was one prisoner released at the police station yesterday through the grace of the big chief rather than Mr. Slattery. The little prisoner cleared from the precincts of the station faster than ever did prisoner before for he actually flew—yes, flew, for it was a real, live, aggressive English sparrow that had entered the chief's private office.

The painted woman reached Merrimack square bright and early this morning. A dainty dash of color, we are willing to admit, improves a girl's looks and perhaps there is no great harm in it. But the trouble is that the drug stores sell the color by the box and the painted lady evidently thinks she has to use the entire box at one application.

Another delightful outing for the children of the Greek summer school, which is being conducted at the Pilgrim mission in Market street, was held yesterday afternoon, the party consisting of 20 boys and girls, being taken to a farm in Rogers street near Spalding park in three automobiles. The affair was conducted by Mrs. Stephen Vaitses and her assistants, and proved very successful. The children were entertained with outdoor games and refreshments were served.

SHELLS FOR THE ALLIES

NEW AMERICAN AMMUNITION COMPANY GETS A $10,000,000 CONTRACT

NEW YORK, July 17.—Most of the leading typewriter and adding machine companies in the east and middle west, it was stated today, have formed a new corporation under the title of the American Ammunition Co. to take up contracts for the manufacture of fuses for high explosive and shrapnel shells for the English, French and Russian governments.

The shell commission of the militia department of the Canadian government, acting for the British war office, is said to have awarded to the American Ammunition Co. within a week a contract for the manufacture of fuses amounting to $10,000,000.

It is understood that the balance of the order is to be apportioned as soon as other companies can qualify for the business. An additional contract also amounting to $10,000,000, it is stated, has been given by the Canadian shell commission to the same group of manufacturing concerns.

The Canadian militia department is reported to have given in addition, a $70,000,000 contract for shrapnel and high explosive shells to a financial group which will undertake to sub-let the business among a number of industrial concerns.

ON AUSTRIAN PROTEST

PAPER SAYS IF AMERICA REFUSE ARMS TO ALLIES IT WOULD VIOLATE NEUTRALITY

MILAN, July 16, via Paris, 10 p. m.—Commenting upon the Austrian note to the United States protesting against the shipment of war munitions to the entente allies, the Corriere Della Sera points out that America never has refused to supply arms and munitions to the central empires but that Germany and Austria are unable to obtain them from that country because of the superior naval power of the allies.

"The American market is open to all," says the paper. "If the government were to close it to the allies it would commit a violation of neutrality in favor of the central empires."

THE WM. H. BENT RESIDENCE

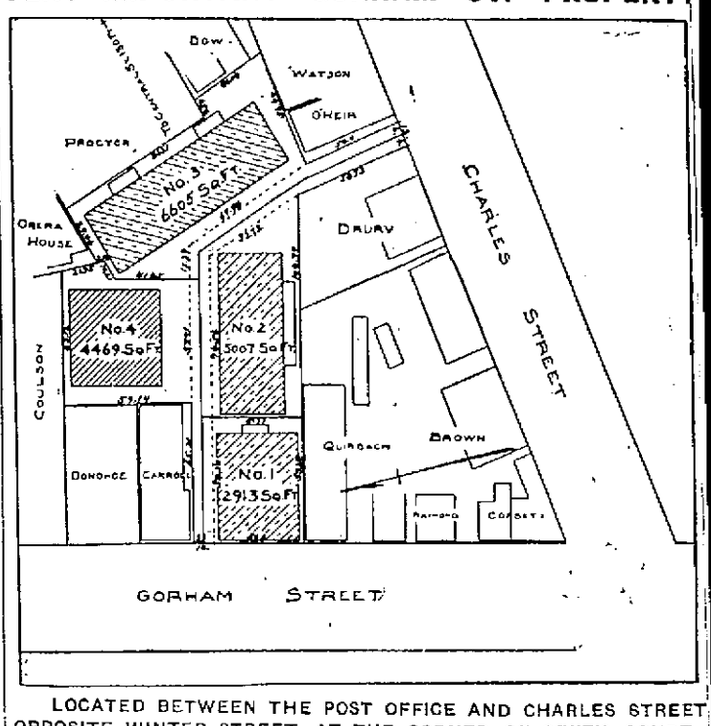

One of the most complete, costly, and genteel residence estates in the Highlands district of Lowell. The buildings were erected in 1894 at an original cost approaching $20,000; the house is very handsome and rich in its finish and appointments; the stable or garage is in harmony with the premises; the plot of land is mature in its development and possesses some thirty ornamental, shade and fruit trees effectively placed. The premises are numbered 107 Livingston avenue, the next estate but one from Princeton boulevard; this end of Livingston avenue is practically at the height of the land in this section of the Highlands, has a quietness and dignity of atmosphere peculiarly its own in its gentility; the neighborhood is unexcelled in its character.

The house is entered from the front, over easy ascending granite steps, through leaded glass vestibule into a spacious living room hall finished in paneled quartered oak even to the floor, provided with a porcelain tiled open fireplace, window seat alcove with leaded and plate glass overhead effect, and an abundance of natural light; leading off the living room hall to the left is a small reception or music room finished in delicately painted woodwork and quartered oak floor, naturally lighted from two sides; leading off the living room hall to the right is the library also finished in quartered oak even to the floor, provided with porcelain tiled open fireplace, built-in bookcase-cabinet, naturally lighted from two sides; leading from the end of the hall is a spacious dining room finished in mahogany with quartered oak floor, provided with window seat alcove with leaded glass overhead effect, porcelain tiled open fireplace with paneled mirror overhead, built-in china closet-cabinet; leading off the dining room is the butler's pantry, a spacious naturally lighted room finished throughout in natural hardwood, arranged with china closets and linen drawers; from the rear hallway there is entrance to butler's pantry, to the kitchen, and to the cellar; the kitchen is at the rear of the house, is full of natural light, is finished in natural pine with hardwood floor, has soapstone open plumbed sink; leading off the kitchen is a roomy pantry also finished in natural pine and connected by dumb waiter with butler's pantry; the refrigerator room which is also naturally lighted and finished in pine adjoins the kitchen pantry; there is an outside entrance through hallway to kitchen. Leading from the living room hall at the rear is an elegant broad quartered oak easy ascending stairway with center landing, paneled at one side, open grill work at the landing and at the top—beneath this stairway is a large clothes closet equipped with lavatory. The second floor has a master chamber finished throughout in sycamore, provided with porcelain tiled open fireplace of considerable size; there are three corner chambers finished throughout in either quartered oak, cherry, or ash; a sewing room or maid's chamber; spacious cedar and linen closets, cabinet finished; the bathroom while not open plumbing is a spacious corner room finished throughout in bird's eye maple—even to the shutters; the rooms of the second floor with the exception of the sewing room and the bath room open from a central hall finished in quartered oak even to the floor, and naturally lighted. The third or top floor is finished into a large billiard room with a leaded and plate glass effect at the front; a smoking room with an outside balcony—from which there is a broad unobstructed view to the west; a maid's room, a central hall, and unusual storage facilities. Every room in the house is provided with steam heat and combination electric-gas lighting fixtures. The cellar is in keeping with the unusual detail and substantial character of the house, it is naturally lighted from four sides, is high posted and conveniently arranged, has bricked-in fruit closet, basement toilet, coal bins, an oversized Page boiler—installed within two years, and possibly a half cord of open fireplace wood; there is a basement laundry with three set soapstone tubs, bricked-in copper boiler, and bulkhead entrance from the yard. The stable or garage is 32x24 ft., 57-ft. in the rear of the house, the first floor has a large room with concrete floor and a smaller room on the southerly side, the second floor is finished off as a gymnasium.

The land possesses a total area of 19,148 sq. ft., has a frontage of 115 ft.—extending back at a uniform width for 166½ ft., is down to even grade, is set off from the street by a California private hedge, the ornamental and shade and fruit trees comprise—six maple, four linden, three white ash, two copper-leaf maple, two horse-chestnut, and one each of weeping birch, elm, soft ash, and hard pine; the fruit trees comprise four pear, two apple, one plum, and one cherry; also crimson rambler rose, syringer, golden glow, purple blow, and other foliage, three unusual varieties of grapes, six gooseberry bushes, five currant bushes, raspberry and blackberry bushes, etc. A concrete driveway leads from the street to garage or stable, a concrete path leads from the street to granite steps at approach to the house, the house sets back 30 feet from the street, and the stable is at the extreme rear of the lot.

AT FOUR O'CLOCK IN THE AFTERNOON

VERY IMPORTANT GORHAM ST. PROPERTY

LOCATED BETWEEN THE POST OFFICE AND CHARLES STREET, OPPOSITE WINTER STREET, AT THE CORNER OF BENT'S COURT—WHICH EXTENDS THROUGH TO CHARLES STREET, COMPRISING FOUR BLOCKS OF TWO STORES AND THIRTY-ONE TENEMENTS—WHICH FOR THE PURPOSES OF THIS SALE HAVE BEEN DIVIDED INTO FOUR COMPLETE, SEPARATE, DISTINCT AND INDEPENDENT PROPERTIES.

Lot One comprises the three story store and tenement block numbered 124, 126 and 128 Gorham street—at the corner of Bent's Court, renting with exact regularity for $89.60 per month or $1075.20 per year; the stores are at either end of the block or numbered 124 and 128; the broad entrance to the block is in the centre of the building or numbered 126; there are two tenements of five rooms each on the second floor and two tenements of five rooms each on the third floor—each tenement opens into an inside hallway and has a good cellar; the land has a total area of 2913 sq. ft., a frontage of 50 ft. on Gorham street, a frontage of 58 1-2 ft. on Bent's Court, an open area almost 3 ft. wide across the rear end, and an open area about 3 ft. wide along the southerly side; it is an exceptionally located business property in as much as Winter street leaves Gorham street in front of it, it faces one of the busiest business streets in Lowell, has an open passageway across its longest side—a condition of wide open surroundings that is not duplicated on Gorham street between the Post Office and Charles street; there has been but one change in the tenements in the four years last past; with this single exception, the tenements have had the same occupants from eight to seventeen years.

Lot Two comprises the very substantial and solid three-story nine-tenement block directly in the rear of and adjoining Lot One—but separated therefrom by about 9 ft. of open space; it faces Bent's Court, it is numbered 9-15, it is a rare experience to have a vacant tenement in this block, there has not been the loss of a penny in rental in the last fifteen months, this means up to the full capacity of its renting possibilities of $69.95 per month or $839.80 per year; each tenement has four rooms opening into an inside hallway and a good cellar; the land has a total area of 5007 sq. ft., a frontage on Bent's Court before the block of 77 ft. and across the end of the block of 62 ft., a depth of 50 ft., there is a considerable open area not only between the eastern end of the block and Bent's Court but for the entire length of the block on the southerly side.

Lot Three is the good and roomy three-story twelve-tenement block numbered 12-16 Bent's Court, extends across the extreme easterly end of the property—almost at right angles with the other lots, with the exception of a single tenement for a short time this block has not had an idle tenement in the last fifteen months, in other words it has rented up to its full renting capacity of $91.86 per month or $1142.40 per year; each tenement has four rooms opening into an inside hallway and a good cellar; the land has a total area of 6605 sq. ft., a frontage on Bent's Court towards Charles street of 62 ft. and a frontage on Bent's Court towards Gorham street of 13 ft., a depth of 50 ft., there is a considerable open area on the four sides of the lot—this is particularly true of the south easterly end where the open space is 12x40 ft.

Lot Four is the comparatively new three-story six-tenement brick block numbered 17, 18, 19 and 20 Bent's Court, with the exception of two weeks it has not had a vacant tenement in the last fifteen months, in other words it has practically rented up to its full renting capacity of $51.86 per month or $621.40 per year; each tenement has five rooms opening into an inside hallway and a good cellar; the lower tenements have independent entrances and each two upper tenements have an independent stairway entrance; the land has a total area of 4469 sq. ft., a frontage on Bent's Court of 58 ft., a depth of 63 ft., a considerable open area all around it—and this is particularly true of the open area in front of it which is quite 15 ft. wide.

BENT'S COURT

The open way extending through the property and known as Bent's Court is to remain as an open passageway—10 ft. wide—for the benefit only of the abutting properties offered in this sale. In other words each lot in this sale will be deeded to the centre of the said 10 ft. open passageway (Bent's Court) extending from Gorham street to Charles street—with the reservation that said 10 ft. passageway is to be kept open, as shown on the sale plan, for the use of the owners of the properties in this sale abutting thereon.

IMPORTANT

There is no more important property from the standpoint of location or from the standpoint of income in this most valuable Gorham street section; it is well to bear in mind that this section of Gorham street has smooth paving, trunk line trolley cars, "White Way" lights, and every other modern municipal advantage and convenience; again there is no downtown section in Lowell that has shown a more radical improvement within the last decade than has the very section herewith described.

NOTA BENE

All the properties will be open for examination and inspection after ten o'clock a. m. the day of sale. The residence can be examined any afternoon between two and five o'clock upon application at the door. The purchaser of the residence estate must deposit with or satisfactorily secure to the auctioneers $750 just as soon as the property is struck off; the purchaser of Lot 1, Lot 2 and 3 Lot must each do the same with $1600 just as soon as each lot is struck off; the purchaser of Lot 4 must do the same with $750 just as soon as the lot is struck off. Sixty per cent. of the purchase money for each lot may remain upon mortgage at five per cent. interest if the purchasers so desire.

Administrator with the will annexed of William H. Bent.

FRANCO-AMERICAN CLUB

The outing committee of the Franco-American Republican club of Massachusetts for the northern part of the state, held a meeting in Lawrence with President Joseph Monette of Lawrence in the chair. Secretary Arthur L. Eno, Esq., of this city, read the minutes of the last meeting and considerable business was transacted.

It was voted to hold the outing on Labor day at Canobie Lake park and the affair will be in the form of a monster barbecue. Invitations have been sent to notable speakers, among whom are ex-Gov. Aram J. Pothier of Rhode Island, Congressman Rogers and others, but as yet no definite replies have been received. It is expected the affair will be a great success. Present at the meeting from this city were A. L. Eno, Esq., Joseph Payette, Xavier Delisle, Maxime Lepine, Wilfrid Achin and others.

DRACUT TAX RATE

The assessors of the town of Dracut are very busy compiling figures in order to fix the tax rate for the year 1915, and it was stated this afternoon their work may be completed by the middle of next week. It is being predicted that there will be a slight drop in the rate, but many believe the drop will not be large enough to make a great difference.

PAY FOR DETAINED CARGOES

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The British embassy yesterday began the practice of making payments in Washington for detained American cotton cargoes, the identity of ownership of which has been satisfactorily established. The first payment, a partial one for a cargo at the rate of 10 cents a pound, was about $250,000.

TEN CARS DERAILED

TRAFFIC BLOCKED ON B. & M. ROAD, NORTH OF WHITE RIVER JUNCTION

HANOVER, N. H., July 17.—The derailment of ten freight cars laden with granite blocked the Connecticut and Passumsic division of the Boston & Maine railroad north of White River Junction, Vt., for several hours today. The wreck took place early in the day and after the night express passenger trains had gone through. Railroad officials hoped to clear the tracks before afternoon.

SUFFRAGE MEETING TOMORROW

The speaker at the street meeting for suffrage, tonight, will be Mrs. Marion Booth Kelley, state lecturer for the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage association, said to be one of the best speakers for suffrage in the country. Mrs. Kelley, who is well known as a lecturer on civics, is a descendant of Dr. Abraham Pierson, the first president of Yale, and of Dr. Samuel Finley, one of the Colonial presidents of Princeton. She is the wife of Joseph Foster Kelley of Boston, and she has one son, now a student at Phillips-Exeter Academy.

MILL BUSINESS BETTER VACATIONS ARE FEWER

Local Industries Show Increased Activity -- Good Outlook for the Fall

There is a decided tendency upward in the local mill situation, judging from expressions by local agents and other officials. Not only will some of the mills have to work some of their departments overtime but they have declared against the usual shut-down for a summer vacation. To some of the employes who have already had too much idle time during the past year, this is glad news. There is a prospect that the operatives still idle who lost their employment at the local carpet mill on Market street will find employment in the other mills. Most of them have been placed at the U. S. Cartridge shop, where they earn fair pay. The further extension of this company will also aid in the general improvement. The local stores reflect the improvement in the manufacturing industries and hence the outlook for excellent business in the fall is very encouraging.

Tremont and Suffolk

Agent Rawlinson of the Tremont & Suffolk mill in conversation with a Sun reporter this morning stated there will be no forced vacation at the mill this summer. Of course, those who desire to be off for a week or two may do so by getting permission from the overseer, but the mill will not shut down. He stated that the mill has large orders on hand, especially for blankets and some of the weaving departments are kept busy day and night in order to keep up with the orders.

Hamilton Co.

"We do not want to stop unless we have to," stated an official of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. this morning, "for we have considerable work on hand," and this statement means that there will be no forced vacation at this mill. The writer was informed that a few small foreign orders had been received, but those were for yarn and they have been disposed of. The only departments working over time at the Hamilton mill are the carding, and that is to balance up with other departments.

Stephen F. Whittier, assistant manager of the mill, who has been away to the Philippine Islands since April 20, is expected in Lowell by the first week of August. Mr. Whittier left Manila on June 20 and before returning to Lowell he will take in the exposition in California.

FINDING IS ANNOUNCED

Lord Mersey Reports, After Inquiry, That Liner Was Sunk by German Torpedoes—Ship Was Unarmed

LONDON, July 17, 11.18 a. m.—Lord Mersey of Toxteth today announced his findings following an inquiry into the facts of the sinking on May 7 last of the steamer Lusitania and the consequent loss of more than 1000 lives. The baron's conclusions were distinctly disappointing to the small gathering, composed almost entirely of survivors and relatives of victims of the disaster who were present to listen to Baron Mersey's reading of his findings. The report found that the Cunard liner sank as the result of the act of a German submarine, which not only had intended to destroy the ship but had planned to blot out the lives of its passengers.

Capt. Turner Exonerated

The report exonerated Capt. Turner and the Cunard line from all blame and commended the discipline prevailing on the ship at the time she was sinking.

Several attorneys representing American clients listened closely to the reading of the judgment, which may have a bearing on actions brought against the steamship company.

Among the spectators were Walter Webb-Ware, representing the Vanderbilt family; Maj. F. Warren Pearl and Mrs. Pearl of New York and F. B. Jenkins of Chicago, survivors; and William Crichton of New York, whose wife was lost.

The salient features of the report are that the lifeboat and lifebelt facilities were adequate; that the demeanor of the crew was above blame and the conduct of the passengers, barring a slight panic when the steerage passengers came on deck, was praiseworthy.

Ship Was Unarmed

The court also found that the ship was unarmed and carried a general cargo and that the ammunition on board consisted of only 5000 cases of cartridges, from which there was no explosion.

"No doubt there were mishaps in handling the ropes of the boats," Lord Mersey said, "but in my opinion there was no incompetence or neglect."

Baron Mersey found that Capt. Turner was fully advised by the British admiralty as to the best course to follow and added that in some respects he did not follow those out. The court pointed out, however, that the admiralty instructions were not intended to prevent Capt. Turner from exercising his individual judgment and his failure to follow the admiralty's advice to the letter was no reason for blame.

The reduction of the Lusitania's speed from 24½ to 21 knots still left the vessel faster than any other boat on the Atlantic, said Baron Mersey, and he found there was no reason to blame the Cunard company for this economy during war times.

Relative to the admiralty instructions the court said this phase of the inquiry was in camera and that it would be contrary to public interest to discuss it.

Baron Mersey said in part: "The captain of the ship, Mr. Thomas Turner, gave his evidence truthfully and well. I am quite satisfied that the two captains and the officers are competent men and that they did their duty. Captain Turner remained on the bridge till he was swept into the sea and Captain

New Note to Germany Will be Brief — Will Not Subordinate Lusitania Case

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Developments in the issue between the United States and Germany awaited today the return of President Wilson from Cornish, N. H.

The president is to take up with Secretary Lansing and others of the cabinet several drafts of an answer to Germany's recent reply to the American note protesting against the German method of submarine warfare. The president will confer with Secretary Lansing on Monday. The cabinet will meet Tuesday.

The new note will re-assert the right of Americans on the high seas. It probably will be brief. Until either Great Britain or Germany requests specifically mediation on the subject of submarine warfare and contraband, officials held that the American government will make no move in this direction and that this government will not subordinate the Lusitania case or the assertion of its rights at hints from Germany.

CORNISH, N. H., July 17.—President Wilson was in communication today with Secretary Lansing regarding the German situation, including the conference held yesterday between the secretary and Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador. There will be no further developments in the situation, however, until the president returns to Washington early next week.

The president played today what will probably be the last golf game of his present visit. Members of his family will remain here after his departure for Washington and the president expects to return later if possible.

LOCALS WIN FIRST

Arthur Irwin's lid was set real jauntily as he entered Spalding park this afternoon with his Lewiston outfit, for Arthur was feeling pretty cocky, having just turned down the offer of a scout from the Brooklyn Nationals, for Becker, the speedy outfielder of the Down-homers. Becker is one of the fastest men in the New England league and Arthur knows that the big leagues want him, hence he can be independent about letting him go. Then the Lewiston outfit has been playing fast ball, a fact that tended to make the manager feel at peace with himself and the world.

It was decidedly hot but the fans were out to see Kelchner's colts since they became properly broke to harness and turned out and liberally patronized the bold son of the Mediterranean who runs the tonic stand on the grounds.

A combination thunder and sun shower rather interfered with the attendance at the very opening of the game but as the rain subsided the crowd began to appear and there was a good attendance as the game proceeded. Among the early arrivals in the grandstand was Bill Luyster, the hard-hitting outfielder of the Lawrence team, who injured his ankle in yesterday's game. Bill came up to see a good game. With Luyster, Thompson and Fuller out of the line-up, Lawrence must have had a second hand outfit at Manchester today.

It was a rough day for "Shorty" Dee, for after he had made a miserable error in the third inning the crowd gave him the worst panning that a player ever received on the home grounds and the fans repeatedly yelled for Manager Kelcher to take him out of the game. Umpire Anbrey had his little troubles also from the players on both sides but there was nothing of a serious nature. The game opened up at 2 o'clock with a good rain falling but the sun was shining outside the grounds. The lineup:

Lewiston	Lowell
Becker, cf	lf, Swayne
McCarthy, 2b	3b, Fahey
Prysock, ss	1b, Estes
Maloney, lf	cf, Barrows
Denoville, 1b	rf, Greenhalge
Phillips, rf	c, Ahearn
Ritter, 3b	ss, Dee
Foster, c	2b, Bowcock
Rettie, p	p, Zieser, Green

Neither side scored until the third inning and then the fun began. Rettie hit to Dee and went out at first. Then Becker hit to "Shorty," and the latter made a bum throw, Becker taking second base. Becker stole third and scored on Ahearn's bad throw. Then McCarthy put the ball over the left field fence for a home run. Prysock drew a base on balls. Maloney singled to right, Prysock going to third and Maloney reaching second on the throw to get Prysock. At this point Zieser was taken out and Green put in and the crowd yelled to take Dee out instead of the pitcher. With men on second and third, Denoville hit to Dee and Dee threw him out at first, while Prysock scored. Phillips struck out.

In Lowell's half Green reached first on an illegally delivered ball. Paddy went to second on Swayne's infield hit. Fahey hunted to the pitcher, who threw bad to third, and Green and Swayne both scored. Estes bunted and Fahey took third. Barrows flied out to Maloney and Fahey was thrown out at the plate on a close decision, the players gathering around the plate in a vigorous protest.

No more runs were scored until the last half of the fifth when Lowell added two. Green reached first on an infield hit. Swayne sent him along to second with a sacrifice. Fahey hit to left and Paddy got third although he was almost thrown out. Estes hit to McCarthy and went out at first, Green scoring. Barrows scored Fahey with a single to centre field over Becker's head. Barrows went out trying to steal second.

Lewiston got two more runs in the eighth inning in a manner that made the fans howl. Prysock hit to Fahey, who threw bad to first base. Maloney bunted to Fahey who threw to Bowcock and the latter dropped the ball. Prysock took third and Maloney second. Denoville singled over Estes' head scoring Prysock and Maloney. Phillips struck out and on the third strike Denoville attempted to steal second and was thrown out. Ritter flied out to Fahey and closed the inning.

Lowell tied up the score in the eighth and but for a one-hand stop by Ritter would have had an extra run. Estes hit to Ritter who threw high to first. Barrows sent the Lowell first sacker to second with a sacrifice. Greenhalge hitto McCarthy and was out at first while Estes took third on the play. Ahearn hit the ball over Becker's head for three bases scoring Estes. Dee sent a red hot grounder right across third base and Ritter made a beautiful one-hand stop and got the runner at first.

Lewiston got two on bases with nobody out in the ninth but couldn't score. Foster drew his base on balls. Rettie got an inshoot in the ribs. Preyer ran for him. Becker struck out. Then McCarthy hit the ball to deep left field. Swayne caught the fly and threw to third. Meanwhile the runners advanced and Fahey threw to first getting Preyer for a double play. Whittaker went in to pitch for Lewiston in the ninth inning.

Bowcock hit to Prysock and went out at first. Green fanned. Swayne flied to Maloney and the game went into 10 innings.

In the first of the tenth, Prysock fanned. Maloney flied out to Swayne. Denoville hit a line drive to Dee and was third out.

SUBMARINE ATTACK ON BRITISH LINER

Orduna With 227 Passengers, Including 21 Americans Escaped Torpedoes — Germans to Attempt the Capture of Riga

A submarine attack made without warning on the British liner Orduna, off the British coast, was reported by passengers when the steamer arrived at New York today from Liverpool. The Orduna carried 227 passengers, including 21 Americans. The torpedo missed her and none of a half dozen shells fired at her when the submarine chased the steamer took effect, those on the liner said.

Russian Lines Holding

Russian lines are holding well immediately to the north of Warsaw, where the greatest force of the Teutonic move against the Polish capital is, seemingly, being exerted, according to the latest statement from Petrograd.

Teuton Attacks Repulsed

Attacks by "important forces" west of the river Orzyc have been repulsed with heavy losses, the Russians claim and in sections where gains were made by the Germans their further advance was arrested.

Russian Forces Withdrawn

A withdrawal of the Russian forces between the Pissa and Orzyc rivers to new lines along the Narew in the face of Gen. von Hindenburg's attacks is admitted by Petrograd.

Continuation of the German advance in Courland also is conceded. Increasing importance is attached by military observers abroad to this movement in the Baltic provinces.

Attack All Along 800 Mile Front

Field Marshall von Mackensen's army that swept through Galicia is giving signs of renewed activity in pursuance of the assumed plan of the Teutonic forces to attack simultaneously all long the sweeping 800 mile front from the Baltic to Bessarabia. Unofficial reports through Geneva declare that at the lower end of this line Austrian troops who crossed the Dniester have been driven back to

STRUCK A WHALE

Men Five Days in Open Boats Had a Thrilling Experience

NEW BEDFORD, July 17.—Twelve men lost in two small boats from the whaler Job M. Manta off Cape Henry, Monday, came in here in their own boats today.

The boat of Mate Joseph Brown of Providence, struck a whale off the Virginia coast Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Shortly afterwards another boat in charge of the second mate, put an iron into the whale. The Manta was lost sight of in a fog. Mate Brown lashed the dead whale between the two small boats and started north and west for the coast. For two days the men with oars and lances fought off tremendous schools of sharks, but finally the men became exhausted, the sharks won and the whale was cut loose. Mate Brown saying today that he had done his best to uphold the tradition of whalemen and never cut loose.

The men had no water to drink and no food, until Thursday at 5 o'clock in the evening when they were picked up by a Scandinavian steamer, Skad, bound from Newport News to Christiania. The Skad on Friday afternoon sighted the Piedmont, and transferred the men an dthe boats to her. The Piedmont put into Vineyard Sound and the whalemen in their small boats sailed across Buzzards Bay and into the harbor of New Bedford.

1000 IDLE BY FLOODS

THROWN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT AT COLUMBUS OHIO—$300,000 DAMAGE

COLUMBUS, O., July 17.—It was estimated that more than 1000 men were temporarily thrown out of employment by the closing of factories here on account of the flood.

The damage throughout central Ohio will amount into the millions as thousands of acres of wheat and oats have been ruined, corn and other crops washed away.

At Kenton, where a large part of the town was under water yesterday, improved conditions prevailed today. The damage there will aggregate $300,000.

DAM BREAK EXPENSIVE

Damage at the Pawtucket Falls Proved Costly to Locks and Canals Company

As the result of a break in the Pawtucket dam, caused by the recent freshet, millions of gallons of water are going to waste and it will cost the Locks & Canals thousands of dollars to repair the break. The original break occurred last Sunday but the magnitude of it was not appreciated except by the Locks & Canals company.

The break is about in the middle of the river and the capstones have been carried off for a distance of 350 feet. Second tier stones, too, have been swept away and the great volume of water going over the dam today would be conserved but for the break which is reported to be due, in a measure, to the use of steel instead of iron rods in securing the flashboards to the capstones.

The flash boards are about four feet high. It was reported today that the iron rods used for years in securing the flashboards have been discarded for steel rods and it is argued that if the iron rods had been allowed to remain the break would not have occurred as the iron rods would bend while the steel rods are unbendable and when the pressure came they carried their anchor, the topstones, with them.

The Locks & Canals is regarding the matter as quite a serious affair and is losing no time in getting after it. The company realizes that it has a big job on its hands and the scene about the falls today was one of great activity. Thousands of bags of sand are piled on either side of the river and it was stated today that it might be necessary to close Varnum avenue for a time while the repairs are being made. It was stated that the company would petition the city to close the avenue, but no petition to that effect has been filed at city hall. The mayor, however, stated today that he heard a petition would be applied for.

The present dam was built in 1840 and the present break is the first in its history. The building of the coffer dam will be the biggest job in connection with the mending of the break, and that is what the thousands of bags of sand will be used for. Platforms are being built on the Varnum avenue side of the river for loading purposes. The sand will be loaded onto scows from the platforms of wharves and a derrick will be erected at the scene of the break. It will be necessary to build two staunch plank walls to hold the sand. The bags of sand will be deposited between the plank walls and to secure the walls will be no small job.

No one today would venture an estimate as to the amount of water that is being lost, for mills will never grind with the water that has passed, or words to that effect, but to know that all is going over the falls is lost gives one some idea of the great waste.

The Pawtucket bridge question is thrown in the shade again by the break in the dam. The first work in connection with the bridge, if anything is to be done this year, would be the blasting of the rocks in the river bed as required by the Locks & Canals company in order to give greater water flowage, and that would be impossible at this time.

FASHION FADS

Truly there is no feature of summer fashions that is more remarkable or more certain to arrest attention than the use of fur as trimming. As yet we have had no real warm weather and the effect has not seemed incongruous, but what they will be when the thermometer is climbing to its highest point is an open question, but in spite of that truth, there is every indication of its acceptance. Sweater coats and sports coats of glove silk make the accepted outing costume a novelty of the season. They are shown in all colors with bands of white fur finishing their lower edges and trimming the collars and cuffs. White fur also appears as trimming for evening costumes and we see net, silk voile, chiffon and the like with narrow bands of white fur edging the skirt. Had we not long since learned that fashion has nothing to do with comfort and that we can accommodate ourselves to anything dictated by La Mode, we might feel that fur in mid-summer would give an effect of heat not altogether desirable. The feminine mind, however, is so constituted that it can accept anything, not alone with readiness but with satisfaction, if only it hails from an authority of sufficient import. While we have not had real July weather, we surely have not had fur weather during the past week, yet women are walking the avenue with white fur scarfs arranged closely about their throats in a way that was considered too confining in the mid-summer season. The cry of the open neck for health and for comfort is forgotten or else applies to cold weather only.

Velvet hats for mid-summer wear are already exploited. Evidently the seasons have changed. If we continue as we are going, we will wear gowns of organdie and wraps of gauze and hats of lace during the season of snow and ice, for if we can accommodate ourselves to the close fitting neck dressings of fur and to hats that mean the inevitable warmth of velvet during the warmest months of the year, we surely should be able to accept diaphanous clothing when the thermometer is at zero. Just why these things exist and why some dealers are so ready to push unseasonable fashions, it is a little difficult to discover, unless the craze for novelty and for change has reached such a pass that suitability, convenience and comfort and the real desiderata of life are completely forgotten, and left in the background.

That the summer was to be a season of silk has been evident for a long time, but the silk sports costumes are something of a novelty nevertheless and a very interesting one too. Glove or Jersey silk is being exploited in the piece as well as in the made-up garment and the most attractive and charming costumes are made thereof. They are absolutely plain, without any trimming whatever, depending entirely upon the beauty of the material and upon the tailored finish for their smartness. They are made with skirts laid in narrow box-plaits that are stitched to form yokes and with the sweater coats that are held by means of sashes, the effect is very beautiful. They are offered in a variety of colors bright—American Beauty, soldiers' blue, a rather vivid green and wonderful lavenders being conspicuous and it is easy to think of the picturesque effect they will make at the summer resorts, either for the walk on the beach or for the stroll at the mountains or wherever the sporting costume is appropriate. The silk is exceedingly light in weight, soft of texture, delightful to wear and perfectly adapted to summer use. It is not improbable that the costumes will be extended to travel for they seem ideally adapted to such service. With them will be worn blouses of organdie, either in matching color or of white trimming with color.

Skirts have grown so short that it seems impossible that they could be curtailed and already there is evidence of something of a reaction that is likely to bring about moderation at least for mid-summer costumes. Early June is always the season of commencements and the graduation gown is an all important one. One of our leading fashionable schools forbade anything shorter than two inches from the floor for that all important occasion and such an example is not to be ignored. While two inches may be almost as extreme in the one direction as ten or twelve in the other, it nevertheless marks something of a revolt and a return to sanity that is to be welcomed.

Colors of rather vivid hue, either in the costume or in the trimming only, continue to make an interesting feature of fashions. At the moment, the white gown or the white blouse that is trimmed with color is especially attractive and all sorts of fine stitchery are being employed to produce the result. Whether or not the shortage of lace has anything to do with the condition, it is difficult to assert, but certain it is that needlework is constantly in beauty and that it is being employed in most attractive and interesting ways. A very charming gown of white organdie shows all the edges hemstitched with blue. The smocking referred to in an earlier letter is applied to numberless uses and not alone are the simple, familiar stitches employed, there are now and more elaborate ones appearing week by week.

TO SETTLE OWNERSHIP

GOV. SPAULDING INTERVENES IN LITIGATION TO DETERMINE WHO OWNS LAND

CONCORD, N. H., July 17.—Gov. Rolland H. Spaulding and the executive council have intervened in litigation to determine the ownership of land in the famous Crawford Notch, taken by the state under the right of eminent domain and have asked the supreme court to recommit the case to special commissioners for an award of damages.

The plaintiff in the case is Charles H. Morey of Hart's location, to whom the sum of $60,000 was paid under the administration of Gov. Samuel D. Felker. The Forest Products Co., a Maine corporation, also has a part in the case, claiming that some of the land for which Morey was paid is its property.

The supreme court will give a hearing to all parties claiming ownership and to the state on the first Tuesday in September.

NOTE TO ENGLAND

Sec. Lansing Makes Public the Paraphrase Presented July 14

WASHINGTON, July 17—Secretary Lansing made public today a paraphrase of the note presented by Ambassador Page on July 14, to the British government to conserve the rights of American citizens in cases being tried by British prize courts. It has no relation, he said, to the general note on contraband still in course of preparation. The paraphrase issued by the state department follows:

"In view of differences which are understood to exist between the two governments as to the principles of law applicable in prize courts proceedings in cases involving American interests and in order to avoid any misunderstanding as to the attitude of the United States in regard to any such proceedings, the government of the United States informs the British government that in so far as the interests of American citizens are concerned, it will insist upon their right under the principles and rules of international law as hitherto established, governing neutral trade in time of war without limitation or impairment by orders in council, or other municipal legislation by the British government and will not recognize the validity of prize court proceedings taken under restraints imposed by British municipal law in derogation of the rights of American citizens under international law."

LIBERTY BELL ARRIVES

WHISTLES, BELLS, SALUTE OF GUNS AND BANDS EXTENDED GREETINGS TO RELIC

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—The Liberty bell's triumphant journey across the continent from Philadelphia, reached a climax today in its welcome at the Panama-Pacific exposition, where it was hung to remain until the close of the exposition in December. The bell arrived here last night.

Whistles and bells throughout the city, the salute of guns from battleships in the bay, many bands playing patriotic airs, and thousands of citizens of San Francisco and California extended greetings to the relic.

The ceremonies of the day began with a civic and military parade through the city to the exposition grounds. Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives, was on the program for the principal address.

It was stated that although still quite weak, Dr. Clark passed a comfortable day yesterday and his physician is feeling much encouraged.

THAW AT ATLANTIC CITY

FIRST NIGHT OF REAL FREEDOM SPENT IN RESTFUL SLEEP AT A BEACH FRONT HOTEL

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 17.—Harry K. Thaw's first night of real freedom in nine years was spent in restful sleep at a beach front hotel here. After yesterday's weary ride down the state from New York, after he was released on bail, Thaw was much refreshed and prepared to spend the day quietly.

So far as could be learned, Thaw has formed no definite plans for the immediate future except to get as much rest as he can. It is believed he will go to his home in Pittsburgh in a few days.

Boardwalk promenaders were on the alert to get a glimpse of the slayer of Stanford White and many lingered about his hotel.

Gasologue No. 2

"What kind of gasoline do you use?"

"Don't know. Just gasoline. But I'm always careful to insist on high gravity."

"High gravity, eh? What about ignition point?"

"Ignition point?"

"Sure. Boiling point—pretty much the same thing. That's the only real test for gasoline."

"But I thought low ignition point always went with high gravity. Doesn't it?"

"Yes, it does not. Think a moment. Ever had any trouble starting?"

"Well—of course—sometimes—"

"Thought so. Yet you always buy high gravity gasoline, don't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, what's the answer?"

"But what am I to do? Ask for low ignition point, low boiling point—?"

"Ask for SOCONY Motor Gasoline. You're safe then. The ignition point is right, the boiling point is right, and what's more, it's right every time. SOCONY Motor Gasoline is always the same, wherever you buy it."

SOCONY Motor Gasoline. Isn't that—"

"Yes—'Standard Gasoline.' The same 'Standard Gasoline' the wise ones have always insisted upon."

The French Maid Says:

Marie on Flowers

"I am going to liven up the house with some plants and flowers," bubbled Marjorie. "I don't think outdoors should have all the cheerfulness of the summer time."

"You are right," responded Marie, who was arranging some roses in a tall vase in madame's drawing room. "Flowers make the house look like a part of outdoors and it should do so. You should not arrange flowers carelessly, not in stilted bunches as they used to do. Bunch the flowers just as though a child had just carelessly picked them. It is a good sign when we go back to child like things, a sure sign that the world is growing young and that we are developing within us the fountain of youth.

"So one now finds in the florists' shops clear, blue French hyderangers set in a pot hidden by a fold of lavender and green fibre mat. Then again it may be a lavender rhododendum in a pale blue setting, yellow baskets holding the new cerise shade of azaleas, or a delicate pink one in a pale blue setting.

"The new color in azaleas is called "blushing bride" and is about the shade of the daybreak carnation. One florist I know has quantities of the new rosebud, called "sweetheart." They are tiny pink buds no larger than the tips of the finger and are associated with affairs of the heart. Another popular rose is the climber, called "Hiawatha." It is like a wild rose in form but grows in clusters.

"This bush can be arranged in a large basket, which has the handle curved in a high arch effect. The red variety has a pale centre, becoming white at the heart, which gives it a daintiness equal to its more delicate pink sister."

INVENTIVE GENIUS PLANNING TO MAKE THIS COUNTRY IMPREGNABLE

"I believe that when we have assembled the inventive genius of this nation we shall be in a state of defense such as no other nation has ever known," said Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels just before he went to the home of Thomas A. Edison, the noted inventor, at Llewellyn Park, N. J. "The next war will be fought by machinery and by men of brains. They say we have millions of men and a mint of money. We need machinery, we need the skill, we need to bring about the mobilization of brains. I believe in preparedness, also in scientific preparedness, and my idea in organizing a navy board is to bring about a mobilization of the inventive genius of the country. I want to get together men who have devoted their lives to science and to use their genius and their skill to benefit the country. I want to help these men to develop their ideas for inventions that will be a service to the country in time of war." The accompanying photograph of Mr. Edison and Secretary Daniels was taken at Mr. Edison's home.

What Hortense Told Me

If the hair is dusty and unmanageable after a journey of any sort, try using alcohol to make it fluffy, says Hortense. The alcohol will dry in a few moments and the hair will be then ready to arrange. Many women who have taken a railroad journey of several hours' duration have found their hair, owing to the heat and dust of the journey, quite heavy and dirty. A shampoo takes too long to be indulged in while dressing and sometimes, too, it leaves the hair too fluffy for immediate management.

Part the hair and rub a little alcohol on a piece of gauze on the scalp until it is free from dust. Then rub the hair about the brows and ears and the nape of the neck, with alcohol. Of course it should first have been brushed as free as possible from dust. Then let the hair hang loosely until the alcohol has dried out. The hair will then be light an fluffy.

Hortense says never to pick blackheads as you are liable to cause unsightly pimples and sores. Wash your face in hot water and use a pure soap freely on it. Apply cloths wrung from hot water, until the pores are well open. Then rub in a good cold cream to soften the skin. Now, with a flat, blunt instrument, like a watch key, press gently on each blackhead and the dirt will roll out.

You know blackheads are just dirt that has accumulated at the outlet of the oil glands in your skin, and becomes hardened. When you have finished the cold cream treatment wash your face to which you have added a little boracic acid.

Hortense tells me there two two kinds of wrinkles, those that all skins will show as it becomes dry and those called premature wrinkles, caused by suffering, either physical or mental. Many women whose skin seems unusually smooth and unwrinkled, keep it so by bathing the face in some water in which some cereal has been steeped. The cereals seem to have unusually beautifying qualities, and you have doubtless felt the beneficial effects of the bran wash, both on the face and in the hair.

A very simple toilet wash to keep your skin youthful is made by dissolving three ounces of pearl barley in a pint of water until the gluten is extracted. Then it is strained and to the liquid 25 drops of tincture of benzoin is added. After being thoroughly rubbed in the barley wash is thoroughly rinsed from the face with pure soap and warm water. The addition of a few drops of benzoin to the water in which the face is rinsed, night and morning, will keep the skin fresh and white, besides closing the distended pores.

JOHN H. BEAULIEU

At a meeting of the directors of the Middlesex Safe Deposit & Trust Co., held on Thursday, John H. Beaulieu was added to the membership of the board. New members of the board elected the present year, besides Mr. Beaulieu, are Frank P. McGilly, Horace F. Beals and John T. Sparks.

How, and Why, the GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda now saves Car-Owners, yearly, over $25,000,000 on Tires

THERE are 1,923,951 Automobiles now State-licensed, and running, in the United States.

Of these, 1,803,951 are Pleasure Cars,—i. e., exclusive of Trucks, etc.

More than 90% of them, or about 1,623,555, use Pneumatic Tires.

Each car will wear out and replace, on average, about one Set of Four Tires per year.

Therefore, the interests of each Car-Owner, as well as each Car-Manufacturer, each Car-Dealer, and Salesman, are vitally and personally affected by the price of Tires to Consumers.

Because,—Tires and Gasoline are the two big items of consumption in the operation of Motor Cars.

The Owner who used his Car 1,000 Miles less, per year, than he would have done, because of "the high-price of Tires and Gasoline," received that much less return from his entire investment in the Car proper.

The potential, or prospective, Car-Owner who fails to buy a Car because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline,"—he who sells his Car and does not buy again because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline"—or he who, for the same reason, stores his Car and does not run it during a considerable part of the year, is a direct loss to—

—1st—Automobile Manufacturers as a class,

—2d—Automobile Dealers, as a class,

—3d—Garage Owners, as a class,

—4th—Lubrication & Gasoline Manufacturers, as a class.

But,—he is a greater loss to TIRE Manufacturers, and Dealers, as a class, than to any others.

Because,—

—Gasoline and Lubricants, for instance, can be sold to the Owners of Motor Boats, Stationary, and other Motors.

But,—Automobile Tires can only be sold, in the ultimate, to the man who OWNS a Car, and who wears out Tires through using it.

o o o

EVERY mile that each Automobile runs, means an automatic Sale of Tires to replace that mileage with new Tires.

But, all the Salesmanship, and all the Advertising, under the Sun, could not increase, by a single Tire, the total sales of Tires beyond the number of Cars owned by Consumers, and the number of Miles each Consumer runs his Car yearly.

The Market for Tires is therefore limited, inflexibly, to the number of Cars running, and the Mileage which each Owner is induced to run yearly.

Therefore, we opine that to promote greater Sales, and greater use, of Automobiles, few better incentives can be offered than markedly-lowered cost, TO CONSUMERS, for Tires and Gasoline.

Just as we recognize that the only legitimate expansion open to the Tire Industry, as a whole, would be due to the Sale of more Automobiles each year to Consumers, with a greater average Mileage USE, per year, of each Car by each Owner.

That is why we favor the lowest possible price for Tires,—to Consumers, consistent with maintenance of high quality and a fair profit to Dealer and Mfr.

So this, then, is a leading reason why WE initiated, and propagated, that Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement which we publicly announced in the press on Jan. 31, 1915, and which caused practically every Pneumatic Tire Manufacturer in this Country to follow our lead and bring his prices down to a fairer level.

o o o

THIS is also the reason why some Tire Manufacturers, who could not, or would not, "meet" our BASIC prices for Pneumatic Tires (even though our "Fair-List" Propaganda obliged them to make heavy reductions off their former Lists) might erroneously suppose that "Goodrich" Tires have been cheapened in Quality, as well as in price.

Hence this explanation (to the Public, to Car-Manufacturers, Dealers, Car-Salesmen, Garages, and Tire Dealers generally) that we deem it "good business" to sell the best Goodrich Tires (of fabric construction) we have ever made, at the fairest price possible for such quality.

Hence, too, the following TEST offer to Consumers.

—We will cheerfully pay for any Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" Tire, sold since our "Fair-List" price-reduction (announced on January 31, 1915,) which when cut open shows any reduction in quality, in number of layers of Canvas, in thickness, or quality of Rubber, when compared with any other Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" made by us, and sold at our higher prices current before the Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement.

And,—this is further to authorize any Tire-User to extend this Offer (at our expense) to any Tire Dealer, or Manufacturer

We ask Car-Owners, and Tire Consumers, in their own interest, to see that no "implication" of lowered quality in Goodrich Tires goes unchallenged,—just as we have protected their interests, for our own sake, through our "Fair-List" Propaganda.

o o o

BECAUSE of that GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda, every Car-Owner who now buys any make of Tire sized 37x5, now saves, on each set of 4 Tires, an average of about $46.27

—Every Car-Owner who uses 34x4 Tires of any make, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $26.15 per set of 4 Tires.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 30x3½ Tires, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $14.70 per Set of 4 Tires.

Other sizes in proportion.

The 1,623,555 State-licensed Car-Owners who use Pneumatic Tires now save about 20% of what they last year paid for ANY make and size, whether they be Goodrich or competing brands,—equal to more than $25,000,000 per year.

And, don't forget that this giant saving to Car-Owners was never mentioned to the Public by other Tire Manufacturing Concerns until the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda made it imperative that they extend the Saving to Consumers on their Tires, or lose business to the Goodrich Co.

But, notwithstanding all this,—the fact which should loom largest to TIRE-USERS is the contrast of 10% to 40%, in prices, that still exists between the low price of the best Non-Skid Tires (of fabric construction) that money can buy, or the largest Rubber Factory in the World produce,—(to wit, GOODRICH Non-Skid Tires) and all other "responsible" Tires in the field.

Compare these prices and see!

Then, if you are not already a Goodrich User, do yourself (and us), the justice to buy at least one GOODRICH "Non-Skid" Tire.

Test that out for Quality, Mileage and Resilience against any other Tire, at any price, which you are now using.

The result of such test will cause you to wonder why you ever paid more for Maximum Quality, Mileage, and Resilience than the Basic price of Goodrich Non-Skid Tires?

GENERAL STRIKE MONDAY

Machinists at Remington Arms Co. to Quit—General Manager Would Not Meet Committee

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 17.—J. J. Keppler, international vice president of the Machinists' union who headed a committee who today went to the plant of the Remington Arms Co. to present the demands formulated by a strike meeting of the Bridgeport machinists last night announced today that a general strike of machinists would be called on Monday. He said Maj. Walter Penfield general manager of the Remington Arms & Ammunition Co. had refused to deal with the committee.

The entire staff of patternmakers at the Lake Torpedo Boat Co., went out on strike today. They demanded an increase in wages of three cents an hour. They now receive 44 cents.

Officials of the union said pickers had been stationed at the Lake plant and that they expected other workers there would strike in sympathy unless their demands were complied with.

The executive committee of the machinists' union, empowered at a mass meeting last night to call a strike if the Remington Arms Co., refused to meet one or two demands, went to the offices of the Remington Co. this forenoon and placed their demands before the officials of the company.

STRIKE SETTLED

Normal Service Restored in Rhode Island Trolley Lines

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 17.—Normal service was restored today on the trolley lines of the Rhode Island Co. throughout the state, upon which service has been almost entirely suspended for the past two days because of the strike of 2400 union employes. Under the agreement reached early today, Mayor Joseph H. Gainer will act as chairman of a board of three arbitrators to whom will be referred the wage and working condition matters in dispute.

It was expected that the names of the other two arbitrators would be announced today. One was to be selected by the company and the other by the union.

The board of arbitration that is to settle the differences between the Rhode Island Co. and the union will not be named until Monday at the earliest, according to announcements made this afternoon by both the company and union officials.

Mayor Gainer has been agreed upon by both sides as chairman of the board. The other two members, one to be selected by the company and the other by the union, must be appointed on or before Tuesday.

The board of directors of the Rhode Island Co. passed a resolution today expressing its "heartfelt appreciation of the ability and tact" with which President Potter had handled the various situations as they arose and also its confidence "in the fairness and honesty with which he has dealt with the representatives of the union."

The two federal commissioners who were sent here by the federal department of labor, arrived today, but there was nothing for them to do and they left this afternoon.

FUNERALS

CHECKLAND—The funeral of Mrs. Checkland, who died in Medfield, Mass., Tuesday, took place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the funeral parlors of Undertaker W. H. Saunders in Hurd street. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Suter, curate at St. Anne's church. The bearers were Arthur and Charles Checkland, Joseph McKenna and Robert Tetlow. Burial was in the family lot in the Edson cemetery under the direction of Undertaker W. H. Saunders.

VATICAN AND THE WAR

POLICY OUTLINED BY THE OFFICIALS TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ROME, July 17, via Paris, 10.40 a. m. —The policy of the vatican toward the war is outlined by vatican officials to The Associated Press as a constant endeavor to shorten the conflict and mitigate its horrors.

The expectation was indicated that Pope Benedict XV. will be invited to send delegates to the peace conference at the close of the war in recognition of his moral influence directed steadily in favor of humanitarian and Christian principles. The relations between the vatican and Holland have been interrupted since the first conference at The Hague, the Netherlands government having omitted to invite the pontiff to participate, acting in this, it was said, under representations from Italy strongly supported by Great Britain. The relations of the vatican and the Italian government are considered to have been so changed during the past 15 years, however, that the vatican, it was indicated, hopes that Italy will not oppose the pope's participation at the peace conference when the war ends.

RELEASE 3000 PHEASANTS

BOSTON, July 17.—More than 3000 pheasants are to be loosed in the woods and fields of Massachusetts between now and fall. The state commissioners on fisheries and game have already begun the distribution of these beautiful game birds, and before the winter sets in they will have released twice as many as have been distributed in the state during any previous season.

BERLIN AUTHORIZED ADV'T

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 17.—The Providence Journal says today:

"The German embassy, which has persistently refused either to affirm or deny the statement that [illegible] the advertisement the day before the Lusitania sailed from New York, warning American citizens against taking passage on that ship, not only sent out the advertisement, but was ordered to do so by direct instructions from Berlin.

HOTTEST DAY THIS YEAR

THE WEATHER OPPRESSINGLY HOT—THE TEMPERATURE 90 IN SHADE

With the mercury touching the 90 mark and a very muggy atmosphere prevailing Lowell today sweltered in what will undoubtedly be recorded the hottest day thus far this year. After remaining close to 80 degrees all day yesterday and only lowering about 10 during the night, the temperature made a steady jump this forenoon and at 1 o'clock it was reported to be 90 degrees in the shade at the Locks & Canals office. Page's thermometer in Merrimack square registered 88 at noon while reports from other sections of the city varied from 84 to 94.

At dusk last evening the mercury was just 80 degrees above. At midnight it had made a slight descent and at 4 o'clock it lowered to 70 degrees. Four hours later it had jumped 10 degrees and from then until noon gradually climbed until the high mark of 90 was reached at 1 o'clock. The humidity was also high and made the day the most disagreeable that we have experienced yet this summer.

At the ambulance station and local hospitals it was stated that no prostration cases were reported though it is understood many mill operatives were obliged to leave their work during the forenoon hours.

Many Lowell people were seen leaving Merrimack square for summer resorts and parks shortly after noon. The swimming places at the Lakes and even in the rivers were also well patronized by young people attempting to get relief from the intense heat.

FOUND DEAD IN ROOM

JOSEPH OGDEN SUCCUMBED TO ILLNESS—WORKED IN PLUSH MILL

Joseph Ogden, a man about 60 years of age and residing at 73 Fletcher street, was found dead in his room this noon. The man had been employed at the Massachusetts Mohair Plush mill, and had been ill for some time, although it was not thought his condition was serious. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker W. H. Saunders in Hurd street, where it will be viewed by Medical Examiner J. V. Meigs.

O'BRIEN HAD OVER $13,000

PITTSFIELD, July 17.—Dennis O'Brien, a laborer, was found in an unconscious condition in a park here May 4 and died in a hospital.

John Noonan, a relative, has filed an inventory of O'Brien's property, showing $13,340 in savings banks and American Telephone and Telegraph company stock.

DISCHARGED FROM CUSTODY

Jas. Brown, Jos. Smith and Byron Blood Convicted in Connection With Murder, Released

AYER, July 17.—James M. Brown and Joseph Smith, arrested for the alleged murder of William Barnaby on July 3, and Byron Blood, charged with being an accessory, were discharged from custody today. Moses Blood, a brother of Byron, was indicted for murder yesterday.

DIVING EXHIBITION

Albert Landry, a young man residing at 27 Ward street, gave a fine swimming and diving exhibition to over a hundred spectators, who were lined on the Moody street bridge early last evening. The young man accomplished his swimming feats in the Pawtucket canal and proved to be of the dare devil type.

HEN THEFTS REPORTED

It was stated today by a resident of Mountain Rock that a number of hen thefts have been reported in the district during the past couple of weeks and the residents are up in arms over the fact that the district is not receiving any police protection from the town of Tyngsboro.

THE LUSITANIA

Continued

Anderson was working on deck until he went overboard and was drowned."

Members of Crew Praised

The court here praised Leslie M. Morton, a member of the crew, who shipped at New York and who was acting as extra lookout man at the time the Lusitania was torpedoed.

"Morton was only 18 years old," said Baron Mersey, "but he seems to have exhibited great courage, self-possession, and resource. He was the first to observe the approach of the torpedoes and before they had touched the ship he had reported them to the bridge by means of a telephone."

Righted Collapsible Boat

Though knocked off his feet when a torpedo hit the Lusitania and later having to swim for his life, Lord Mersey said, the work aided by a member of the crew named Parry, righted a collapsible boat, and was instrumental in saving nearly a hundred lives.

5000 Cartridges Aboard

The cargo was a general cargo of the ordinary kind, but a part consisted of cases of cartridges—about 5000. This ammunition was stowed well forward on the upper and lower decks, and was about 70 yards away from where the torpedoes struck the ship.

Lord Mersey then stated that the Lusitania carried no mounted guns or troops.

Warning Aggravated Crime

The warnings issued by Germany before the ship left New York, he found, only aggravated the crime of her sinking.

Lord Mersey bitterly assailed the German government, saying the act was a "murderous attack, because it was made with a deliberate and wholly unjustifiable intention of killing the people on board."

On the testimony of a second cabin passenger, a witness describing himself as a French subject who stated that he had heard an explosion similar to the rattling of a Maxim gun, Lord Mersey said:

"I do not believe this gentleman. His demeanor was very unsatisfactory and there was no confirmation of his story. It may be worth noting that Leith, the Marconi operator, who was in the second class dining room, speaks of but one explosion. In my opinion there was no explosion of any part of the cargo."

Instructions to Captain

Dwelling on the instructions to Capt. Turner, Lord Mersey said:

"It was made abundantly plain to me that the admiralty had devoted most anxious care and thought to questions arising out of the submarine peril, and that they had diligently collected all available information likely to affect the voyage of the Lusitania. I do not know who the officials are to whom these duties were entrusted, but they deserve the highest praise. Capt. Turner was fully advised as to the means which, in the view of the admiralty were best calculated to avert the peril he was likely to encounter.

"It is certain that in some respects Capt. Turner did not follow the advice given him. The advice given to him, although meant for his most serious and careful consideration, was not intended to deprive him of the right to exercise his skilled judgment in difficult questions that might arise time after time in the navigation of his ship. His omission to follow this advice in all respects cannot fairly be attributed either to negligence or incompetency."

Summarized Finding

Lord Mersey then delivered a brief summarized finding as follows:

"After having carefully inquired into the circumstances of the disaster, the court finds the loss of said ship and lives was due to damage caused the ship by torpedoes fired by a submarine of German nationality.

"In the opinion of the court the act was done not merely with intention of sinking the ship but also with the intention of destroying the lives of the people on board."

As printed and concurred in by Admiral Sir Frederick Englefield, and Lieut. Commander Hearn, naval assessors, and Capt. Davis and Capt. Speeding of the Mercantile Marine, the report will be presented to both houses of parliament.

GREAT COAL STRIKE IN WALES NEW MENACE TO GREAT BRITAIN IN WAR

SCENE AT SHAFT OF MINE IN WALES

In spite of predictions that labor difficulties in the coal fields would be averted virtually every mine in Wales became idle when the delegates to the miners' convention voted to strike. In one district alone 20,000 men struck, defying the government's proclamation that the provisions of the munitions act would be invoked to prevent a cessation of operations. Soon upward of 120,000 men were out. A meeting of the executive committee of the South Wales Miners' union was called to confer with representatives of the board of trade, but the rank and file of the miners were obdurate and the government's proclamation seemed only to have stiffened their resolution to stand firm in their demands. Men who strike in the face of the government prohibition are subject to a fine of $15 a day, in default of which they may be imprisoned. In the accompanying illustration is shown Welsh miners at the shaft of a mine in Wales.

BEST PRICE OF YEAR

U. S. STEEL ROSE TO 65—WAR SPECIALTIES REACH NEW RECORDS, CLOSING STRONG

NEW YORK, July 17.—With the exception of United States Steel which rose to 65, its best price of the year, all former speculative favorites were swept aside again today while the various war specialties were pushed forward to new record breaking quotations. Chief among these was Crucible Steel, which made an early gain of over six points, with five points for the preferred. Gains of 3 to 6 points were registered by Bethlehem Steel, Sloss-Sheffield Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors and some of the more obscure industrials, including Allis-Chalmers common and preferred. Meantime some heaviness was observed in Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper. Recessions of 1 to 2 points from the high level occurred later. The closing was strong. Bonds were steady.

TWO STORES ROBBED

Burglars Entered Wood's Jewelry Store and Ring's—Police Think Boys Made Breaks

Burglars entered Wood's jewelry store and Ring's music store, both on Merrimack street, last night. The police believe it to be the work of boys. Entrance was made through a bulkhead in the rear of Wood's store and the police believe that entrance to Ring's store was obtained by the boys climbing up a water spout and getting through a window as screens were removed on the second floor. The articles and money taken did not amount to very much though a cash register was broken in Ring's store and goods on counters and other places were considerably disturbed. From Wood's store the youthful burglars, if youthful they were, took five gold rings, two pairs of link cuff buttons and a fountain pen. From Ring's store a camera and about $12 in money were taken. The police are working on the case.

DENIES REPORT

C. W. Gooch Has No Knowledge of Firm to Manufacture Arms

DETROIT, Mich., July 17.—C. W. Gooch, vice president of the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. of this city, does not believe that any of the leading typewriter and adding machine companies in the east and middle west have formed a corporation for the manufacture of war munitions, as reported in New York today.

"The Burroughs Co. does not know of any such combination. We have not been approached on it and do not believe any such corporation has been formed," said Mr. Gooch. "As for ourselves we would not handle that kind of business. Since February of this year we have refused large quantities of business of that nature and will continue to do so."

CASE OF P. H. CROWLEY

HEARING BY INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT BOARD AT CITY HALL TODAY

A hearing under the workmen's compensation act in the case of Patrick H. Crowley was held in the aldermanic chamber at city hall today, though the petitioner is at present confined at the Hathorne hospital in Danvers. The petitioner was in the employ of the water department at the time of the accident which it is alleged may have been responsible for his present condition. In company with other laborers Mr. Crowley was engaged at the boulevard filtration plant. The accident occurred Nov. 9, 1914. He was working in a ditch when it caved in. His right leg was injured and he sustained injuries to his head and back. His present trouble is said to be general paralysis of the brain and the question most necessary to determine at the hearing today was as to the possibility of such an injury resulting in his present condition. The doctors who testified rather inclined to the opinion that it would not; that insanity caused by such an accident would be temporary rather than permanent.

The arbitrators included Dudley M. Holman for the industrial board, Stanley E. Qua for the city of Lowell and J. J. Devine for the petitioner. Edward J. Tierney was counsel for the petitioner and City Solicitor Hennessey had the other end of the argument.

Witnesses in the case included Mrs. Sarah A. Crowley, wife of the petitioner; George W. Gordon, James H. Minnehan, Thomas P. Moloney and T. I. Judge, who were employed on the job with Crowley; Dr. Francis R. Mahoney, Michael H. Harrington, Dr. M. A. Tighe, Dr. J. V. Meigs and Dr. George M. Kline of the Hathorne hospital at Danvers. The latter read an abstract of the diagnosis of Crowley's case when he was admitted to the hospital and the same was incorporated in the records of the hearing. The matter was taken under advisement.

COMMUNICATION

OUR HIGH SCHOOL PROBLEM

At this crucial moment entering into the history of our high school when the city council has under serious consideration the purchase of 60,000 square feet of land lying between Kirk and Ann streets, adjoining our present high school lot which land bears a total assessed value of about $110,000 and building thereon an addition to the present school buildings, a suggestion may be in order. The estimated expenses of the school is $700,000 which, together with the present buildings will represent approximately a one million dollar investment to meet the educational requirements of 1500 high school pupils for a five hour session each day for about nine months each year. Such problems seem to call for serious consideration, when thought is given to the undesirable features which such site possesses, being located as it is so close in the confines of our mill district, subject to the smoke and gases from the factory chimneys and within so distinct hearing of the hum of thousands of machines in operation.

As a solution to this serious problem may I offer a suggestion that the city council may be prevailed upon to examine into some more suitable location like the Webber and Donohoe properties in Highland street, where approximately twice the amount of land may be acquired at one-fourth the cost of the proposed site, this property lying as it does up high, dry and airy overlooking the South common, easy of access, certainly presents features highly worth considering.

If considered favorably the city might proceed to construct thereon a suitable school building, and as the beautiful fire-proof main building of the Lowell Textile school cost less than $150,000, I assume from experience that the city might acquire such a building as would serve its purpose for a decade at twice such cost adding $50,000 for land and incidental work, making a total cost of $350,000 and showing a net saving of one-half of the estimated cost of $700,000, or $350,000 which would be available later on to transform the present high school into a beautiful public hall building and utilize the high school annex for a public bath system.

Yours truly,

E. G. Baker.

MAN NOT BEATEN

Claimed to Have Been Assaulted With Big Stick

It was reported today that an elderly man had been badly "beaten up" at the Dracut navy yard last night and the man supposed to have been assaulted called at the police station today but failed to convince the police that he had received a pounding. The trouble was supposed to have occurred at a wedding. It was stated that the old man had gone to the scene of the festivities with $150 in his jeans for the purpose of binding some bargain connected with the matrimonial contract. The police could not ascertain the true conditions of affairs so far as the marriage was concerned, but an examination of the man alleged to have been assaulted satisfied them that the assault as reported did not occur. The man in question brought the stick to the police station with which he said he had been assaulted. It was a birch stick about five feet in length and a little bigger round than a policeman's billy. The man said he had been beaten about the head and body, but inasmuch as he did not have any marks to show for it the police allowed the matter to rest until further evidence is produced.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD

HARRY HEBNER MADE 150 YARD BACK STROKE IN 1.53 3-5 AT SAN FRANCISCO TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Harry Hebner of the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago, established a new world's record for the 150-yard back stroke in the Panama-Pacific exposition indoor meet last night, it was announced today. His time was 1.53 3-5, which is one-fifth of a second less than that made by Weekson of Belgium who had the world's record.

ROUT OF THE AUSTRIANS

REPORT STATES AUSTRIANS DISLODGED AFTER FIERCE HAND TO HAND BATTLE

GENEVA, via PARIS, July 16, 11.50 p. m.—(Delayed by censor)—The Tribune prints the following despatch from its correspondent at the front:

"The Austro-Hungarian forces which attempted to dislodge the Russians from positions along the Vistula river have been repulsed with heavy loss. The Russians, attacking in turn, occupied a mile of the Austrian trenches.

"Fresh Russian batteries which have arrived and which have been posted on the Sereth river have begun to bombard the passage across the Dniester river, south of Zaleszczyky, obliging the Austrians to recross the river. Their retreat is being converted into a rout by Russian bayonet attacks.

"East of Horodenka, the Austrians occupying the left bank of the Dniester have been dislodged after a fierce hand to hand struggle.

Lillard Highchief, a member of the Indian party in the 101 Ranch, which appeared in this city yesterday afternoon and evening, got lost last night and was forced to remain in Lowell overnight. The local police were notified by telephone of the young Indian's disappearance this afternoon by the circus officials, who are now in Fitchburg, and this afternoon Court Officer Dwyer located him in a hotel, where he had spent the night. The circus man boarded the 5.10 o'clock train for Fitchburg, where he will perform this evening.

CHASED BY SUBMARINE

Passengers Aboard British Liner Tell of Escape — Six Shells Were Fired

NEW YORK, July 17.—Passengers aboard the British passenger liner Orduna, which reached here today, said that a submarine attempted to torpedo the vessel at 6 o'clock in the morning of July 9, and, failing in its effort, fired six shells at the steamer, none of which took effect.

Few passengers were on the deck when the attack occurred. Baron Rosenkrantz of Denmark, one of the passengers, reached the deck as the Orduna was fleeing from her assailant and witnessed the attack.

The submarine chased the steamer for a considerable time, and finally abandoned pursuit.

The information that the Orduna had been attacked was obtained when the vessel reached quarantine.

For a long time the vessels of the Cunard line have sailed the Atlantic with their wireless apparatus untouched. When, therefore, a radio message from Capt. Taylor was received yesterday at the company's offices saying the Orduna would dock today, officials perceived that something unusual had occurred but were unable to understand what the captain sought to convey to them.

The Tuscania also was mentioned in Capt Taylor's message as being 1012 miles off shore.

When the Orduna left Liverpool July 8 she passed out of communication with all the rest of the world. It was doubtful, officials here said, whether the British admiralty had even been informed of the attempt to torpedo the vessel. The Orduna had aboard 227 passengers. Therewere 21 Americans aboard, it was learned, when she docked here. Passengers say the submarine attack was made without previous warning.

LATE WAR NEWS

Italians Advance

Fighting on the Austro-Italian front has resulted in few recent changes of position, according to the latest report from Rome. Numerous attacks by the Austrians on the Italian advanced positions are recorded, all of which are declared to have been repulsed.

Miners' Strike

Attempts at solution of the South Wales coal strike problem failed for the time being, the miners' executive committee adjourning to Monday after an abortive attempt to reach an agreement on means to secure a settlement.

NEW GERMAN OFFENSIVE WITH SEAPORT OF RIGA AS OBJECTIVE

LONDON, July 17, 12.28 p. m.—A new German offensive of huge proportions with the great Russian seaport of Riga as its objective, is revealed in the latest official statements issued at Petrograd and Berlin. Military experts here construe the offensive to be a vast envelopment movement in which the Germans are making a herculean effort to destroy the Russian army.

Both the German and Russian communications agree that the German forces are at the Windau river, near Goldingen, which is only 80 miles from Riga.

Sanguinary Fighting

An official statement received today from Petrograd adds details of sanguinary fighting all along the new line in efforts to hold back the German advance on Riga and Warsaw while the Austro-Hungarians are moving northward from the Dniester river.

Advices reaching London today say that the Germans left a trail of desolation along the Baltic sea from Memel to Libau, where the villas, hotels and casinos are alleged to have been destroyed.

Crown Prince Frederick William's drive in the Argonne forest now is accepted as a small success in gaining a few hundred yards of terrain, but as a failure in attaining its real object —a decisive penetration of the French line.

Miners Increase Demands

The ominous attitude adopted by the Welsh coal miners causes serious apprehension. The miners now have increased their demands by asking the government to withdraw the royal proclamation making the coal mines subject to the munitions act. President Runciman of the board of trade rejected this proposal at a conference last night and a meeting held in London today failed to secure any ground for an adjustment. The extremist leaders declare, however, that it is a question no longer of a five per cent increase in wages but the abrogation of the royal proclamation, which subjects the miners to a fine of $25 daily for striking.

No effort yet has been made to enforce the fines against the 160,000 strikers, which the leaders construe as recognition of the virtual impossibility of carrying out the plan.

HOW TO MAKE A GIRL'S FROCK—NO PRETTIER DRESS EVER WAS DEVISED

No prettier dress for little girls ever was devised than the one with the bertha finishing the round neck. This summer it is exceedingly fashionable and the model shown here is one of the prettiest as well as the simplest that the season has to offer. Mothers who find it necessary to replenish the wardrobe in mid-summer will be exceedingly glad of the design for the lovely muslins, voiles, batistes and fabrics of the sort that just now are to be purchased at real bargain prices. Those who are looking ahead and using the mid-summer leisure to provide for the coming season, will like it for challis and for the similar materials of between season wear. Since it can be made with either long or short sleeves and with or without the body lining, it is suited to all seasons. The skirt is a simple straight one, but the hem and the graduated tucks make a most attractive finish, so that with really very little labor, the dress produces a most satisfactory result. In the diagram is shown the best method of laying the pattern out on material thirty-six inches in width and since that width is the one to be found in a great variety of materials, it makes the best for our purpose. As will be seen at a glance, if wider material is used, there will be more or less waste, the piecing for the skirt will be narrower, but otherwise there will be no material change. The material is folded lengthwise both for the dress and for the lining, but as a matter of course, the lining is quite separate and made from a different material from the dress.

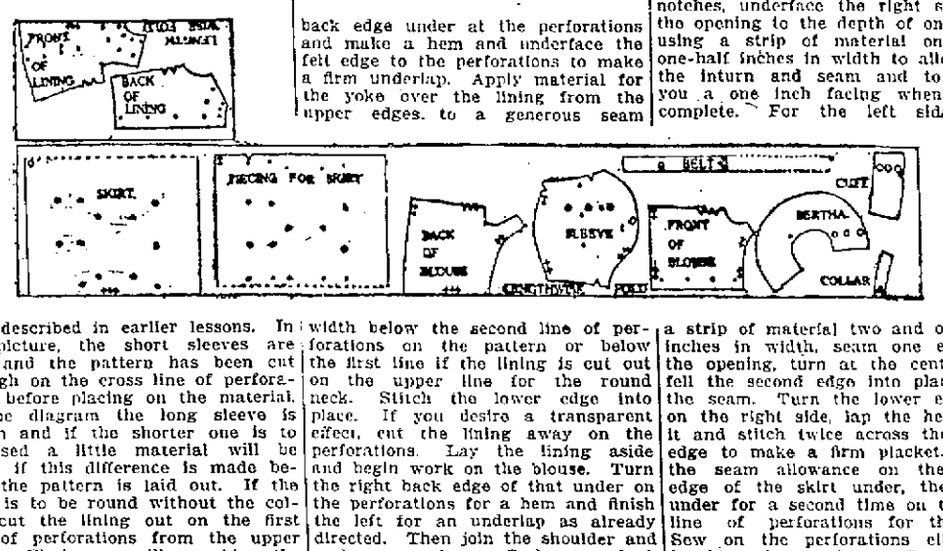

After marking all around the outside edges of the pattern with a tracing wheel or with tailors' chalk as may be better for the special material, cut out carefully, allowing seams as wide as your material renders desirable, narrower if it is closely woven, wider if it will fray readily. Then lay the pattern on the material, mark all the perforations and the notches with care and then mark through to the under side with the tailors' tacks that have been described in earlier lessons. In the picture, the short sleeves are used and the pattern has been cut through on the cross line of perforations before placing on the material. In the diagram the long sleeve is shown and if the shorter one is to be used a little material will be saved if this difference is made before the pattern is laid out. If the neck is to be round without the collar, cut the lining out on the first line of perforations from the upper edge. First, we will consider the dress that is to be made of challis or other material that requires lining. Secondly, we will take up the question of the very little difference that will exist when that lining is omitted.

As a first step, take up the darts in the lining front, bringing the corresponding lines of perforations together accurately and stitch. Then split the seams at their folded edges and press open. Whip the edges for a neat finish. Close the shoulder and under-arm seams. Turn the right back edge under at the perforations and make a hem and underface the felt edge to the perforations to make a firm underlap. Apply material for the yoke over the lining from the upper edges, to a generous seam width below the second line of perforations on the pattern or below the first line if the lining is cut out on the upper line for the round neck. Stitch the lower edge into place. If you desire a transparent effect, cut the lining away on the perforations. Lay the lining aside and begin work on the blouse. Turn the right back edge of that under on the perforations for a hem and finish the left for an underlap as already directed. Then join the shoulder and under-arm edges. Gather at both upper and lower edges between the double crosses, arrange it over the lining with the center fronts and back edges together, the under-arm and shoulder seams exactly meeting the upper edge at perforations. Pin together at these various points to be sure they are accurate; draw up your gathers as required to fit the lining and baste into place carefully at the upper, the lower and the armhole edges and tack the back edges one to the other. Next, stitch the upper edge into place firmly.

To make the sleeves, close the seams with the notches exactly meeting. For the short sleeves, gather at the lower edges and join to narrow bands to fit the arms. For the long sleeves, gather at the lower edges between the two crosses, join the ends of the cuffs and join to the sleeves with the notches meeting and the large perforations at the seams. Whether the sleeves are long or short, gather them at their upper edges between the two crosses and place in the arm-holes, with the seams at the notches in the front of the lining and the single large perforations at the shoulder seams. Stitch and bind the seams with a narrow bias strip of the lining material or with the bias tape that can be purchased ready for use. Finish the neck edge in any way that you like, with little frills of lace or with the picot edging that can be whipped on by hand, or, if you use the high neck, join the collar to the neck edge with the center fronts and backs exactly meeting. As a next step, finish the ends and the lower edges of the bertha and trim with the ruches illustrated or in any way that you like and then arrange over the blouse. Turn up over the yoke, allowing the seam allowance to extend down over the blouse. Pin the center front, center backs exactly together and the single large perforations at the shoulder seams. Baste and stitch at the edge of the blouse, taking in just the seam allowance and whip the edges for a neat finish. Then turn down over the blouse when the seams will be entirely concealed and the sewing will be lost to view. Join the lower edge of the blouse to the belt with the center fronts and backs together and the single perforations at the under-arm seams.

To make the skirt, join the pieces as your material has rendered necessary and bind each edge of each seam separately with a little strip of material if the material is thin enough for that or with binding tape and press the seams open. Then close the back seam below the notches, underface the right side of the opening to the depth of one inch using a strip of material one and one-half inches in width to allow for the inturn and seam and to leave you a one inch facing when it is complete. For the left side, cut a strip of material two and one-half inches in width, seam one edge to the opening, turn at the center and fell the second edge into place over the seam. Turn the lower edge up on the right side, lap the hem over it and stitch twice across the lower edge to make a firm placket. Turn the seam allowance on the lower edge of the skirt under, then turn under for a second time on the first line of perforations for the hem. Sew on the perforations either by hand or by machine. Form tucks by bringing the corresponding lines of perforations together and sew on the perforations. Then gather the skirt at the upper edge between the two crosses, using two rows of gathers, one quarter of an inch apart, draw up and join to belt with the center fronts and center backs together and the single large perforations meeting. Stitch and then cut a second belt of the lining material, turn the seam allowance on all edges under and arrange under the belt, covering the seam on the skirt and the seam on the blouse. Hem or stitch into place to make a strong and neat finish. Adjust any girdle or sash over it that you may like.

To make without the blouse lining, cut the pattern of the lining through to the seam width below the second line of perforations from the upper edge and use as a pattern for the yoke. Lay it over yoking material and cut as already directed. Make the blouse exactly as I have told you to do for the lined waist, but draw up the upper edge and arrange it over the yoke with the upper edge at the line of perforations and stitch firmly into place. The rest of the work is exactly the same as for the lined waist with only the difference that when the lining is omitted, it is advisable to make double seams on the waist, whereas, when it is lined, it necessary only to make single seams and press them open. For the sleeves and the back of the skirt, always use the double seams.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Counterfeit money of face value of nearly $75,000, alleged counterfeit Minnesota state bonds running up to $25,000, and dies, plates, engraving tools and chemicals used by a gang of counterfeiters believed to have operated on a large scale fell into the hands of the police yesterday. Five men were arrested. The money was made in Duluth.

MATRIMONIAL

James J. Cosgrove of Dracut Centre and Miss Mae E. Robinson of Wilmington were married Wednesday, the ceremony being performed at St. Michael's rectory by Rev. Francis J. Mullin.

FINNEGAN—RYAN

Joseph G. Finnegan and Miss Della Ryan were married Wednesday at St. Patrick's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin. The bridemaid was Miss Gertrude Cashman, and the best man, Andrew F. Finnegan, brother of the bridegroom The bride wore pink silk with pink shadow lace and carried bridal roses. The bridemaid was attired in white silk with embroidered lace and carried pinks. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the couple's future home, 312 Thorndike street, where a wedding supper was served.

SLADEN HIGGINS

John E. Sladen and Miss Elsie E. Higgins were married July 12 at the parsonage of St. John's Episcopal church, 465 High street by the pastor, Rev. James Bancroft. Henry J. Heal and Miss Emily Heal acted as best man and bridemaid respectively. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue with a white picture hat, while the bridemaid also wore a traveling suit with picture hat. They will make their home at 44 Billings street.

IN POLICE COURT

Tewksbury Case of Gambling — Non-Support Case

Walter Smith and James A. Mullin, the two South Boston boys arrested on the veranda of a camp in Tewksbury last Sunday for playing a game on the Lord's day, in that they participated in a game of whist, were called on continuance before Judge Enright in the local court today. Frank Farmer of the Tewksbury constabulary had nothing to report against either of the defendants so the court ordered their cases placed on file on findings of guilty. He warned them about the complaints that had been made relative to the camp at which they stop, however.

Brothers Quarreled

Two brothers were the principals in a threatening case that occupied a good part of today's session. Sotiros Lambasis was the defendant and his brother, Peter, the complainant. It was alleged by the government that as a result of an argument arising over the payment of certain bills Sotiros assaulted his brother and threatened to kill him. The court did not believe that the threat was made with intent to do any harm so ordered the complaint dismissed. Fisher H. Pearson appeared for the complainant and Daniel J. Donahue for the defendant.

John F. Harmon was complained of by his wife for failing to properly provide for their minor children. Mrs. Harmon said that she and her children had been neglected by the defendant who only earns small pay when he works and often does not attempt to work steadily.

Harmon testified that he always contributed his whole earnings to the household. He said he has a tenement on Adams street at the present time ready for his wife to come back and live with him. Judge Enright ordered the case continued for two weeks for the purpose of uniting the couple again. Hon. James E. O'Donnell appeared for the defendant.

A young woman was placed on probation for alleged larceny of shoes, stockings, handkerchiefs, etc., from Chalifoux's and Pollard's stores. She was arrested in Chalifoux's yesterday noon after being detected taking some articles from a counter and placing them in a bag. On account of her spotless record in the past, the court placed her in care of Probation Officer Slattery but stated that he would do his part to stop this "shoplifting" which has been going on.

Two drunken offenders were placed on probation.

DANBURY HATTERS PAYING UP

DANBURY, Conn., July 17.—The Savings Bank of Danbury yesterday paid to D. E. Loewe & Co., $19,423 as part of the judgment of $252,000 ordered by the United States supreme court in the Danbury Hatters litigation. The sum represents deposits of individual hatters, attached when the suit was first instituted in 1908. Other banks, where the hatters' money is tied up, will soon make payments to the company, it is said.

FIVE DEAD IN FLOODS

DWELLINGS AND WHOLE AREAS OF CROPS SUBMERGED NEAR COLUMBUS O.—LOSS OF $2,000,000

COLUMBUS, O., July 17.—Five dead, scores injured and more than $2,000,000 worth of property damaged were the toll of floods which stared Thursday night and continued yesterday resulted from torential rains throughout Central Ohio. Hundreds of acres of land are under water and vast areas imperilled by weak levees and embankments. Hundreds of houses and whole areas of crops are submerged.

IMPROVED CONDITIONS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 17.—The passing last night without any considerable rainfall, resulted in improved conditions early today throughout the Ohio flood district. Virtually all rivers began receding here early today, bringing relief from anxious watchers, especially in the flood stricken district on the west side, where thousands remained up all night. Levees along the Scioto river here, which began leaking yesterday afternoon, were repaired during the night and today were holding fast.

A SELFISH SPIRIT

It is not especially inspiring at the present time to read the interviews given by American inventors of things military in which they declare their intention of turning them over to foreign governments. Many of the most effective instruments of war in foreign armies and navies are the product of American brains, wealth and initiative, but if there ever was a time when American inventors should consider their own country first, the time is now.

The original inventors of the aeroplane, the iron clad, the submarine and many other important war inventions were discouraged in their attempts to get congress interested; they were greeted with indifference at home, and they found a ready market abroad. The great governments of Europe in their vigilant rivalries, scoured the world for inventions that would give them respective pre-eminence, and so we find that today some of the most effective factors in the battle lines of all the belligerents are the fruit of American invention—and this while leaders here are shouting from the housetops that America is inefficient and unprepared for war.

One cannot blame the American inventors of the past for turning to foreign governments for the recognition, encouragement and financial aid refused at home. The public attitude towards the Wrights can easily be recalled; here there was considerable skepticism and some degree of curiosity while in France the inventors were given the highest honors and the distinguished recognition of the leading European scientists. Furthermore, our congressional savants were arguing on the propriety of adding a few aeroplanes to the American army at a time when France, England and Germany were adding them to their armies with feverish haste.

There is a new spirit abroad in America, and it is now seen that our army and navy must become fully efficient. The war has shown that the submarine and aerial craft are the instruments of the future, and Secretary Daniels has made a great move in the formation of an advisory board composed of the greatest inventors and business leaders in the country. The need for scientific progress will surely be recognized by the next congress, because American public opinion is becoming too pressing to be ignored, and in the closing days of the last session, there was a disposition to sanction expenditures for improvements without the old time bickerings and airing of nonsensical provincial doubts.

At this time therefore, it is to be deplored that so many American inventors openly threaten to offer their patents to foreign governments. Only a day or so ago two Cincinnati chemists who are said to have invented a plan to combat poisonous gases, declared in the press that they would offer it to France, England and Italy. When asked why they would not try to interest their own country they said that they had received but scant courtesy in Washington when they sought to interest this government in previous inventions.

Another threat that has received wide publicity is that of John Hayes Hammond, Jr., who threatens to sell abroad the inventions recommended to congress by the war department, provided the American government does not act promptly. This spirit is to be deplored. In such an important matter, congress cannot act hastily, and it is not popularly believed that Mr. Hammond, Jr., is in need of the money. His system of wireless control may indeed prove pivotal in modern warfare, but it is something entirely new and not to be accepted without question. Mr. Hammond and our other inventors should consider that few German, French or English inventors come here to sell their secrets to the American government. It looks as though with the foreign desire for gain is a high sense of patriotism which strives to benefit their own country first. Congress is to a certain sense to be blamed for its dilatory and unbusinesslike methods, but for every American inventor to run into the foreign agencies with plans and blue prints is a poor outlook for America. The great Edison gave a splendid example to all American scientific men when he recently declared that he would busy himself with war inventions to serve his own country only.

WITH CHILDREN'S HELP

While so many agitations against child labor are in the air, it is not strange that the pendulum has swung to the other direction. Now, many well-meaning agitators believe that all work is injurious to children, and the good old fashioned doctrine that the right work never hurt a boy or girl is in danger of extinction. Yet, where men and women of today recall their own childhood, it will be believed by many that the proper kind of employment is a help instead of a hindrance to the development of children.

Doctor Claxton of the United States bureau of education has estimated that if one third of the thirteen million school children of the country were to engage in the cultivation of back yards, vacant lots and other available space, they would add $200,000,000 annually to the national wealth and would be enabled to remain in school from three to four years longer on the average, before taking up the battle of life. He expressly states that he refers to city children rather than to their rural brothers and sisters. While emphasizing the economic side of the question, he does not overlook the educational and physical advantages of such work.

In this city a great deal has been done with our school gardens, and the results are gratifying. The work has not gone beyond the experimental stage to any extent, but if the same interest were applied to the home garden as is displayed in the school garden, efforts would be noteworthy. The government is striving to inculcate this habit of gardening into the children of America, canning clubs, etc., and in the west and middle west the campaign is bearing fruit. There is certainly a great opening for the agitation of children's gardens in the cities of this section, and if we had more of such healthful employment, the roll of juvenile delinquents would scarcely be so large. Better that our children should be striving to grow flowers and vegetables in our vacant lots than be as now imbibing lessons of crime from the gangs who infest such lots during the summer months.

GENEROUSLY WEALTHY

Edward N. Hurley, vice-chairman of the federal trade commission said in Chicago a few days ago in an announcement of plans of the commission to increase trade:

"The United States will be generously wealthy if the European war continues six months longer." He is one of a large committee which is starting out on a tour of the central west and Pacific coast for the purpose of promoting the business interests of the country, and in the furtherance of this end, the committee will seek interviews with bankers, merchants, manufacturers and business leaders everywhere.

That American business will not permit its interests to be jeopardized without a strenuous protest is proved by the activity of the meat packers and the still greater activity of the cotton men of the south. While condemning the submarine campaign of Germany insofar as it interferes with legitimate American business interests, our civic bodies and great private firms are equally emphatic in their protests against the detention policies of England, and at their request the American government is about to make representations abroad, reflecting the American view. This country desires no unlawful advantage arising from the war, but it will not tolerate any intrusion on rights which we have in common with all neutrals. These rights include the right to work for the extension of our foreign trade, and to permit our factories to fill all the orders they receive, provided they treat all belligerents alike.

ANOTHER MUDDLE?

No one can deny that the plans for a new bridge at Pawtucketville were a sorry muddle from start to finish, merely because the municipal council disregarded the proper way of doing business and evaded the spirit of the city charter. We are now in danger of making a still greater muddle of our new high school plans. Without making definite plans, arranging for preliminary sketches and estimates, deciding on material or area, or doing anything positive towards the actual planning or building, our municipal builders decided on a cost of $700,000 and from now on it is to be presumed that all plans will aim at coming up to that figure. Surely the proposal to spend such an enormous sum entails large responsibility, but the greatest eagerness is apparent all around to shift the responsibility to somebody else. Some members of the municipal council would like to leave the planning to the school board, some members of the school board blame the municipal council for delay, and some members of both bodies would leave it to the superintendent of schools and principal of the high school to decide. Meanwhile, it is proposed to have a sight-seeing trip to cities that have up-to-date high schools for the purpose of comparing notes and getting ideas. The tactics of the city officials relative to the proposed high school do not tend to discourage the growing idea that our officials are not efficient enough to handle such a problem or considerate enough of the city's interests to provide for a high school that will give us the best at the lowest figure consistent with our municipal needs.

NEBRASKAN MEMO.

The apology which the German government has sent to Washington regarding the sinking of the steamer Nebraskan is evidently such that it indicates the desire of Germany to show its friendliness of [illegible]. Quite different in tone from most of the diplomatic notes, it takes full responsibility, expresses regret in plain terms and promises reparation. Germany wants us to believe that the outrage was not intended for the American flag, but nevertheless there is no disposition to show that the commander of the submarine was not fully within his rights from the German point of view. In expressing regret for the "accident" Germany does not infer that such an accident may not occur at any time.

Had the Nebraskan been flying the American flag at the time of the torpedo attack, it would probably have escaped, but it was an American ship even without the flag. Its fate bears out the contention of the American government that in Germany's submarine raids it is extremely difficult to observe the established rules of international law. Our officials will therefore accept the German apology and reparation but they will send a note of protest against this further intrusion of American rights. Taking into consideration all the trouble that Germany has got into and the small percentage of British shipping destroyed, it is doubtful if her submarine warfare is proving as successful as was intended.

NEW GERMAN DRIVE

Warsaw is still the great objective of the German drive in the east. For some time attention has been riveted on the armies of Gen. Von Mackensen who drove the Russians from Galicia and pursued them until a strong Russian defensive forced a halt. Since then there has been considerable doubt as to the next move of the Germans but that doubt has been at last dispelled. Suddenly Von Hindenburg who has not been active since he cleared East Prussia of the enemy has started to march on Warsaw from the north, and at the same time Von Mackensen has resumed the offensive on the south. The Russians have been taken by surprise, but they may reorganize quickly enough to make the third great attack on Warsaw a distinct failure. Some military experts declare that the object of the Germans is to crush the Russian army between the armies of the two great German generals and a few days ago Von Hindenburg was quoted in the press as declaring that he would soon astonish the world. Yet the armies which failed to take Paris and Calais even in the first great rush may fail to take Warsaw, and in the east every German failure is terribly costly. Russia can stand a great many temporary defeats, but Germany cannot forever recuperate to the extent that she has done in the present instance. For the next few weeks, the Russian campaign will be followed with interest and anxiety in all parts of the world, for the fall of Warsaw would a be telling blow to the allies.

THE SPELLBINDER

Two well known "philanthropists and publicists," one named Baker and the other Howe, stood watching the Ranch 101 parade at Merrimack and Central streets yesterday, just behind the writer. As the Indians passed Mr. Baker observed: "I think there's a little of the Indian in The Spellbinder of The Sun."

"I guess there's a little of this that's coming, in all three of us," remarked Mr. Howe, and along came a wagon on top of which stood an animal that closely resembled a bull.

"We are advertised by our loving friends."

Doesn't Know Joe Hibbard

Editor Marden commenting upon the campaign of Congressman Deitrick of Cambridge, the "work-legged" candidate for governor, who though, unhappily deprived of the use of both limbs is going to literally "stump" the state, on foot, remarks:

"Meantime we note that Mr. Deitrick is not going to take chances. He has ordered 'a dozen extra cork-legs to await him at Springfield, Lawrence, Lowell, Boston, Provincetown and other cities.' Also numerous crutches. Query whether all this preparation may not be somewhat costly for one who asks the public to believe that the candidate cannot assume the burden of a Flivver car? Extra cork legs, even in dozen lots, must cost a fairish sum. The extra legs are brought in New York, we are told. Is there no serviceable cork limb made in Massachusetts, any longer?"

Is there no serviceable cork-leg made in Massachusetts any longer, forsooth! Sure there is—as long as the wearer may require, and though his good leg may be of the diminutive demensions of one of Shorty Dee's or of the elongated proportions of either of Grafton Cushing's, it can be matched for length and symmetry, and Joe Hibbard is the president of the company that manufactures them. Can it be that Joe was asleep at the switch when Congressman Deitrick was looking around for third rails, or had that contest for registrar of voters taken his mind from ordinary affairs? Deitrick made a mistake in not getting his legs from Joe's concern, for no imported ballet company ever displayed a more clean-cut or more serviceable collection of limbs than those turned out by Joe's company, and anyone contemplating an investment in such should consult him before going elsewhere. Once upon a time the writer had all plans and specifications made out for one for himself, but finally discovered the old one would last a while longer.

Those Waterways Again

Recently a boy named Wazinak residing in Centralville lost his life in the Merrimack off Front street while playing ball in the vicinity and his father Stanislaus Wazinak has brought suit through Jackson Palmer, with the city as the defendant. This is the second case of this kind pending while the city already has been stung for a goodly amount in the similar case of Marion Andrews. Mr. Palmer has sent out the following letter to every church and labor union in the city:

"Dear Sir:—

"Four years ago, Harry W. J. Howe called to the attention of the city government the dangerous condition of the open waterways of Lowell. Annually he has repeated his public call. "Since then sixty children have been drowned in the city limits.

"Early this summer Mr. Howe brought the matter again to the city council. Nothing has been done after a hearing until the newspapers published the story of another death, when a view was taken by representatives of the government. No active step has been taken to safeguard the children from the menace of the canals and rivers. More drowings will occur until the traps are fenced.

"It is the duty of our city to protect the children. And the city can do much without any expense to the tax payers; the abutting owners can be compelled to enclose every foot of open waterways dangerous to child life. The cost will fall upon those who have a financial interest in these death traps.

"Will you not make a personal effort to see every commissioner and use your influence to force the city council to invoke the law provided for this situation? Will you not do your part to prevent a repetition of the history of the past twenty-five years, a period marked by the graves of over three hundred innocent children?"

Over two months ago the Trades and Labor Council appealed to the municipal council to spend a few dollars toward safeguarding the lives of children, but nothing has been done. The municipal council has money galore for other purposes but none for the protection of child life.

Since the above was written one more life was lost, last night.

As a result of the recent agitation the Locks & Canals company is now building a fence along Front street for several hundred feet. The fence consists of a top rail about four feet from the ground and one parallel narrow board through the centre. Judging from the nature of the fence, the Locks & Canals may have its own protection from the law uppermost in its official mind rather than protection of the children. The fence now being built will protect a horse or cow or even perhaps an elephant from going over the slope at this point, but it is a matter of great doubt as to the protection it will afford to small children. But the city hasn't even put up a "near" fence at any point.

Belvidere Residents Are Wondering

In Thursday's Sun a statement appeared from Commissioner Morse relative to the large amount of street work that he did last year and that he is doing this year. Mr. Morse said: "I did more work last year than was ever done before in one year and I intend to do more work this year than was done last year."

"But," says a resident of Belvidere, commenting upon the statement, "he said last year that he would pave Gorham street to the iron but he stopped at the Maple, and he said he'd finish Westford street and he failed to do so. What is he going to do with Rogers and Nesmith streets? They've been eight weeks or more fixing a wall over there and the way they are going doesn't look well for the completion of the two jobs before the cold weather. Instead of fixing up streets in the outskirts, why doesn't he give his attention to completing the big jobs? There's been a fine street put in somewhere in the vicinity of the Mt. Pleasant golf links that wasn't needed as a public improvement, while other and more frequently traveled streets are still in an unsafe condition. It's all right to spend a lot of money on street work and give a lot of men work, but why not spend it where it will do the most good?"

It is no ordinary job to widen a street like Rogers street, and perhaps the commissioner is going along as rapidly as possible, and the kicker may be unnecessarily worried. Time will tell.

It is true that the commissioner has been doing a great amount of street work and for the best of reasons; he has been given the money with which to do it.

But the city pavers have had only 22 days work this year, for which the weather was partly responsible.

Just for Appearance's Sake

Even if the charter is only a scrap of paper in the opinion of some city officials, and needs not be taken seriously, for appearance's sake, it would be much better for them if they do any business with the city either to comply with it or to use somebody's name rather than their own, for it would look bad to see the name of a paid official of the city in the monthly financial report as one of the city's creditors, especially when section 36 of the city charter reads: "It shall be unlawful for a member of the municipal council or school committee, or any officer or employe of the city, directly or indirectly, to make a contract with the city or to receive any commission, discount, bonus, gift, contribution or reward from, or any share in the profits of any person or corporation making or performing such a contract, unless such member, officer or employe immediately upon learning of the existence of such contract, or that such contract is proposed, shall notify in writing the municipal council or school committee of such contract and shall abstain from doing any official act on behalf of the city in reference thereto. In case such interest exists on the part of an officer whose duty it is to make such a contract on behalf of the city, the contract may be made by another officer of the city duly authorized thereto by the mayor, or if the mayor has such interest by the commissioner of finance."

On Trust Funds

The action of the municipal government last year in attempting to take the city's trust funds to use for current expenses is recalled by the following statement of the experts from Chief Gallemy's office, who audited the accounts at city hall:

"The practice of accepting trust funds and immediately using the principal for some municipal purpose, expecting posterity forever to contribute by taxation the money to meet an interest charge on account of the same, is so far removed from business principles that the average citizen cannot comprehend it; in fact, the exposure of these practices by special reports by the bureau of statistics and by a recess committee of the legislature was so convincing that the great and general court immediately placed upon the statute books a law which required that all such funds should be restored in 1914 and that no future fund should be invested in other than securities in which savings banks can invest.

I was informed that the city could not, acting under good legal advice, restore these funds by the incurrence of debt under the provisions of this act. If that be true, there is no reasonable excuse for the cities not seeking special legislation which will permit the restoration of these funds in a reasonable period of time."

It will be recalled that the municipal council proposed to withdraw the trust funds which were drawing interest from the banks and make use of them paying interest on them out of the tax levy. Thus the city not only would be losing the interest that had come from outside sources but would have to pay out of the treasury more than the amount already lost to supply the loss itself. It surely was fine business. But since then we have had them building a bridge and now they're at it again on a high school.

Putting Through Porter Street

The former administration appropriated money for the extension of Porter street and went out of office before the work had been accomplished. The incoming government, of which three members, the mayor and Commissioners Carmichael and Morse, are still in office, sat down hard on the proposition, as in its opinion the city could not afford the improvement, and Porter street was not extended. A few days ago the municipal council voted to extend Porter street, without comment or objection. The extension of that street was as necessary over a year ago as it is today; money is no more plentiful today than it was at that time. The only difference is that over one year ago the new government was trying to make a favorable impression by undoing certain acts of its predecessors, while now the time to go before the public for re-election is about due and all improvements that mean votes are to be looked upon with favor, especially by those who are to come up for re-election.

How About Springfield?

Having enlightened us upon about every other public institution in the city of Springfield, the mayor should tell the public how Springfield has handled the question of having a contagious disease hospital. Perhaps Springfield hasn't any at all, which may account for the mayor's apparent disinclination to do anything toward having one in Lowell. Or maybe Springfield has gotten around the law, for the state board of health doesn't appear to be after that city in regard to that matter as it is after Lowell. This may account for an apparent attempt to get around the law in Lowell by purchasing a lot of land to be known as a "site" for the hospital, allowing some future government to fight it out with the state authorities. That was pretty good dope sent out from city hall, a few days ago, to the effect that a site had been looked at in Chelmsford, which, of course, had a legal objection attached to it. In a short time we may expect to learn of other sites that have been inspected, each having some feature that makes it unavailable, and finally they'll go back to Pawtucketville where the sewer that nobody wanted was put in a year ago, and it will be found that as a result of the construction of that sewer a fine site is available in that locality.

Cost of Freshet

A man who professes to know, states that this freshet which has made the river run riot will cost the Locks & Canals company from $3000 to $8000 to repair the damage done at the dam over Pawtucket falls, while the company will lose about $75,000 in water, as the uninterrupted flow since the dam gave way means a constant drain on the source of the river at Winnepesaukee. Is it any wonder, then, that the Locks & Canals company is fussy about the kind of bridge that the city would build at Pawtucket falls? And if the force of the water could dislodge tons of stone dowelled, together and standing firm for years, what might it have done to Commissioner Morse and his valiant ledge removers and their machinery had the street department been at work in the bed of the river, as the commissioner proposed should be done, a few days before the trouble came.

Caring For the Hair

It is a mistake to suppose that the hair is annually shed as birds molt their plumage and some animals change their coats. Human hair is perennial, and if its owner escapes illness and takes proper care of her "crown of glory" it will retain its vigor until late in life.

Winter is hard on the hair, as it is on the complexion, and while the hair grows at the rate of five or six inches a year, this growth is mostly in the summer.

While the condition of the hair is largely a matter of physical health, yet certain characteristics result from fastidious care. Unkempt, rough, lustreless, split hair is always the death knell to its attractiveness. The hair should be carefully brushed every night. Brilliantines and modern preparations for causing the hair to curl should be avoided as much as possible.

By keeping up a good health standard, the general splendor of the hair will be improved. Good blood is the best asset toward lustrous tresses.

BUILDING AND REALTY

U. S. Bunting Company Plans New Structure—Permits Issued —Real Estate Transactions

There has been a slight increase in the number of building permits issued this week as compared to that of last week. A week ago the number dropped noticeably, but judging from the list of permits for new buildings at city hall the situation has become brisker. One of the most important of the new developments in the building field is the erection of a new building for the United States Bunting company which will be used for mill purposes. This building will be one story in height, the walls of which will be of solid brick. The size of the building will be 30 by 30 feet and 76 feet deep, with gravel roof, and will have a cement foundation. The estimated cost of this structure is $1500.

Arthur Genest, 111 Gershom avenue, is erecting four buildings, each of which is a two-family apartment house, 5 rooms, pantry and bath. The buildings are of wood, two and one-half stories high and measure 24 by 50 ft. The estimated cost of each of these dwellings is $2500. The locations of these new buildings are: 73-75 Viola street, 77-79 Viola street, 83-85 Viola street, and 92-94 Forrest street.

Narcisse Clement is making an addition for a piazza on his house located at 179 Ludlam street. The purpose of this alteration is to make over one story piazza by adding a second story.

Aaron J. Second, 52 Bellevue street, is building a one-family dwelling on lot 20 Bellevue street extension. The building will comprise 6 rooms, pantry and bath and sleeping porch and will measure 26 by 26 feet. The cost of this edifice will be in the neighborhood of $2500.

Michael Doyle is converting his building at 63-65 Andrews street into a three-story dwelling with a flat roof. He will add two more entrances to the two already there. The expense of these alterations will come to $1600.

Theophile H. Brassard, 68 Mt. Hope street is widening his garage five feet at the cost of $2500.

A one story wood dwelling will be built at 29 Putnam avenue for Chas. P. Witham. This building will be 20 by 30 feet and will have a stone foundation and will be of 7 rooms, pantry and bath. The cost of this house is $2400.

Frank McMaster is building a storage shed, 9 by 11 feet at 89-91 Viola street at a cost of $25.

Joseph Sternberg will rebuild the fire escape on the outside of his house at 104 Howard street and will also enlarge the piazza. This work will cost $75.

A garage, 15 by 15 feet, concrete foundation will be built for Gabriel Kalian in the rear of his home, 714 Gorham street. The cost is $100.

Harry R. Condrey, 11 Midland street, is building a garage of concrete blocks, with a concrete foundation in the rear of his home. The fireproof garage will cost $300.

REAL ESTATE DEALERS

Sales by Byam Bros.

Byam Bros., real estate brokers, with offices at 97 Central street, report the following sales for the week ending July 16, 1915:

Contracts have been closed calling for the transfer of a very choice suburban property within four miles of Lowell. The property is situated on a main road, comprises 12 acres of excellent heavy land set out to fruit and fine set of buildings. The house has nine large, sunny rooms, bath, hot and cold water, furnace heat. In front of the house is a beautiful lawn set out to shrubs and flower beds. There is a large barn, shed and garage, all in A1 condition. The purchaser is a local party who buys for a home. Full details will be given at a later date.

Contracts have also been closed on a first class milk route in one of the best sections of the city. Both of the contracting parties are local people.

Contract by Geo. A. Hill

Geo. A. Hill, the electrical contractor, is wiring six new houses on Mansur and Wyman streets for E. A. Simpson. He is wiring five new houses on Dumerle street for H. B. Greene, a house on Andover street for John A. Nelson, and one for Hugh Mellen, a new house on East Merrimack street for Harriet R. Cole, one on Parkview avenue for Ed. A. Teague, a house on Highland avenue for Wm. W. Myers, a two-apartment house on Rea street for F. A. Major and many others. Mr. Hill quotes wholesale prices to the retail trade and endeavors to use all his customers on the square, believing that satisfied customers mean success.

NEW TENANT IN SUN BUILDING

Miss Carol F. Heath, Interior Decorator, Now Occupies Room 612—Graduate of Rogers Hall School

Miss Carol F. Heath now has her offices in The Sun building, room 612. To say merely that Miss Heath is an interior decorator might be a little misleading, for the scope of her work is quite varied and consists chiefly in making the home beautiful. She gives her attention to the color scheme of each room of the house which she is decorating, choosing suitable colors that a harmonious whole is secured. Work of this nature requires painstaking care of details and none but one especially gifted for such a calling can produce artistic results. After the color scheme has been decided proper and fitting, furniture, draperies, wood finish, etc., occupies the attention of the artist. This is a problem which always confronts those about to furnish a home. Miss Heath in her advisory capacity relieves them of this burden, using her own judgment borne of extensive study. Those who are either contemplating furnishing their homes or making alterations will find Miss Heath of great assistance. They may seek her advice only or if they prefer she will undertake the entire work, the customer signifying the amount he wishes to expend. Miss Heath will plan accordingly and show what beautiful results can be produced at the given figure. One will find it advantageous to have her undertake the whole work because of her knowledge and also because of the fact that she can buy at some of the best wholesale houses and get the very latest in furnishings. Another feature of Miss Heath's work is decorating for special events such as parties, weddings, etc. In these decorations everything is novel and attractive.

Miss Heath is well known in Lowell, having lived here during the last 12 years, with the exception of the time spent in study under the famous decorator, Alexander Barroggio, at the Pratt Institute of New York, from which she graduated with high honors. She is also a graduate of Rogers Hall school. Since her occupancy of room 612, in The Sun building, many Lowell people have availed themselves of her services, including many who of necessity went to Boston for interior decoration work.

MODEL BRICK HOUSE

One of the features of special interest to the builder at the Panama-Pacific international exposition at San Francisco is the model residence put up by the Panama-Pacific Clay Products association. We understand that the object of the building is to create a greater interest in the use of brick and other burned clay materials that enter into residence construction. It is a typical American dwelling, intended especially for the family of moderate income, the cost of erection in 50 or more different American cities having been estimated to be in the neighborhood of $5000. The house will be open to inspection during the entire period of the exposition, and will doubtless be visited by thousands of prospective home builders, who will carry away the lessons taught by its clever planning and sane construction to reflect them in countless numbers of the smaller cities and towns.

THE DOOR HANGER

To produce a door hanger which will at all times and under all circumstances operate easily, almost all kinds of bearings have been used, from the older type anti-friction bearing to roller brass bushed and ball-bearings. Considering the fact that a house door hanger is probably never oiled or greased after the door is hung, it will be seen that one of the essentials on this line is to produce a bearing which will stand up under continuous service without appreciable wear which might increase the friction or destroy the alignment of the bearing members. Arguments could, of course, be offered in favor of all the different types of bearings, but their relative value depends as much upon the details of design and careful workmanship as upon the type of bearing itself. For instance, all manner of ball bearings are produced, but the greatest efficiency and longest service comes from hangers in which all the parts of the bearings are accurately formed and hardened and in which all the balls are of uniform diameter.

The best house door hangers are built largely of steel and are so constructed that the wheels cannot jump the track. By providing a slightly flexible centre hung pendant connection, the load is at all times equally distributed over all the wheels. Another feature which adds to the durability of the hangers, is the enclosed or box-shaped trolley track which protects the bearings from dust and grit and also prevents falling plaster from damaging or obstructing the runways or interfering with the operation of the hanger. Provision is also made for removing the track from the partition without damaging the walls.

Adjustment in both hanger and track is very essential to perfect operation. These adjustments are all accessible from the opening. Vertical adjustment in the hanger provides for proper clearance between the bottom of the door and the floor, while adjustment in the track permits the door to slide parallel with the floor, to overcome any possible errors in erecting the track or changes in alignment due to settling of the building or other causes.

INTERIOR VIEW—LIVING ROOM

The architectural merit of the living room is apparent at a glance. Note the windows on one side, the cozy fireplace and the sun room beyond connected with French doors. This room only carries out the general attractiveness portrayed by the exterior, which is a fine example of rough cast and brick combination. The rough cast is dark gray, and the white trim with the brick at the base give a very pleasing and substantial appearance. The size of this house is 32 feet wide by 30 feet deep over the main part. First story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet. Finish red oak throughout first story, with oak floors; pine to paint throughout second story. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $5400.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

CANOBIE LAKE PARK

Today will afford the final opportunity to enjoy the extraordinary performance of Marshall Hall's Merrymakers at Canobie Lake park theatre.

The theatre will present a banner picture program from 5 to 10 o'clock continuous, introducing many features that are not to be found in the ordinary picture theatre of the cities.

From 3 to 5 o'clock the theatre will be open with free admission and the Lawrence Brass Band will render another of those brilliant concerts to which so many music lovers look forward each coming Sunday. The following program will be offered:

March—"Rock of Ages"
Concert Valse—"Dreaming"
Overture—"Zampa"
Popular Numbers—(a) "My Little Dream Girl"
(b) "Are You the O'Reilly?"
Andante—"Cujus Animan" from Stabat Mater
Allo. Mod.—"Gloria" from Mozart's 12th Mass.
Descriptive—"The Cavalry Charge.
Fantasia—"Nautical"
Popular Medley—"Rialto" Bits of Feist Hits
Selection—"Martha"
Popular Numbers
a "Everybody Rag With Me"
b "When I Was a Dreamer"
c "I'm On My Way to Dublin Bay"
Double Number
a Intermezzo "Cavalleria Rusticana"
b "American Dance"
Finale—"Star Spangled Banner"

Commencing Monday and for the entire week the theatre will present daily matinee and evening performances of pictures and vaudeville, among the many big acts to be included in the bill being The Twelve Daytons, without doubt the biggest and best acrobatic and gymnastic act in vaudeville at the present time.

LAKEVIEW PARK

It is doubtful if a more daring, astounding and spectacular exhibition has ever been seen at Lakeview park than that of the one to be given there next week by the Great Van Norman. Van Norman presents for the approval and thrilling of his audience what is known as a bicycle high dive. Starting forty-five feet above the ground he rides on his bicycle down a narrow incline less than two feet wide and eighty-five feet in length going at a terrific speed. As he nears the foot of the incline there is a slight elevation which throws bicycle rider and all in mid air and as he leaves the incline he dives from the wheel head-foremost into a shallow tank of water. This is without doubt one of the most thrilling and dare-devil feats ever attempted and has been a tremendous drawing attraction at all the big parks and fairs throughout the country.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The fine program at the Merrimack Square theatre is continued today. A new program has been arranged for the big Sunday concert tomorrow afternoon and evening, consisting of some of the very best productions of the best producers. The Merrimack Square theatre is a popular place in this hot weather because of its coolness and excellent ventilation. Upon entering this theatre one immediately notices how cool and comfortable it is. Today is your last opportunity to take in the powerful five act Paramount picture, "Kindling" with the capable Charlotte Walker in the leading role. This picture is a clear exposition of the way "the other half of the world" lives—showing the poverty and hardships which exist in the tenement districts of large cities, and of the desperation to which the people living in these districts are driven. The five-act picture, "Officer 666" is of a lighter nature, being a detective comedy acted by a very strong cast. A Barns and Stoll comedy completes the program of the Merrimack Square theatre for today.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"My Best Girl," a five act Metro picture, made from the play of the same name by Rennold Wolf and Channing Pollock, will be given its final two presentations at the B. F. Keith theatre this afternoon and evening. Max Figman, the eminent comedian, and Miss Lois Meredith appear in the principal roles of this production. The story, while it is a comedy, is thrilling in certain points. Miss Meredith plays the role of the daughter of an inventor of high explosives. Incidentally, she is engaged to marry a wealthy young collegian, who is noted for his escapades. One of these causes an estrangement. Figman offers a chauffeur $500 to take his place. The chauffeur agrees, and all goes well with him. But Figman soon learns that the chauffeur is a deserter from the army. Figman is arrested, taken back to the army post and set at hard labor. But for the fact that the colonel commanding at the post recognizes him, his course would be a hard one, indeed. He is discharged and then is reconciled to the girl he loved. The Chaplin picture is called "Dough and Dynamite." It is full of fun. Tomorrow afternoon and evening special pictures will be shown, while on the first three days of next week the Vitagraph blue ribbon feature, "The Juggernaut," will be the feature.

ARE YOU BUILDING A HOME?
SAVE ROOM AND AVOID DIRT
Plan to put in one of the new
TRIPLE CRAWFORD RANGES
It is an entirely new style coal and gas range and gas hot water heater all in one. Gas Hot Water Heater is enclosed in range. It can also be connected by ash chute to ash barrel in basement. If you don't want to spend money for a new range, don't let your wife see it, for you will surely have to buy one and your wife will be right for it will certainly be the wisest thing to do.
NOW THE OTHER EXTREME
Do you know that you can get an EDDY REFRIGERATOR of any size built with an ice door opening at the back as well as the front refrigerator, so the ice man can put in the ice from the outside of the house, saving time and avoiding dirt?
The saving on coal, gas and ice by having a "Crawford" and an "Eddy," the two most economical and efficient articles of the kind built, will help you pay the taxes on your new home. They are for sale in Lowell only at

PLAYED TO A TIE SCORE

RAIN ENDED LOWELL AND MANCHESTER GAME YESTERDAY IN SEVENTH WITH SCORE 3 TO 3

(Special to The Sun)

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 17.—Again the weather man had the laugh on the baseball fans, and his actions yesterday were the meanest displayed since the opening of the season. It poured for an hour preceding the game, then brightened up nicely and the fans hiked out to the ball yard. Lowell and Manchester hooked up for battle, and with it tied up at three all, the downpour was turned loose a second time, causing Umpire Bransfield to call the game.

This is the second time that Lowell has played to a tie here, and, as on the former occasion, Zeke Lohman was the unlucky pitcher. On the morning of Independence day Lohman hooked up with Hank Horsey, and in the seventh the rain came down, putting off the battle. Smith was Lohman's opponent yesterday, but the rain charm worked again and in the seventh.

Yesterday's was the tenth game of the season between these clubs, and Lowell has yet to annex a victory. Two tie games have now been staged. It looked very much as if the Spindles were going to chase the jinx, when in that first inning they fell on Smith hard and pushed three runs over the plate. The southpaw helped the cause along considerably by coming through with two passes. But for a rattling double play, Spires to Kilhullen, there's no telling what would have happened. It's likely the Lowell stickers would have still been enjoying that first inning when the downpour came. After his bad start, Smith steadied down and pitched fine ball.

Swayne opened the contest with a single to right and the visitors were off to a three-run start. Fahey was safe when Snell dropped the throw. Estes walked, and the sacks were filled. Barrows sent a long fly to left, which O'Connor misjudged, the hit going for two sacks, Swayne and Fahey scoring. Estes took third on the hit. Greenhalge walked, and again the corners were occupied. Bowcock hit by Torphy, Estes scoring, and the bags still filled up. Dee sent a grounder to Spires, who stepped on the third bag, forcing Greenhalge and pegged to Kilhullen, killing off Barrows at the plate. Ahearn sent a grounder to McGeehan, who tossed to Torphy, forcing Dee.

It was one, two, three for Lowell in the second. In the third Barrows got his second double, with one down, but remained at second while Greenhalge and Bowcock went out on infield taps.

Dee opened the third with a single to centre. Ahearn fouled out to Kilhullen. Lohman hit to Spires, who retired the hitter at first and Snell's return, taken by Torphy, nipped Dee going into third. Thereafter the visitors were never dangerous.

Kane gave the Textiles the proper start, by sending a ringing single to left. Spires flied out to Swayne. McGeehan hit to Fahey and Kane was forced at second. Snell was thrown out on a fly to Barrows.

The second, third and fourth were uneventful for the locals.

In the fifth the Textiles got hitting as they have seldom hit to date. Torphy opened up with a single to right centre. Kilhullen followed with a line drive to right. Smith produced the needed bunt to advance both runners, he going out Fahey to Estes. Kane was a victim on strikes for the second time. Danny McGeehan then drove the ball to the left fence for two bases, scoring Torphy and Kilhullen. Spires shot a single to centre and McGeehan went over with the tieing tally. Snell forced out Fahey.

The Textiles had a grand opportunity to win in the seventh, having men on second and third and but one down, but the needed bingle was not forthcoming.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Big Ed Walsh "came back" yesterday when he pitched Chicago a victory over Philadelphia 6 to 2. Holding the Athletics to six hits, passing only three men, and striking out five, the big pitcher looked like the Walsh of old, though some critics thought he lacked much of the speed he used to show. He was the hero of an ovation from the time he took his place on the slab to the end of the game when cheering admirers carried him off the field.

President Tener of the National league last night said that he found nothing to substantiate the published reports that Captain Evers of the Boston Braves had charged that the National league race had been "fixed." Mr. Tener, with Secretary Heydler of the National league, stopped over in Boston yesterday on his way to Salisbury beach for the week-end. He witnessed yesterday's game in which the Braves defeated Pittsburgh and moved out of last place and then conferred with Manager Stallings of the Boston club and Captain Evers. At the conclusion of the conference President Tener made the following statement:

"My attention was attracted to an alleged statement by Captain Evers during the game between Boston and St. Louis here on Monday that the game had been 'fixed' and on account of the great publicity which this statement was given, I decided to make inquiries on a visit here today. Neither Umpire Rigler nor Hart report to me that Evers said they had been instructed to give St. Louis the benefit of close decisions in order to make the race close. There were no charges made against Evers to me.

"Captain Evers says many things on the ball field in the heat of the contest that he does not mean and that he should not say, but he has never done anything to bring discredit upon the game and all his life he has been a great credit to the sport.

"Baseball is so firmly established that no one except some person wholly ignorant or with a corrupt mind would credit any such statement as was alleged to have been made by Evers.

"Captain Evers denied having meant any such thing as was attributed to him in the published article."

BIG LEAGUE CAREER OF PITCHER RUSSELL FORD NOW AT AN END

RUSSELL FORD

When Russell Ford received his unconditional release from the Buffalo Feds his career as a star pitcher probably came to an end. Ford's contract called for more than $6000 in salary, but it contained the "nefarious" ten days' clause notice which the Feds during the hearing before Judge Landis declared was illegal and oppressive. Ford's best season was in 1910 with the Yankees. His remarkable effectiveness helped to land the team, then managed by Stallings, in second place. Before 1911 opened Ford held up the New York Americans for $5000, which he received annually until he jumped to the Buffalo Feds last year. It is believed that Ford was discharged by the Buffeds to reduce expenses. Some time ago there was evidence that the club wanted to economize when an offer was made to sell Hal Chase to the Newark Feds for $10,000.

Eddie Murphy, an outfielder was purchased by the White Sox from Philadelphia yesterday and will join the team without delay.

The announcement from Lawrence this forenoon to the effect that Thompson and Fuller had quit the Lawrence team caused much talk by the fans who read the news on The Sun bulletin. Harry Thompson is the hard-hitting pitcher who defeated Lowell the other day and who has been doing more work for his team than the average pitcher is called upon to do, being played in the field when not on the mound, on account of his ability to bat. He was a good hard worker. We don't know how much he was getting for his services but he deserved well of his employers. Soldier Fuller was another standby of the team. Robbed of the services of Thompson and Fuller Lawrence is in a bad way at a bad time, if it has aspirations for another pennant. Just what Thompson and Fuller are going to do is at present not known. They can't play in any team that works under the national agreement, but then there is the Federal league, that new-found Mecca of all discontented organized ball players. It is not unlikely that both will catch on with the Feds, if an amicable settlement with Lawrence is not effected.

When Walter Monohan, Jess Willard's partner, came out from the darkness Friday night, to be introduced, a fan sitting near me cried out: "Holly, gee, look at Paddy Green. What's he doing in there?" Paddy is a pretty husky youth, but Jess' partner is a young giant.

At the Y. M. C. A. tonight as was mentioned before Manager Kelchner will talk to the boys on the noble game of baseball.

We're back again in last place as the result of Fitchburg and Lewiston each shutting out one of the leaders, but it will not be for long. We're bound to come up from now on.

For a player who received so much adverse criticism Howard Fahey has proved to be dead game. While the critics were justified in their comments at the time Howard instead of losing heart or getting sore-headed simply settled down and produced the goods and now those who criticized him most severely are loud in their praises of his good work, which we all hope he'll keep up.

RESOLUTE AND VANITIE

NEW YORK, July 17.—The yachts Resolute and Vanitie, rivals for the honor of defending America's cup, returned to Long Island Sound today to take part in the opening race of the Larchmont Yacht club's regatta. The racing will continue for several days.

THE LEADING BATTERS

DOYLE OF GIANTS JUMPS TO SECOND PLACE—COBB STILL LEADS AMERICAN LEAGUE

CHICAGO, July 17.—Capt. Larry Doyle of the Giants has attained second place among the batters of the National league. His average of .326 credited to him in averages published here today puts him right on the heels of the league leader, Daubert of Brooklyn, whose percentage is .336. Next to these two the leading batters who have played in at least half of the games are: Groh, Cincinnati, .321; Luderus, Philadelphia, .320; Robertson, New York, and Cravath, Philadelphia, tied with .301; Whitted, Philadelphia, .300; Wade Killifer, Cincinnati, .299; Saier, Chicago and Wilson, St. Louis, tied with .298.

New York leads in club batting with .258 and Chicago is next with .256.

WORLD'S RECORD

Taber Runs the Fastest Mile Ever in 4 Mins., 12 3-5 Seconds

BOSTON, July 17.—When the athletic history of this period is written, the names of Norman S. Taber and Billy Meanix of the B. A. A. track team will be prominent for the great feats they accomplished on the Harvard stadium yesterday afternoon.

Taber not only lowered the world's amateur record of 4m. 14 2-5s. for the mile, made by John Paul Jones on the same track in 1913, but he also lowered the world's professional record of 4m 12⅘s, made by W. G. George, the great English runner, at Lillieshall, Eng., in 1886. Taber covered the distance in 4m. 12 3-5s.

Meanix created a new record for the 440-yard (three-foot) hurdles, 10 flights, by doing the timber-topping in 54 3-5s. The old record was 56 4-5s., made by G. L. Anderson, the great English hurdler, in England in 1910.

Saier leads in stolen bases with 21; in total bases with .152 and in runs scored with 50. Cravath has most home runs—13.

Leading National league pitchers who have acquired .600 averages in 16 or more games are: Pierce, Chicago, won nine and lost one; Alexander, Philadelphia, 17 and 5; Mamaux, Pittsburgh, 13 and 4; Dale, Cincinnati, 10 and 5; Mayer, Philadelphia, 13 and 7; Meadows, St. Louis, 8 and 5; Pfeffer, Brooklyn, 8 and 5; Dell, Brooklyn, 9 and 6.

Alexander has 138 strike-outs to his credit.

In the American leagu shrdlu

In the American league Cobb has increased his batting average to .402 and still leads in stolen bases with 56 runs scored with 90. Crawford, Detroit, has most total bases, 169, and Caldwell, Boone and Peckinpaugh of New York; Oldring, Philadelphia, and Kavanaugh of Detroit, are tied for home run honors at four year. Following Cobb are Crawford, Detroit, .346; E. Collins, Chicago, .341; Jackson, Cleveland, .333; Fournier, Chicago, .325; Veach, Detroit, .321; Maisel, New York, .316; Strunk, Philadelphia, .314; Speaker, Boston and Lajoie, Philadelphia, tied with .311.

Jim Scott has wrested the pitching leadership from Faber, his team-mate. The "600 pitchers" of the American league are Scott, Chicago, Chicago, won 13 and lost 3; Faber, Chicago, 16 and 5; Foster, Boston, 10 and 4; Dauss, Detroit, 13 and 7; Fisher, New York, 11 and 6; Shore, Boston, 7 and 4; Benz, Chicago, 7 and 4; Gallia, Washington, 8 and 5; Ruth, Boston, 8 and 5; Covelskie, Detroit, 11 and 7; Johnson, Washington, 12 and 8; Caldwell, New York, 12 and 8; Boland, Detroit, 6 and 4.

Chicago and Detroit are tied in club batting with .269 for first honors.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Gilbert Gallant of Chelsea will be Matty Baldwin's opponent next Tuesday evening at the Atlas A. A. of Boston. Gallant and Matty have met on two occasions before, with Baldwin topping both verdicts. But Gil is not the same boy that opposed Matty in days gone by, and today Gallant is rated as one of the best boxers in the east, while the great battle that Baldwin put up against Willie Ritchie a month ago will go far in proving that Matty is still there. This bout will be for the N. E. championship and a belt will go to the winner. Baldwin won the title from Gallant last year.

Milburn (Young) Saylor surprised the boxing public the other night when he gave Charley White an artistic trimming, only to have the referee call it a draw. If any boxer ever deserved a decsion, Saylor was the lad, for he outpointed the Chicago boy in the majority of rounds and the crowd showed its disapproval by catcalls, hisses and other noises. The Saylor admirers carried their hero to his dressing room on their shoulders.

Billy Brooks, the local boxer, is desirous of casting his chapeau into the ring at any time. Billy would like to box Tony Vatlin of Boston, who is soon to forsake the amateur and enter the professional ring. Any other boxer weighing 122 pounds can have action from this local battler.

Kid Thomas, the Lawrence boxer, is now in New York, according to the statement of Gardner Brooks. Brooks says Thomas won his first fight the other night, boxing Kid Henry, a Gotham boy.

AFTER BECKER

Brooklyn N. L. Makes Offer for the Lewiston Outfielder

(Special to The Sun)

FITCHBURG, July 17.—At the conclusion of yesterday's double-header here between Lewiston and Fitchburg a Brooklyn National league scout approached Manager Arthur Irwin of the Lewiston club with an offer for Martin H. Becker, centre fielder of the Maine team. The offer was not accepted but the scout went back to Brooklyn with Irwin's price and Becker will probably be sold within a few days. It is said that the price offered was $2000.

Becker is considered by many to be the fastest man to first base in the New England league. As an outfielder Becker has no superior in the circuit. Last season with New London in the Eastern association (now deceased), the Lewiston centre fielder stole 63 bases. His hitting and base running were reasons why New London won the championship of that circuit.

Becker is only a youngster and hails from Tiffin, Ohio. He first "broke in" in the Michigan State league three years ago. He throws right handed and is a left handed hitter.

PITCHERS QUIT

Thompson and Fuller of Lawrence Team Refuse to Play

LAWRENCE, July 17.—Harry Thompson and Wheeler Fuller, pitchers on the local New England league club, refused to accompany the team to Manchester today where a double-header is scheduled, and both announced that they have quit the club. The players made a demand for an increase in salary yesterday, but Owner Sullivan informed them that the club was away behind in its finances because of weather conditions and he could not afford to grant an increase. Fuller and Thompson are two of the leading pitchers in the league and their work has been instrumental in keeping Lawrence in the lead this year.

SAMUELS and SYLENZ (The Silent Partner)

FIND BODY UNDER AUTO

WALTER PAINE, SON OF ROBERT TREAT PAINE, 2D, KILLED DURING NIGHT

BEVERLY, July 17.—Walter Paine, a son of Robert Treat Paine 2d, of Boston and Magnolia, was killed in an automobile accident at East Wenham during the night. His body was found under his overturned car early today by two local marketmen on their way to Gloucester.

The cause of the accident could not be determined, as Paine was alone in the car and so far as known there were no witnesses. A superficial examination indicated that when the machine overturned the steering wheel of the automobile pinned the young man by the neck, choking him to death.

Paine was 24 years of age and a graduate of Harvard in the class of 1914.

PATROLMAN COONEY INVESTIGATED A BREAK AND SEIZED LOAD OF TINWARE

Patrolman Albert Cooney, who is to be married on Monday afternoon, observed his last evening on duty Thursday before the happy event, by investigating a most unusual burglary at the corner of Church and Lawrence streets, with most satisfactory results.

As Mr. Cooney was ringing in his duty call at 11 o'clock he was approached by a woman who informed him that the store of the Church St. Employment Agency at the corner of Lawrence and Church streets had been entered," and the patrolman immediately hot-footed for the scene of the break."

Upon arriving there he found the place in darkness but the front door partially opened. Producing his search light he proceeded cautiously into the store, and as he entered he was greeted by a most unearthly chorus of unseemly noises and then the lights went on and he found that the noises had been made by several ladies and gentlemen who reside on his route, boarding upon a varied collection of tinware, each article of which was labelled with his name. He was informed that they would be sent to his future residence, was wished the best of luck and was then told to "beat it" for the next boy, which he did. Later on when the night's work was over Patrolman Cooney, who is one of the most popular members of the police department, was tendered a "farewell" reception by his fellow officers which was of a happy if strenuous nature, the affair taking place in the guard room.

COMPANY M, NINTH REGT.

IT WILL LEAVE FOR CAMP AT SANDWICH TOMORROW MORNING —LT. CHRISTIAN IN COMMAND

The "boys" of Company M, Ninth regiment, M. V. M., were busy today getting their equipment in shape for the annual encampment which will be held at Sandwich, Mass., during next week. Everything is now in readiness and it is believed this year's field maneuvers will be the best yet. The roster is the largest for years, all the men being in the best of condition. The company has no captain owing to the resignation of Capt. Philip McNulty, who retired with the rank of major, but Lieut. D. M. Christian will be in command.

According to present arrangements, the Lawrence company of the Ninth regiment will hike to Lowell tomorrow morning, arriving here in time to board the 8.40 o'clock train with the members of Company M. The six horses from the Lawrence battalion headquarters will also be entrained here. The train will strike South Framingham at 10 o'clock and there the other companies of the regiment will join them. It is believed Sandwich will be reached at 1.30 p. m.

The men will remain at camp all week, doing field manuevers during the day, while entertainment programs will be carried out in the evenings. The military side of camp life will consist of the regular drills, trench digging and tactical walks with the possibility of a sham battle between the three company battalions the latter part of the week.

The compact baggage allowance has been cut down to include only the following articles: One field range, three boxes measuring not over 36x18x18; one latrain seat; one bundle of tools, three bedding rolls for officers and one small table. An innovation at the camp this year will be the cooking department, which will do its own baking for the first time, the field stoves having a capacity of 120 loaves of bread in one bake.

The roster of Company M as it will leave for camp tomorrow is as follows: Lieut. D. M. Christian and Lieut. Paul Kittredge, Sergts. Arthur F. Moran, John M. Cooney, James J. Gleason, Daniel P. Brennan, Wm. C. Kirk and Earl F. Erickson, Corps. Joseph C. Bixby, John J. Hurley, Napoleon Grandchamp, John J. Wallace, Paul Spillane and Russell E. Smith; Cooks George A. Frenette and Arthur Brown; Musicians Fred F. Callahan and Thos. J. Burke; Artificer Fred Nichols, and Privates John A. Benson, Fred D. Brickford, James E. Burns, Wm. E. Brown, Norman E. Bowden, Wm. E. Coleman, James W. Conley, Ezra J. Cushing, James F. Delehanty, Joseph H. Dangerfield, Dolphus Ferocier, Wm. F. Emmonds, Wesley W. Hand, Harry N. Johnson, J. F. M. Kenney, Edward Kelley, Edward L. Kelley, Rosario LeBlue, Louis J. LeRiche, John J. Mangan, Thomas McDermott, P. J. McDermott, John McDermott, Michael J. McDermott, Charles McDermott, Michael F. Mitchell, Alder Marr, Wm. F. Meehan, J. H. McShane, Wm. F. Mulholland, George W. Nelson, Ira E. Osgood, Louis Perry, Frederick Ryan, John Sheridan, Joseph S. Souza, John J. Slattery, John Thyne, Raymond A. Thissell, Albert E. Wahlgreen, and James W. Lyman.

COLONIAL WOOL AUCTIONS

LONDON, July 17.—The selling brokers committee yesterday decided that the present series of colonial wool auctions, owing to the difficulty in getting wool from the available warehouses, shall close July 24 until August 5. The buyers strongly opposed the closing of the series and will hold a meeting next week to decide what course of action they should pursue.

BATTERY C WON TROPHY

COMPANY THAT APPEARED IN PARADE HERE DISTINGUISHED ITSELF IN PENNSYLVANIA

The members of Battery C, 1st Battalion, Field Artillery, which is stationed at the Methuen state armory and which has some twenty Lowell men in its ranks, again distinguished itself at the annual encampment by winning for the second time what is known as the Knox trophy. The men who were in camp during the past twelve days, returned yesterday, coming through Lowell shortly before ten o'clock. They road to their headquarters by electric cars and thence to their homes.

Battery C left the armory in Methuen on July 6, part of the battery known as the Lowell section having encamped in Lowell at Fort Hill park on the Sunday and Monday previous. This section fired the salutes on July 5th and later took part in the Big parade, being one of the foremost attractions of the first division.

SUMNER H. NEEDHAM

The battery arrived at Tobyhanna, Pa., the camping grounds the following day and set right down to business. The battery was composed of 126 men, who brought along just their personal equipment, the horses and guns being supplied by the government on the camping grounds. The battery soon mixed it with the other batteries from all over New England, which comprised about 500 men.

The remainder of the first week and the first two days of the other were devoted to battery drilling. On the Wednesday following a hike was undertaken and the men returned to their camp yesterday afternoon after covering a distance of about 50 miles through the mountains. On last Sunday the contest for the Knox trophy was held, each battery picking out its best section. The contest lasted all day. It consisted of quick hitching, quick firing, gun drill, shelter tent drill and actual firing on range. The section of Battery C came out victorious, winning the trophy for the second time, for they won it last year, this being the first time the trophy was captured by a Massachusetts battery.

When the Methuen battery struck camp the Massachusetts Hospital and Ambulance corps was just retiring, while next week the grounds will be taken up by the Tennessee and Louisiana hospital and ambulance corps. The grounds are ideal for camping purposes, for there are numerous natural trenches, the locality being very mountainous.

The officers of Battery C are as follows:

Capt., Frederick D. Howe; First Lieut., George McLane; First Lieut., Walkins M. Roberts; Second Lieut., Sumner H. Needham and Second Lieut., Roy Daniels. The Lowell men who were at camp were as follows:

Lieut., Sumner H. Needham; Sergt., Edward Watts, Corp.; William Soucy, Corp., George Elmsley; Privates, Thomas J. Doyle, Donald McRitchie, Fred Downing, George Gardner, William H. Cronshaw, Joseph J. Devine, William Shea, Frank Rourke, George W. Trott and Cyrus Woodman.

The Knox trophy won by the battery will remain in the passession of this company until another battery is clever enough to win it away from them. It was donated by the Sons of the American revolution with the understanding that it is to be competed for every year.

LOWELL GUILD REPORT

JUNE SHOWS LARGEST INCREASE IN WORK—EXTRA NURSE FOR BABY WELFARE

The monthly report of the Lowell Guild for June shows the largest increase in the work of any month during the year. The total number of visits made by the Metropolitan policy holders was 445, a gain of 223 over June of last year. The total number of regular visits was 505, making the total number of visits for the month 950.

The services of the district nurses are available for those needing temporary or daily care, also in assisting doctors in minor operations in the homes. It is the desire of the Guild to be of service to the people of all classes, but the more patients the Guild has who are able to pay the regulation price for a visit the broader and more efficient work the Guild will be able to do.

The number of calls made by the milk station nurse was 146, and the number of babies attending the conferences, 56; the number of mothers taught to prepare the milk for their babies at home was 10.

Naturally, during the next two months the demands on the milk station are very heavy, and those interested in baby welfare work are earnestly requested to lend financial assistance. Checks may be sent payable to the Lowell Guild. No matter how small the amount, it will be most gratefully received.

An extra nurse has been engaged for this work during the summer months, and this will enable the nurse to make frequent visits and keep a close watch on the sick babies.

Public health is purchaseable. Within natural conditions a community can determine its own death rate.

BARS SALE OF LIQUOR

Military Governor of Paris Forbids Sale to Soldiers or Officers in the Entrenched Camp of Paris

PARIS, July 17.—Gen. Gallieni, the military governor of Paris, yesterday issued an order forbidding the purchase by or sale to soldiers or officers of whatever grade in the entrenched camp of Paris of any alcoholic liquors whatsoever.

Offenders will be cited to appear before the police courts and military tribunals. Liquor dealers violating this order will be punished by a temporary suspension of their licenses on the first offense and the revocation of their licenses on the second offense.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

GRACE AT THE EXPOSITION

Once upon a time, as you know, Grace went to the California exposition with her father and mother. Each day they went to the grounds and Grace saw a great many wonderful things. One morning she awoke and found the sun streaming into her window, and as she began to dress, she happily wondered what her father would take her to see that day.

She was soon all dressed and ran in to say "good morning" and to kiss her dear parents. She was delighted when her father told her that this morning they were going to see and hear the biggest organ in the world and that it was so big they had to have it out of doors. This seemed wonderful to think of a church organ outdoors and Grace could hardly wait until it was time to start.

At last they reached the grounds and were near the big organ. How big it did look, with it huge copper pipes that shone in the sun. It seemed to Grace as big as a house and much more beautiful. When it was played it could be heard for a very long way, and Grace told her mother she could understand why it was out of doors for it made so much noise, which made her mother laugh.

They stayed for awhile to hear the singing which they all enjoyed and then started to see some of the other buildings. As they were walking along, just in front of her, Grace saw her little Japanese friend and called out: "Good morning," and the little girl smiled back and said, "good morning," in Japanese, and her father folded his arms and bowed to them very low and solemn.

Grace's father asked the little girl if she would come and have ice cream with them, and as her father seemed to be willing, she did so. After the feast the little girls said good-bye and Grace and her father went to luncheon.

In the afternoon they went to another concert and when Grace went to bed that night, she told her mother she was sure she would dream of music, she had had such a musical day.

State Examiners of Electricians

NOTICE

Persons, firms or corporations desiring examination for Master Electricians Certificate or Journeyman Electricians Certificate may obtain application blanks at the office of the State Examiners of Electricians, Room 428, State House, Boston.

Persons, firms or corporations presenting satisfactory evidence that they have been engaged in the business of electricians for five years next preceding the date of application are exempt from examination, on presentation of evidences acceptable to the State Examiners.

"Section 1, Chapter 296, Acts of 1915. Except as hereinafter provided, no person, firm or corporation shall, after the first day of September, nineteen hundred and fifteen, enter into, engage in, or work at the business of installing wires, conduits, apparatus, fixtures or other appliances for carrying or using electricity for light, heat or power purposes in this commonwealth, either as a master or employing electrician or as a journeyman electrician, unless such person, firm or corporation shall have received a license or certificate therefor, issued by the board provided for in section two of this act and in accordance with the provisions hereinafter set forth."

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. (L. S.)

At the Police Court of Lowell, holden at Lowell, in the District of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, on the sixteenth day of July, A. D. 1915.

William C. Findeley of said Lowell, Plaintiff, vs. Allen Lowe and Reuben Green Co., partners, both of said Lowell, doing business under the firm name and style of Lowe & Green, Defendants.

This is an action of Contract to recover six hundred and sixty-three dollars and eighty-one cents, alleged to be due to the Plaintiff from the Defendant on the fifteenth day of April, A. D. 1915, as set forth in the Plaintiff's writ of that date.

And it appearing to the Court by the suggestion of the Plaintiff and on inspection of the officer's return on the Plaintiff's writ, that the Defendant Allen Lowe is not an inhabitant of this Commonwealth, nor a resident therein at the time of the service of said writ, that he has no last and usual place of abode, tenant, agent or attorney in this Commonwealth known to the Plaintiff or to said officer; and that no personal service of said writ has been made upon the Defendant Allen Lowe.

It is ordered by the Court, here, that the Plaintiff give notice to the Defendant Allen Lowe of the pendency of this action, and to appear before said Court, on the first Saturday of August, A. D. 1915, to answer to the same, by causing an attested copy of this order to be published in The Lowell Sun a newspaper printed in said Lowell, once a week, three weeks successively; and this action be continued to the said first Saturday of August, or until notice shall be given to the Defendant Allen Lowe agreeably to this order.

ANOTHER BOY DROWNED

Unguarded Canal Claims Another Victim in Michael McLarnon, Aged Nine

Another drowning accident in a local canal occurred last night, when Michael McLarnon, aged 9 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McLarnon of 537 Broadway, lost his life in the Pawtucket canal in the rear of Wilson's coal yard, one of the most dangerous spots of the canal, a place noted for its many drowning accidents, and one of the places recently visited by Mayor Murphy, the chief of police and members of the Trades and Labor council.

It seems that the boy with other companions was playing on the banks of the canal, when suddenly he lost his balance and pitched backward into the water from the stonewall. The other boys shouted for help and Jas. J. Adams, Arthur J. Emond and William Foster, three young men were soon on the scene of the accident. Adams dived into the water but it was some time before he could reach the lad, who had sunk for the last time. He finally succeeded in locating the boy and brought him to the canal banks.

The three young men worked over the boy trying to revive him, but their efforts proved fruitless. In the meantime a hurried call had been sent in for the pulmotor, which arrived shortly after with Dr. M. A. Tighe, but the physician's efforts also proved fruitless for the boy was dead. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Some of the bystanders were inclined to believe the pulmotor was defective, but Dr. Tighe stated the machine operated perfectly. The work of the three young men who attempted to revive the victim was highly commendable for they did all in their power to save the boy's life. Deceased is survived by his parents, two sisters and a brother.

CARGO OF DOUGLAS FIR

STEAMER WILL TRAVEL 10,000 MILES TO GET LUMBER FOR DOCKS

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 17.—In order that the proper kind of lumber for the construction of piers and docks may be available at Port Nelson, where the Canadian government is building a railroad and steamship terminal on the shores of Hudson bay it has been found necessary to send a steamer around the greater part of North America. The steamer Durley Chine which left Vancouver, B. C., June 30, will cover approximately 10,000 miles to land her cargo of Douglas fir at Port Nelson which is only about 1200 miles distant from Vancouver in an air line. Her route lies down the Pacific coast, through the Panama canal, up the Atlantic coast to Newfoundland and thence into Hudson bay.

In preparation for this season's work at Port Nelson, a fleet of steamers is fitting out here. Most of these are sealing vessels, equipped for service in stormy and ice-frequented waters. Some of them will be used directly by the Canadian government for the transport of men, construction material and food supplies. Others are engaged by fur companies for the collection of last winter's accumulation of peltries along the Labrador and Hudson bay coasts.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Commander F. B. Flanders presided at the regular meeting of James A. Garfield, Post 120, G. A. R., held in the regular meeting place on Merrimack street.

Reports of committees were read and much routine business was transacted. General order No. 4 from the state department, Boston, relative to the convention to be held in Washington, D. C., was read. This will be the 49th encampment of the G. A. R., during the week of September 27 to October 2. An invitation from Commander J. H. Caverly, Post 185, G. A. R., to attend the 50th anniversary of his marriage, Aug. 2, at the Paige street church at 7 o'clock, was accepted and the post voted to attend in uniform.

Under the good of the order there were remarks by Quartermaster Dickey, S. V. Hunt, Plumstead and Commander J. H. Caverly of Post 185, and others. The next meeting will be on July 24.

AN UP-TO-DATE COTTAGE, HENNERY AND ABOUT 4400 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 80 INLAND STREET

On the premises, regardless of any weather conditions, I shall offer for absolute sale this attractive little home. The house consists of seven rooms, bath and pantry. On the first floor is a large hallway, parlor with handsome oak mantle, sitting room separated with folding doors, dining room, kitchen, pantry and bath. The next floor has three airy and well lighted chambers, with good closet room. There is a first-class steam plant, open plumbing, vulcan heater, set trays, gas with a lot of nice fixtures, cemented cellar, large veranda, all screened in, and the house is in good condition inside and out.

The lot has a large frontage on Inland street, with an area of about 4400 square feet, all fenced in, nicely graded lawn, concrete walk and concrete all around the house. On the extreme end of the lot there is a hen house and yard all wired, that will accommodate 50 hens, and in the centre of the lot is a 25-foot, iron flag pole.

NOW MR. HOUSESEEKER, here is one of the prettiest little homes in this part of the city, up-to-the-minute in every respect and if it was not for a business change of the present owner it would not be in the market at any price. It is near to two lines of cars, within two minutes' walk to the Washington school, near to church, and several industries, in a quiet neighborhood, excellent location, good surroundings, and where mostly all own their own homes. This property would have to be seen to be appreciated and intending purchasers can see the property Sunday from 2 to 5, Tuesday and Thursday, 2 to 5, and all day on day of sale. From 50 to 70 per cent. can remain on mortgage at 5 per cent.

Terms of sale: $350 must be secured to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

Make all inquiries of the auctioneer who has full charge.

CHARLES F. KEYES, Auctioneer.

THE WILD WEST SHOW

JESSE WILLARD EXHIBITION AS AN AFTER PIECE PROVED A DISAPPOINTMENT

It would not have required a great strength of the imagination for any one of the thousands that attended the performances of the 101 Ranch Wild West show at the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon and evening to fancy that they were actually on a ranch in the western part of the country. The scenes enacted by the cowboys, cowgirls, Indians were well produced and made one feel glad that he did not live in the times that the actual scenes took place.

Outside of the Wild West features, Jess Willard, the heavyweight champion of the world, the fellow who made the dusky, husky Johnson bite the dust, was the big attraction. From the time that he was first introduced in his cowboy costume until he sparred a bit with his trainer, Walter Monahan, he was the cynosure of all eyes and all marveled at the wonderful physique of the man who brought the title back to the white race.

The big show opened with a grand entry of the entire company of cowboys, girls, Indians, Mexicans, Russian Cossacks, etc. The main features of the review were Chief Iron Tail, the Sioux Indian whose profile adorns the new buffalo nickle, Hank Durnell, the champion lariat thrower, Vern Tantlinger, chief of the American cowboys and Jess Willard.

The program included about 20 displays, showing all sorts of wild west life. There were exhibitions of fancy rope throwing, trick riding, the old familiar stage coach holdup, cowboys to the rescue; Indian war dances, Australian boomerang throwing, sharp shooting and a variety of other features that helped keep the spectators interested. The work of Van Tantlinger was very clever and it is little wonder that he was king of the cowboys. He rode his horse in every position imaginable, and mounted and dismounted four different horses in giving a demonstration of carrying United States mail.

A feature that made a big hit with the kiddies and also with the grown ups was the work of three clowns. One was made up as a Dutch cop, another as a rube police officer, while the third took the part of a Hebrew comedian. Their comedy was exceedingly funny and all three were possessed of powerful voices that made their words audible to the crowds.

The bout that followed the main show and in which Jess Willard appeared was a disappointment. In lively action it didn't meet the expectation of the large crowd that paid twenty-five cents extra to see it.

There was a large attendance last last evening.

There was one prisoner released at the police station yesterday through the grace of the big chief rather than Mr. Slattery. The little prisoner cleared from the precincts of the station faster than ever did prisoner before for he actually flew—yes, flew, for it was a real, live, aggressive English sparrow that had entered the chief's private office.

The painted woman reached Merrimack square bright and early this morning. A dainty dash of color, we are willing to admit, improves a girl's looks and perhaps there is no great harm in it. But the trouble is that the drug stores sell the color by the box and the painted lady evidently thinks she has to use the entire box at one application.

Another delightful outing for the children of the Greek summer school, which is being conducted at the Pilgrim mission in Market street, was held yesterday afternoon, the party consisting of 20 boys and girls, being taken to a farm in Rogers street near Spalding park in three automobiles. The affair was conducted by Mrs. Stephen Vaitses and her assistants, and proved very successful. The children were entertained with outdoor games and refreshments were served.

SHELLS FOR THE ALLIES

NEW AMERICAN AMMUNITION COMPANY GETS A $10,000,000 CONTRACT

NEW YORK, July 17.—Most of the leading typewriter and adding machine companies in the east and middle west, it was stated today, have formed a new corporation under the title of the American Ammunition Co. to take up contracts for the manufacture of fuses for high explosive and shrapnel shells for the English, French and Russian governments.

The shell commission of the militia department of the Canadian government, acting for the British war office, is said to have awarded to the American Ammunition Co. within a week a contract for the manufacture of fuses amounting to $10,000,000.

It is understood that the balance of the order is to be apportioned as soon as other companies can qualify for the business. An additional contract also amounting to $10,000,000, it is stated, has been given by the Canadian shell commission to the same group of manufacturing concerns.

The Canadian militia department is reported to have given in addition, a $10,000,000 contract for shrapnel and high explosive shells to a financial group which will undertake to sub-let the business among a number of industrial concerns.

THE WM. H. BENT RESIDENCE

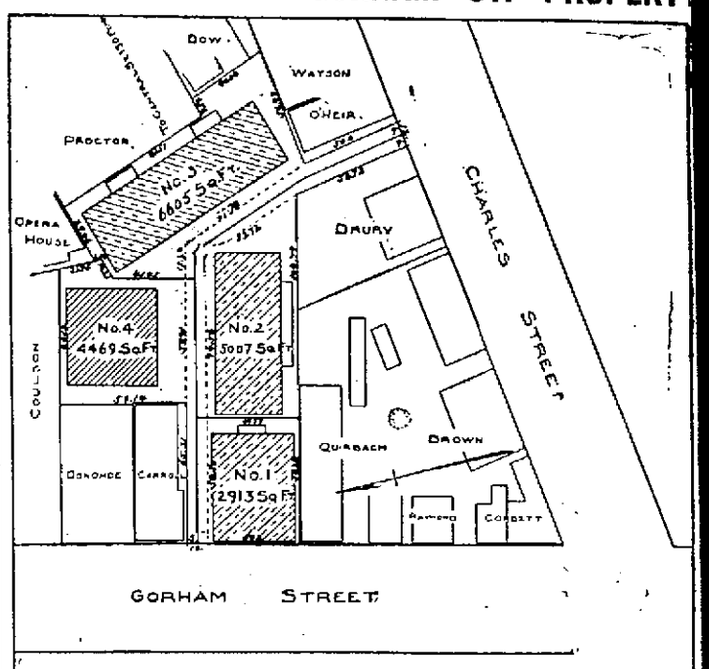

One of the most complete, costly, and genteel residence estates in the Highlands district of Lowell. The buildings were erected in 1894 at an original cost approaching $20,000; the house is very handsome and rich in its finish and appointments; the stable or garage is in harmony with the premises; the plot of land is mature in its development and possesses some thirty ornamental, shade and fruit trees effectively placed. The premises are numbered 107 Livingston avenue, the next estate but one from Princeton boulevard; this end of Livingston avenue is practically at the height of the land in this section of the Highlands, has a quietness and dignity of atmosphere peculiarly its own in its gentility; the neighborhood is unexcelled in its character.

The house is entered from the front, over easy ascending granite steps, through leaded glass vestibule into a spacious living room hall finished in paneled quartered oak even to the floor, provided with a porcelain tiled open fireplace, window seat alcove with leaded and plate glass overhead effect, and an abundance of natural light; leading off the living room hall to the left is a small reception or music room finished in delicately painted woodwork and quartered oak floor, naturally lighted from two sides; leading off the living room hall to the right is the library also finished in quartered oak even to the floor, provided with porcelain tiled open fireplace, built-in bookcase-cabinet, naturally lighted from two sides; leading from the end of the hall is a spacious dining room finished in mahogany with quartered oak floor, provided with window seat alcove with leaded glass overhead effect, porcelain tiled open fireplace with paneled mirror overhead, built-in china closet-cabinet; leading off the dining room is the butler's pantry, a spacious naturally lighted room finished throughout in natural hardwood, arranged with china closets and linen drawers; from the rear hallway there is entrance to butler's pantry, to the kitchen, and to the cellar; the kitchen is at the rear of the house, is full of natural light, is finished in natural pine with hardwood floor, has soapstone open plumbed sink; leading off the kitchen is a roomy pantry also finished in natural pine and connected by dumb waiter with butler's pantry; the refrigerator room which is also naturally lighted and finished in pine adjoins the kitchen pantry; there is an outside entrance through hallway to kitchen. Leading from the living room hall at the rear is an elegant broad quartered oak easy ascending stairway with center landing, paneled at one side, open grill work at the landing and at the top—beneath this stairway is a large clothes closet equipped with lavatory. The second floor has a master chamber finished throughout in sycamore, provided with porcelain tiled open fireplace of considerable size; there are three corner chambers finished throughout in either quartered oak, cherry, or ash; a sewing room or maid's chamber; spacious cedar and linen closets, cabinet finished; the bathroom while not open plumbing is a spacious corner room finished throughout in bird's eye maple—even to the shutters; the rooms of the second floor with the exception of the sewing room and the bath room open from a central hall finished in quartered oak even to the floor, and naturally lighted. The third or top floor is finished into a large billiard room with a leaded and plate glass effect at the front; a smoking room with an outside balcony—from which there is a broad unobstructed view to the west; a maid's room, a central hall, and unusual storage facilities. Every room in the house is provided with steam heat and combination electric-gas lighting fixtures. The cellar is in keeping with the unusual detail and substantial character of the house, it is naturally lighted from four sides, is high posted and conveniently arranged, has bricked-in fruit closet, basement toilet, coal bins, an oversized Page boiler—installed within two years, and possibly a half cord of open fireplace wood; there is a basement laundry with three set soapstone tubs, bricked-in copper boiler, and bulkhead entrance from the yard. The stable or garage is 32x21 ft., 57-ft. in the rear of the house, the first floor has a large room with concrete floor and a smaller room on the southerly side, the second floor is finished off as a gymnasium.

The land possesses a total area of 19,148 sq. ft., has a frontage of 115 ft.—extending back at a uniform width for 166½ ft., is down to even grade, is set off from the street by a California private hedge, the ornamental and shade and fruit trees comprise—six maple, four linden, three white ash, two copper-leaf maple, two horse-chestnut, and one each of weeping birch, elm, soft ash, and hard pine; the fruit trees comprise four pear, two apple, one plum, and one cherry; also crimson rambler rose, syringer, golden glow, purple blow, and other foliage, three unusual varieties of grapes, six gooseberry bushes, five currant bushes, raspberry and blackberry bushes, etc. A concrete driveway leads from the street to garage or stable, a concrete path leads from the street to granite steps at approach to the house, the house sets back 30 feet from the street, and the stable is at the extreme rear of the lot.

AT FOUR O'CLOCK IN THE AFTERNOON

VERY IMPORTANT GORHAM ST. PROPERTY

LOCATED BETWEEN THE POST OFFICE AND CHARLES STREET OPPOSITE WINTER STREET, AT THE CORNER OF BENT'S COURT—WHICH EXTENDS THROUGH TO CHARLES STREET, COMPRISING FOUR BLOCKS OF TWO STORES AND THIRTY-ONE TENEMENTS—WHICH FOR THE PURPOSES OF THIS SALE HAVE BEEN DIVIDED INTO FOUR COMPLETE, SEPARATE, DISTINCT AND INDEPENDENT PROPERTIES.

Lot One comprises the three story store and tenement block numbered 124, 126 and 128 Gorham street—at the corner of Bent's Court, renting with exact regularity for $89.60 per month or $1075.20 per year; the stores are at either end of the block or numbered 124 and 128; the broad entrance to the block is in the centre of the building or numbered 126; there are two tenements of five rooms each on the second floor and two tenements of five rooms each on the third floor—each tenement opens into an inside hallway and has a good cellar; the land has a total area of 2913 sq. ft., a frontage of 50 ft. on Gorham street, a frontage of 58 1-2 ft. on Bent's Court, an open area almost 3 ft. wide across the rear end, and an open area about 3 ft. wide along the southerly side; it is an exceptionally located business property in as much as Winter street leaves Gorham street in front of it, it faces one of the busiest business streets in Lowell, has an open passageway across its longest side—a condition of wide open surroundings that is not duplicated on Gorham street between the Post Office and Charles street; there has been but one change in the tenements in the four years last past; with this single exception, the tenements have had the same occupants from eight to seventeen years.

Lot Two comprises the very substantial and solid three-story nine-tenement block directly in the rear of and adjoining Lot One—but separated therefrom by about 9 ft. of open space; it faces Bent's Court, it is numbered 9-15. it is a rare experience to have a vacant tenement in this block, there has not been the loss of a penny in rental in the last fifteen months, this means up to the full capacity of its renting possibilities of $69.08 per month or $829.80 per year; each tenement has four rooms opening into an inside hallway and a good cellar; the land has a total area of 5007 sq. ft., a frontage on Bent's Court before the block of 77 ft. and across the end of the block of 62 ft., a depth of 50 ft., there is a considerable open area not only between the eastern end of the block and Bent's Court but for the entire length of the block on the southerly side.

Lot Three is the good and roomy three-story twelve-tenement block numbered 12-16 Bent's Court, extends across the extreme easterly end of the property—almost at right angles with the other lots, with the exception of a single tenement for a short time this block has not had an idle tenement in the last fifteen months, in other words it has rented up to its full renting capacity of $91.85 per month or $1142.40 per year; each tenement has four rooms opening into an inside hallway and a good cellar; the land has a total area of 6605 sq. ft., a frontage on Bent's Court towards Charles street of 62 ft. and a frontage on Bent's Court towards Gorham street of 13 ft., a depth of 50 ft., there is a considerable open area on the four sides of the lot—this is particularly true of the south easterly end where the open space is 12x40 ft.

Lot Four is the comparatively new three-story six-tenement brick block numbered 17, 18, 19 and 20 Bent's Court, with the exception of two weeks it has not had a vacant tenement in the last fifteen months, in other words it has practically rented up to its full renting capacity of $51.56 per month or $621.40 per year; each tenement has five rooms opening into an inside hallway and a good cellar; the lower tenements have independent entrances and each two upper tenements have an independent stairway entrance; the land has a total area of 4469 sq. ft., a frontage on Bent's Court of 58 ft., a depth of 63 ft., a considerable oper area all around it—and this is particularly true of the open area in front of it which is quite 15 ft. wide.

BENT'S COURT

The open way extending through the property and known as Bent's Court is to remain as an open passageway—10 ft. wide—for the benefit only of the abutting properties offered in this sale. In other words each lot in this sale will be deeded to the centre of the said 10 ft. open passageway (Bent's Court) extending from Gorham street to Charles street—with the reservation that said 10 ft. passageway is to be kept open, as shown on the sale plan, for the use of the owners of the properties in this sale abutting thereon.

IMPORTANT

There is no more important property from the standpoint of location or from the standpoint of income in this most valuable Gorham street section; it is well to bear in mind that this section of Gorham street has smooth paving, trunk line trolley cars, "White Way" lights, and every other modern municipal advantage and convenience; again there is no downtown section in Lowell that has shown a more radical improvement within the last decade than has the very section herewith described.

NOTA BENE

All the properties will be open for examination and inspection after ten o'clock a. m. the day of sale. The residence can be examined any afternoon between two and five o'clock upon application at the door. The purchaser of the residence estate must deposit with or satisfactorily secure to the auctioneers $750 just as soon as the property is struck off; the purchaser of Lot 1, Lot 2 and 3 Lot must each do the same with $1000 just as soon as each lot is struck off; the purchaser of Lot 4 must do the same with $750 just as soon as the lot is struck off. Sixty per cent. of the purchase money for each lot may remain upon mortgage at five per cent. interest if the purchasers so desire.

FRANCO-AMERICAN CLUB

The outing committee of the Franco-American Republican club of Massachusetts for the northern part of the state, held a meeting in Lawrence with President Joseph Monette of Lawrence in the chair. Secretary Arthur L. Eno, Esq., of this city, read the minutes of the last meeting and considerable business was transacted.

It was voted to hold the outing on Labor day at Canobie Lake park and the affair will be in the form of a monster barbecue. Invitations have been sent to notable speakers, among whom are ex-Gov. Aram J. Pothier of Rhode Island, Congressman Rogers and others, but as yet no definite replies have been received. It is expected the affair will be a great success. Present at the meeting from this city were A. L. Eno, Esq., Joseph Payette, Xavier Delisle, Maxime Lepine, Wilfrid Achin and others.

DRACUT TAX RATE

The assessors of the town of Dracut are very busy compiling figures in order to fix the tax rate for the year 1915, and it was stated this afternoon their work may be completed by the middle of next week. It is being predicted that there will be a slight drop in the rate, but many believe the drop will not be large enough to make a great difference.

PAY FOR DETAINED CARGOES

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The British embassy yesterday began the practice of making payments in Washington for detained American cotton cargoes, the identity of ownership of which has been satisfactorily established. The first payment, a partial one for a cargo at the rate of 10 cents a pound, was about $250,000.

TEN CARS DERAILED

TRAFFIC BLOCKED ON B. & M. ROAD, NORTH OF WHITE RIVER JUNCTION

HANOVER, N. H., July 17.—The derailment of ten freight cars laden with granite blocked the Connecticut and Passumsic division of the Boston & Maine railroad north of White River Junction, Vt., for several hours today. The wreck took place early in the day and after the night express passenger trains had gone through. Railroad officials hoped to clear the tracks before afternoon.

SUFFRAGE MEETING TOMORROW

The speaker at the street meeting for suffrage, tonight, will be Mrs. Marion Booth Kelley, state lecturer for the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage association, said to be one of the best speakers for suffrage in the country. Mrs. Kelley, who is well known as a lecturer on civics, is a descendant of Dr. Abraham Pierson, the first president of Yale, and of Dr. Samuel Finley, one of the Colonial presidents of Princeton. She is the wife of Joseph Foster Kelley of Boston, and she has one son, now a student at Phillips-Exeter Academy.
